The oldest child is six years old and the youngest four mouths. They start ed in Jauuary and reached here Wednesday. Through the harsh, wintry weather, over the cold, bleak roads they traveled half starved and never knowing where they were going to lay their heads at night, ret, although the hushand and wife look pinched and weary, the children are well.

Booth tells a story of great misery uddred in the coal mines in Payette City. He went there last May in answer to an advertisement of the Pittsburg Coal Company, Superintendent Meara of the Immigration Employ ment Bureau, who did not know what sort of a place he was sending the man ring the job for him. He was to gef $1.75 a day. Booth says be found the sum the company charged for food which he had to buy of the company's stores, the rent and sundry expenses 'amounted week after week, to more than his wages. ANNEXING CANADA.

The industrial kings of America the small capitalists of the Dominion are alarmed of the way things are de-veloping along that line. The latest evidence of ameration comes in the shape of an application for incorpora-tion to the Caundhan Parliament from a concern which asks for most extraordinary powers, perhaps greater than has ever before been requested from the Parliement.

The remarkable powers asked by the new company from the Canadian gov-ernment would comble it to carry on an enormous lusiness, of which the supplying of light and power to a city lik Mostreel would form a very small part. It asks for the right to manu-facture, use, supply, and dispose of electricity, water, gas, and hydraulic and other power; to maintain works for the production, sale, and distribu-tion thereof, and for these suspasses water courses, raceways, and water powers in or adjacent in the St. Law-rence River at any points convered from Dickenson's Landing, and con-struct dams, sluices, conduits may construct and operate water courses, fareways, and rights, manufacture and dispose of pulp wood, calcium carbide, acetylene gas, and other carbide products, mine minerals, construct furnaces, ovens, niherals, construct turnaces, even, etc.; construct trainways, wharves, own resnels, conduct a towing bustness on the St. Lawrence and adjacent waterways, and other things.

Who the capitalites are behind this scheme is not definitely known, but no doubt our industriess Morgan and Scotteribles are the introduct. They Rockefeller are the invaders. They have to perced out or bust, and explo-tation can be conducted as well under the laws of Canada as in the United States. The form of government makes no difference, for the empiralist system is everywhere the same, specating in the same manner, bringing the same dire results to the working class and to the middle man. Protests from the small capitalist against the production of American competitors will be fruitiess against the power and aggressiveness of consolidated capital. And Socialism is coming.

Capital is a collective product, and only by the united action of many members, may, in the last resert, only by the united action of all the mex-laws of society, can it be set in motion. ('upital is therefore not a personal, it is a social power. When, therefore, capital is converted into cutamon propcty, into the property of all the mea torn of overley, personal property is not thereby transformed into social property. It is only the social char-

MAY DAY---ITS PAST AND PRESENT SIGNIFICANCE.

Of Old, a Day of Simple Rejoicing-To-Day, an Occasion of Protest and Demand.

BY G. B. BENHAM.

In the history of the progress of ankind, May Day is destined to have a bright and lasting page. It has a significance beyond the ordinary later days of modern times. The celebra-tion of the First of May as Labor's day is not simply an evidence of the class-consciousness of the workers. It is also a living testimony to the evolution of human society. To-day's ob-nervance in an indication of the world's progress from slavish supersti-tion to high ideals of political and economic freedom.

Rome—superstitions and pagan Rome—celebrated the First of May, and laid its tribute at the feet of mythical doities. The arms of the Casars carried the May Day observances to the European people. It found a prominent place among the feetival lays and in time became a Christian oliday. In England May Day was long celebrated as the welcoming of spring. With the sesistance of the priest, the gally decorated Maypole was raised; the younger scople plaited the gar-lands of the Mayflower; and it was a day of festal decolution, of daucing, and of innocent mirth. Feats of strength and skill occupied the attenon of those ambitious for athletic onors. The Queen of May was selectod from among the fairest of the malds, and received her crown of May nowers amidst the acclamation of the joyous throng.

The shifting methods of industry changed, the aspect of May Day. It came to be a day best known for its wholestion by the chimney sweeps of the European cities. It lost its hitherto namistakable rustic charac-ter. It fost both its Pagan mid its tion, a broader and a grander meaning.

May First was selected first in the United States as a day to be remem-bered by the tellers. The American Federation of Labor in 1883 decided Pederation of Labor in 1885 decided its attempt to gain for the workers the eight-hour work day. May J. 1884, but a nelected as the date upon which the eight-wer day should be inaugurated. It was no endeavier to have the inht-hour laws of this country made operative. This attempt is support the legal rights of the workers resulted in sections disorders throughout the country. These culminated in the Haymay-ket bomb throwing and the haighing of Spies and his associated in November. Spies and his associated in November.

The Paris Socialist Congress of 1880 pecommended that May Day be cele-brated throughout the civilized world by Socialist and workingmen's demonby Socialist and workingmen's demonstrations in protest against the iniquities of capitalism. At this time the specific demands for economic justice were first vigorously politically advocated on American soil. Since that time celebrations of May Day have become part of the effort for the betterment of conditions and the final samelphiton of the working class throughout the world.

In the streets of the European cities the May Day demonstration takes place every year, regardless of the evi-dences of displeasure shows by the capitalist class and the oft repeated interference by capitalist government, at agents. The workers of the Old World are with those of America in the May Day celebrations. They are with us to sentiment and in action. aney are with us in demands and in organized effort for ecunomic emapoination. The workers' interests know on national bounds. The intelligent workers of the world to-day demand the full product of their toll.

Our May Don.

May Day has come to and myths. May Day has come a mean semething more than the strew ing of flowers on the altar of a heath; en goddess. It means something more than the weaving of garlands or applying exhibitions of rustic chivalty. The seasons of the year algulfy but little to the wage worker of to-day. What difference spring or win-ter-to the toller condemned to the loom; or the slave chained by necessity In the mile? Our exhibitions of strength shall not now be idly made in contest with each other, but every effort directed against the capi class against those who are short the gates of opportunity.

We see these uses who our ns, searching with belescopic eye to find new useum for exploitation and oppression in this land. Not content with robbery and murder in mine and factory and sweatshop, our me with bloody lands now becken young men to seek and to till mon and momen in far away countries, These capitalisis seent wage stayes in other lands to compete against these of this country. Our masters command silence of the workers. They desire to deal with the workers as individually. They desire the interests of capital to be above the interests of men in the halls of legislation, and their wish to monkied into law.

The significance of this day and of passing events awaken us. When our masters ask as if we will be still, we us to send their representatives to make have for us, we will answer them NO. When they ask us to conquer new fields for economic robbers and industrial marder, we will and industrial murder, we will avery, swer them NO! If they ask us it are afraid to fight, we will answer 81, them NO: but that our getting well as our voting will hereafter how there is no our own interests, and no longer to support our unsters. The enemies of So-cialism tell us that every ill would overtake society without the private capitalist. His there might be, but they would then rest apon the broad shoulders of a real and militant democracy. When economic fustice romes, the enlargement of humanity will rear a social structure tall and grand. That its proportions may not e circumscribed, we demand as its foundation a base as broad as the will of the people freely expressed, unre-stricted by color, by location, by sex, or by property. When a real deme racy is the basis of society, opportunity will display the allurements of free-dom, and every industry will move more rapidly toward perfection, every actence will have a more complete demonstration. Art will then be sought for the sake of its own development, no longer guided by the profits of the picture dealer or the whius of the rich. The true greatness of cuterprise, the advance of science, the grandeur of arf, the perfection of lit-erature will all be possible. The conerature will all be possible. can hardly be believed that the Chi ago lady's proposition forms a key to the rolliem of the age...

'The "World" does not name the "pro-

But the method by which the World" editor seeks to discredt them is more ridiculous than any possible exaggeration of figures could be. His economic ignorance puts Mr. Bryan quite out of sight.

It would be impossible that all th workers should be paid $30 a day be cause, forsooth, there is not enough noney to pay such wages for days! Does the "World" man really think that he has touched the question? Probably so. This is not the first evidence that paper has en that its editors are strictly for

The amount of money has of con nothing-or next to nothing-to do with the payment of wages or with the proinction of wealth. A large part of Hi payments for wages and for other purposes are not made in money at all. Mr. Schwab, for instance, will not put $19.231 silver cartwheels down in his jeans every Saturday night. He will get his salary in checks and will make his own payments in checks; and n of those checks will never be actually numerable other payments workers of the United States produced an average of $65 worth of goods every day they would get about $30 a day in wegen according to the riesess rate of division. And er matter how much or how little money there was, the payments would

The trouble with the "Worth" man is that he thinks that the capitalists real-ly pay the wages out of their own pockets, whereas, in fact, they merely re-turn to the workers at the end of the week a part of the value that the workra have created during the week.

As to the $30 a day proposition, the uestion is, not whether there is money nough to pay such wages for three days or for one day, but whether the workers produce that much value. The agures are probably too high. The attninable statistics do not indicate the the present average product is more than six or seven dollars per day. If the workers, who create that, got the whole of it-nnd that is what Socialists ant-it would be a gain worth fight that's large part of the workers are employed at wholly or partly unpro-ductive labor-unproductive in the sense that, while now unproidable, 40 would be superfinens in a just society. For instance, we could dispense with most of the lawyers, hotaries, judges, officials of various sorts, and police men and soldlers, if it were not necessary to protect americal private projecty and settle disputes about it. On ganization of industry would dispense with the labors of more than half of the clerks and bookkeepers, most of the bankers and brokers, a large part of vriad forms. A third entegory of so cially unproductive labor is that of the personal servants of various sorts, the larger part of whom are merely employed for estentation; their safficies would not be needed in a society where all received the product of their and no parasitism was allowed.

If the legions of men and women nor nebuled in the "working population in the forms of socially useless labor here enumerated were to be put at pro-ductive labor, it is possible that he Chicago woman's statement would be tostilled and that the awrage modution would reach an amount represented by the agure of $30 a day-and that without counting upon the future imprevenent of machinery.

It is wise, however, to keep well with the bounds and to avoid any appearance of exaggeration in these matters. It is bad enough that the workers got only is per cent, of their product in wages and then pay a half of that in out and in profits on the chique they buy. These figures are easily denom-strable; and while below rather than above the truth, they are strong enough for our purposes.

But that the editor of the "World" could find no better criticism to make than that quoted at the beginning of this article is one of the best pieces of evidence yet brought forward of the intellectual bankruptey of the defend-ers of capitalism. Even if they navi-ers on the defend it. A. IL.

TOLSTOY'S ATTACK UPON SO

BY LEGMAND D. ABBOTT.

No man has loomed bigger before the | crude and fuelish. It is the public eye during recent months than Count Leo Tolstoy. He is the one perality in latter-day Russia that really commands our admiration, and we turn, with a sense of deepest relief n the corrupt bureaucracy, the brutal despotents, the crushing oppression, of Russian government, to this wholeare and munly revolutionist, who has cast behind him the riches of the world and thrown himself heart and soul into the cause of the world's disinherind. The socialistic road is the d and if we have anything to say to the to go along and stay with the people to the sud of the journey. If it is a free land we are after, on a free relig ion, or a free family, or a wholly free socie..., we shall only find it at the other side of Socialism, or along the socialistic way. Wintever our ideals or plans for the hungan future we shall have to fall to with the proletaire and build the Socialist road before we can get or deserve a hearing. We may have; but the nature of things leaves us no way of choosing whether or not we shall have Socialism. We are be-ing driven to it by evolutionary forces It in. We may work with these forces and processes; we may mark out the channels through which they shall ese: but we cannot necessite then the red garments of international trag-edy, or come clothed in the white gar-ments of peace and hearing the sym-

THE NEW FAITH.

No one can give a definition of So-cialism that will be conclusive. The socialistic idea comprehends more than any definition of 4t; more that any man's social philosophy or nomic theory; more than is repres ed by any creed or sect; more than intended by any party or propagatela. There are many different foreth nights, said there will be many different afterthoughts about the lames to take rethe socialistic soil, and about the Among equally thoughtful and faith ful Socialists, there are divers widely spart opinious as to the nethods of reaching essentially the ditag end Still from whatever ter the Socialist idea comes, if alway looks for the Co-operative Commo wealth and the Free fullyidual,

Nothing is aligher or more worth while than being truth needs a co-operative mode of spiritual growth and inquiry quite as urgently as society needs democracy in production and distribution.

For instance, consider the curse of results of the life, nothing will be done for a value outside of standing true; the reward of standing for one's freedom at great cost is the sweetness and power of being free. was stolen from its yeoman owners, or were also robbed of the fruits of cen-turies of free co-operative labor. In this way, have the great democratic movements of the last two centuries been made to prove so disappointing. Upon every high tide of democracy the institutions of expitalistic despotism came into renewed power, floating catch-words of the self-governing ide on their ensigns. The American con stitution, the mangled and enob-led thing which England calls democracy the gritosque French Republic, the the Prussianized German Empire ar alike conscious and deliberate property ness of the self-governing idea. THE WAY TO VICTORY. What is to save Socialism from a Uk pitalistic fate? Nothing less than the profound spiritualization of its alization in perfect consonance with its pre-Marxian sources. A mere eco-nomic propaganda will never carry the Socialist forces to the Co-operative Commonwealth, Socialism must be come a religion, a spiritual as well as an economic ideal, a great and unifg-ing faith, a true and omnipotent reviv; al of the human soul. Not a letter of the economic philosophy or historic in-terpretation need be sacrificed in or-der for Socialism to avow itself he dohistoric approach to an ideal reaching away beyond itself. Nothing but a faith that will awake the idealistic fustinct in the average man, and attach to itself. the glad and immense respon of his whole being, will safeguard the movement for comonic freedom from passing under some new yoke fashioned for it by the alert capitalistic spirit If Socialism would break forever the spirit that binks and uses labor for capitalistic gain, and feed the human spirit that has started until the ca pacity for spiritual desire in almos answer of yen to the question which our divinced brother went to the cross to ask—the question whether human life is able to accept the leadership of the will to love, which alone maketh Tree. And now is the psychological noment to speak this yea, and speak t as a word of world-making faith.

Airendy have Hocialists wrought bet ter than they knew; they have uncov-ered spiritual resources long hid by the church; they have made possible a working, economic of the kind of life which Jesus defined as the kingdom of which Jesus defined as the kingdom of beaven; they have laid foundations for their quality of public order which the apostis called the hely city, coming down out of heaven from God. The workingmen are to so they were probably in condition to listen fo good advice from a well-dresstil superjor. This the general dis-pensed to them in good mensure, for advice of the kind is cheap and a lot can be given away without causis hardship on the part of the givers.

Summed up: the men were advised not to drink or smoke or go to the theater or do anything else, but work, "Work," said the general, "is the most harmless kind of dissipation." If that is the case. Again, his listeners must have been delighted to fearn from their advisor that the Philippines afforded rich op-portinities for the young man wis-went there without-capital. Just why young men should go to the Philip-pines for opportunities, while all that is herded for success at home is abstinence from drinking, smoking, and theater going, was a point Wheeler neglected to make clear. Fortunately, such stuff as was dispensed by him on this occasion has long ago become shop-worn, and has little effect upon workingmen whose experiences deny every assertion of their advisers,

May Day is the workers' holiday. and like the capitalist system against which the workers protest, its celebra tion is world wide. Even as the ions of spring herald the approach of mmer, so do the universal manifes tarrous of Labour a server secreta the appronch of Socialism, the summer of La boy's emancipation, which will know no ading in dreary autumn or chilly winter. On International Labor Day let every class conscious worker renew his your to the cause of Labor, and resolve o work with renewed scal to have that vow reach speedy fulfilment in the Cooperative Commonwealth!

The "Journal" says that a strike of e employees of the Steel Trust would be more than a labor dispute it would be a civil war." Quite tru But how would the "Journal" avoid such civil war? By asking the Steel Trust to "recognize" the union and "make an arrangement fair on both sides." That is the way some well meaning but cather short-sighted people tried to avoid a civil war in 1860. They fatied. Neward saw more clearly. He hald there was "an irrepressible conflict." You cannot reconcile antagonistic interests And you cannot make a permanent nise between them. Sooner or later the conflict must be fought out. The sooner the better, say we, in order that we may establish real peace in the place of armed truce. We are on the side of the men. On which side does the "Journal" stand?

"The Leadet." a trade union monthly published at Medford, Mass., complaths about the defeat of labor meaures in the Massachusetts legislature and sare: "The fate of all these labor measures warns unionists to put more vigor into the demand for a means to appeal to the people," More votes backing up the unionists demands would have belter effect. There is vigor enough put forward new if it were directed into the right channels. When the people are educated up to the right principles it will be easy to ecure the means to appeal to them The referendum will come when the working neonie know their rights and vote for them through a workingman's party. That would be a guarantee also that the referendum would not be used in the same way that the workers use their franchises now-to perpetuate the rule of their masters. However, "The Leader" knows that the Social Democratic members, Carey and Mac Cartney, were the chief advocates of the referendum in the Massachuse to house. The Social Democratic Party is the only party that really desires freedom of action and expression, po litically and otherwise, for the working class and that is because it is a workng class party. When the trade un ionists put vigor and votes into that party complaints of neglect will comfrom the class who receive all the "Masters of Men" is a serial story unning in the "Saturday Evening Post" of Philadelphia that should be read by everybody who wants to learn how the common scames are treated on board the American merchant marine. The author in Morgan Robert son, who ran-away from home when a boy and served several years before the most sailing the world uver. He therefore knows what he is writing about, and considering what the sea men's unloss have had to say on the matter, we are willing to believe that the conditions depicted by Mr. Bobertson are not exaggerated. The author suffered himself from the brutality practised upon sailors by the officers aboardship and it is related of him that he resolved to expose the abooking conditions imposed upon the sea this purpose he educated himself, and, although he was well on in life before he started to write, yet he is performing his self-appointed mission in manner creditable to his powers and beneficial to the seafaring class. Forcible, vivid, and sympathetic, he writes in a way that stire the blood even while the noul is shocked at the story he tells. Mr. Robertson han selected the best medium by which he can reach the public and help the sations. Later on we have to review the story in these columns when it is lossed in

Fit followers are they of a ce tain carpenter who is credibly reported to have been denounced for consorting with "publicans and sinners," rather than with Pharisces! .

They know the "Journal" and the other papers which have made the at tack on Comrade Herron, as imscrupt lous slanderers and inventors of "sen entions." Again and again they have protested against the salacious lies of the "yellow press"-when those lies were not directed against the enemies of copital. But now it is different. This man Herron is dangerous to the interests of a class that is liberal, in endow ing the church. Therefore they hasten on the word of a harlot, to cost stone at a man who dares speak unwelcome truth.

This is not new. In the forties every ulpit but one in cultured Boston, was closed to Theodore Parker. Why? Be cause Parker was a heretic? No; but because he was an Abelitionist and the vealthy merchants of Boston profited by slavery. Nor d'd it stop at that Whittier, Garrison, Gerritt Smith, Lovejoy, and other Abolitionists men of the purest life-were denounced by press and by pulpit as men of immoral character.

That is ancient history now, But Hurst, Hillis & Co. see playing the part

He would not thank us for the defense, He knows exactly the worth of the "public ordaion" nianufactured to order by, such men as Henrat, Dana, and Hillis, and he wil ask of them neither the favors hey would gladly give to a suppliant nor the instice which they deny to honest men.

THE BRAL SECRET OF "PROFIT-SHARING."

The profit sharing movement grown space. The latest convert to the cause s the National Biscuit Company which announces a scheme by which employees will be permitted to buy shares of stock for cash or by installnent. The object of this offer is rerealed, namely, in the statement that "it'is not to be doubted that the de parture will be of mutual benefit, for the graciousness of the offer must stimulate a more lively interest on the part of the employees in the affairs of the concern." We are also told that the scheme is "genuine co-operation and a decided advance in the right di rection." As the only direction recog nized by the capitalists as right is ou that leads to more profits, the reason for the growing popularity of profit sharing among them is probably as

The profit-sharing plan, whatevel else its advocates may say, is one that appeals to the thrifty expitalist for several reasons. First, it stimulates the workers to work still harder. The facter they work in a given time the more wealth they produce, comly they get more wages. But at the same time the capitalist share increases and without extra labor on their part. While the capitalist performs no more labor than now-which is slight if any at all-while his capital invested does not increase, yet the div idends increase as the labor of his om ployees increases. So that any increase of wages comes to the worker at an increased expenditure of labor, while the capitalist's share increases with a more worry, labor or rick than before,

Second, where shares of stock are sold the corporation has the use of the savings of the workers with which improvements can be made, and fresh ans of exploitation supplied. The workers actually give back part of the wages received from the capitalist, or that the latter can make use of it to will further increase profits and keep the worker simply a wage-carner for all time. For be it remembered that the number of shares of stock sold to employees is always limited, so that the swaership and control of the conhands. The wage-earners are no less wage-enracy. They only pussess an ing power is voluntarily increased, and necond, because the surplus of wages at the disposal of the larger sharehold ers for any purpose that will hirgen dividends in view.

Third, the awnership of stock by en ployees is a cheap way to guarantee the capitalist proprietor against hisub dination or strikes on the part of his workmen. The fear of losing what illtle money they may have invested coupled with the dejusive belief that they are "partners" in the concern and that the interests of the capitalist shareholders are also theirs, supply sufficient inducement to keep the protetarian shareholder from making disturbance when ever the condition of the firm requires lower wages, higher fines or longer hours. They will be reninded that their investments will b injured, while the capitalist, with in terest and dividend assured, has nothing to lose. There are always plenty of idle laborers to fill any demand orusioned by rebellious employees, In the case of the National Biscuit Company a guarantee against agitatle and strikes counts for something, for it has several thousand workmen in its employ.

Again, it must be remembered that in the ordinary profit-sharing schemes the companies do the dividing, they dictate the size of the share allotted the employees and they get the first "divvy." Only after all other claims, such as rent, interest, sinking 'fund, officers' salaries, etc., are settled are profits considered and then the work ers' share of these are decided by the perporations. Add also to this, the free advertising each company that suddenly becomes "philanthropic" receives, and the advantages accening therefrom, and it will be seen that the profit-sharing plan is far from narofitable for its promoters, or highly beneficial to the workers.

And neither the bisenit company's, or any other profit-sharing blan, is "genuine co-operation," . As well may that for a large boy to eat an apple and give the small boy the core after the latter had supplied the apple, is genuine co-operation." Only when all the people own the tools of production, and all share in the production of wealth, and all enjoy the pleasures of wealth, can there be genuine co-operation. Then there will be no such thing ese profits," for that term arises only from the fact that those who produce the wealth of the world do not receive the full value of that wealth. Profits are the privilege of the class who perform no labor and yet are able to live and flourish withal,

In conclusion, there are two qu tions that Socialists can well ask the advocates of "profit-sharing," which, by the way, has been not forward as an "autidote to Socialism." As profits are the result of the labor of the working class, why should they he asked to accept only a share and be content therewith? And if "profit-sharing" la icknowledged to be an incentive to ward making the workers lar and industrious, what becomes of the charge that Socialism-which propower that the workers shall get the full product of their labor-would destroy the incentive to labor and thus retard progress and produce universa stagnation?

Two weeks ago we asked the Rev W. D. P. Bliss what he meant by talk ing about "Nocialists, who believe in injuring the condition of workmen in order the more quickly to change the rstem." Inasmuchas Socialists be lieve in nothing of the sort, but preach and practice the exact opposite, we called on Mr. Bliss to retract or explain, "An honest man," we faid, "can-

We have received no answer to that age. Perhaps the ger been too busy getting up petitions for three-cent carfare and other equally "practical" plans for getting valuable "Improvements" in the condition of the workmen, to attend to so little a thing as retracting an outrageous and un qualified falsebook. We therefore again call his attention to the matter. You are in politics, Mr. Bliss. In polities it is necessary either to have a "barriel" or to tell the truth." The notitician who has neither boodle nor honor is doomed to failure. The Social Democratic Party is in the babit of telling the truth. Platt and Croker have the other qualification. Have you a "burryl" back of you? If not, why not tell the truth? It would be the wheat course. -

The capitalists are phunny phellows In Cleveland they are protesting against the autional bendquarters of the International Association of Machinists being moved there because th. city already has a "had name for how! ing Socialists and agitators," and "capital" will not invest there as a cop espende. and sheek analogists of capitalism, the and sleek apologists of capitalism, the accusation sounds like the cry of "Stop thief", which the real thief raises for the purpose of fixing suspicion on an innocent person, while he safely makes his escape. For if the home, the family, and the position of ronian are to day in danger and we selieve they are it is through the workings of the capitalist system itself. Capitalism is destroying the home: it is breaking up the family: it is depriving woman of her rightful place in society; and, as if to conceal its own guilt, it raises a bue and cry against Socialists, thurging them with conspiring to do the very things that it is doing for the sake of profits.

Under our present system, the bo and family can really exist only wher the husband and father is assured of being able to perform his duty as bread-winner, when he is assured the portunity to provide by his inbor at ast a comfortable living for his wife and children. The men who so bes senly accuse Socialists of evil designs upon the home calmly assume that such is the actual condition with the nass of the people at the present time it is not necessary to cite detailed facts and statistics to prove that this assumption is false. We have only to ppeal to what every workingman may observe for himself.

The use of improved machinery theid as private property for profits; and the organization of industry into combines and trusts and constantly making em ent more and more uncertain. Twelve years ago it was stated, by so good an authority as Carroll D Wright, that we had in this country an "army of the duemplayed" of about one million men. At no time since then, certainly, has it fallen below that At times it must have rises

o two million. Hardly a week passes but we read of pe new application of inschinery, which a greater or less number of a are to be thrown out of employnent. What becomes of the men dicharged? Some become beggars of thires. But most of them proceed to look for other jobs, to compete, with those who still have employment. Thus the position of every working man becomes insecure, because there is another standing outside, idle and hungry, ready to work for lower Mills and factories are likely to be closed at any time, because they are producing more goods than the people can afford to buy. A shut-down may ean to the workman the loss of th home, eviction, hunger and cold, even starvation. But that counts for nothing. our tanor. Years of "prosperity" alternate with hard fitnes." In hard times we see hundreds of thousands of men, sufferwilling and eager to work to produce tunity. In the ensuing period of pros-perity employment is easier to find, for a time, and wages rise somewhat—but not so much as prices rise. Even in "good times." we read shnost daily of neu who, driven to despair by months of unwilling idleness and undeserved poverty, end in suicide or insanity.

When employment is to be had it is necessary to work fast and furiously, in order to save up something for the "rainy day" that is sure to come. But the wages of the father seldom more than spilice for the actual cost of living. So the mother must earn some-thing, too; she must leave her home uncared for and go into the factory or sew or wash or scrub in-order to eke out the husband's earnings. The chilor from play and sent to wear out their body and usind on the street, so that when "paps loses lits job" the family will not starce.

But too often the case is even worse.

Bat too often the case is even worse. The labor of women is cheaper than that of men; the labor of children is cheaper than that of women. Machinery is improved so that it requires but little strength or skill—only wearisome and unremitting attention. Then the men are not wanted; their wives go jo the factory instead; and even the the factory instead; and even the mothers may be driven out of employment by their own children.

When all are working there can be no home life, for there is none to care for the house and make it homefile. When the man is idle and the woman but half employed and the children are the bread-winners it is condition in citi. the bread-winners, the condition is still worse. To talk of home and family un-der such conditions is to biasphenic against what is most sacred in human life.

Yet think how all this might be done

Imagine public kitchens and bakeries and laundries, not engaged in cut-threat competition and not run for profits, but for the public service. difficulty in removing it. We associate term "absurd" with that which contrary to the known fact, or is conradicted by the experience of every datement as absurd and the person giving it utterance as insane if he were to tell us that roses grow, in granite rocks or that monkeys live on les-bergs. A sense of the ridiculous is im-pressed on us in observing the efforts of the drunken sot who endeavors to becomes positively humorous when he, with the look of a sage, insists that he is sucressful in his design. These things are easily recognized as being absurdities and will readily be classiexist in capitalist society a thousand fold more glaring and distinct than those mentioned above, which when pointed out, receive little recognition at the hands of those who suffer from their existence. So manifest are they that it would seem that all that is necessary to remove them is to pot them out to those who would bene by their removal. Yet experience eaches that the greater the absordity the more intense is its hold on men, and great surprise is manifested in those whose pet dogma or institution is first questioned and shown to be at variance with known-facts by the social iconoclast,

Perhaps the chief absurdity accepted by the working class of to-day that of "overproduction" as a cause of their suffering. The contrast of the two terms, "overproduction" and "suffering," in the same sentence impliis gross an abstirdity as the hun mind can esnecive. The existence of too much of the good things of life promotes suffering and dispair. Plenty begets want. The more of human omforts man produces, the more mi iry it brings. It is as if one should sa id, 80 plus 80 is nothing. This recalls the conditions imposed on primitive man as described by John Stuart Mill: "Nature impales men, breaks them as if on a wheel, them as if to be devoured by fasts, burns them to death, crushes them with stones the the first Chels. tian martyrs, starces them with hun them by the quick or slow ve as the ingenious cruelty of a Nable or ilsregard, both of mercy and of justice emptying her shafts upon the best'an sublest, indifferently with the medice and worst." Amidst these condition prebistoric man turns from the quest of nature to the conquest of his fellows and either kills or is killed, enstaves or in ensiated. In time a few gain the mastery over others and a privileged class lives at the expense of a brutalized and ignorant slave hords. But even here, the slaves, always had a master to employ them, and however unjustly they may have been treated, they were never sharved because they produced too much. If starvation and misery prevailed, it was generally produced by an actual lack of the means to sustain, life, caused by drouth, by flood, or by a pestilence that swept over the hand. No absurdity here. If there is not enotigh food to go around, it is manifest that some must suffer. Yet see a brutalized and ignorant slave bords fest that some must suffer. Yet ac-cording to the modern theory of "over-production." If these primitive men-should suddenly discover a land "flowing with milk and honey." that is, producing more than enough to go around, it would be a calamity to them!

This is the situation: Primitive man endured hardships and nrisery because of lack of power to master the resources of the earth. The twentieth century sees man master of living things and of the material resources of the earth; yet those who by their genius and perseverence have accomplished all this suffer squalor and misery for their reward. These ery for their reward. They the men and wencer of the working class starve while literally deluged with the necessaries of life. Note the period of national crises or panies. There is an overproduction of fools, which accounts for the rest of the alsour-littles. Let the workingman who has never come in contact with the Scialist, movement ask himself this question: Why is it that the increased productivity of my toll must measure the degree of my want for the neces-saries of life? The answer's that we produce for another class more than they can sell and more than we can buy. Our purchasing power is, lead than our productive power. The mi chinery we handle and the producti we produce belong to the "sapitalled class. More inborers" to crowded in the labor market than the capitalled class can use, and this class can piet those "hands" that offer themselves at the lowest price. THE REAL QUESTION.

To begin with, a certain amount o goods must be produced to support the nution. Either the various industries supplying these commodities are or ed or they are disorganised. If disorganized, the industry is in the hands of numerous petty, competing, igreisponelide ladividuals, who, forced by the struggle for extrinsic, chest, adulterate and defrand with peacifical imposity. They are petty tyrants over their conductors, and interfered turn industry is organised, and note the increvious rapidity of the movement of consolidation and organization, then it is under the central of a few power ful and irresponsible combinations who are superior to the laws and die tate with assolute authority and de-cision the terms to the public and the employees alike. The problem for us is notre in not whether Socialism in to notro is not whether Socialism is frost than that savage state where each man sits under his own vine and fig tree and is beholden to none for aught that he possesses or needs. Our dilemma is either to choose responsible officials to conduct for the good of all the industries by which we live, or to allow Morgan. Racketellor & Ga to allow Morgan. Racketellor & Ga to run these industries in their own be-half. Whether our vital necessities shall be controlled by most who can discharge any of us at pleasure, as at present, or by toon we have elected for the service to us, and whom we can remove at pleasures. Which aysremove at pleaseure. Which system to you think is the more democratic. The Advance.

GROCERS AND THE TRUST PROBLEM.

It all depends upon the point of view. Our l'enteemed confemporary, the "Storekeeper," is an article mon the "Biorekeeper," is his article upon "Changes in the throcory Trade," be-walls the formation of trusts in many of the products which the retail grocer undles. It says: universally despised and hated total staple have been deteriorated in quality to force them off the market, and yet there is a demand for these brands; so that the retailer must sell a piece of goods that yields him little or no profit and be accused by his customers of cheating them because the tobacco The worst feature of the trust's methods, from the retailer's point of view is the fixing of the selling price and stamping the same upon the pack-age. 'The trust's policy seems to be to cut down the profit of the retailer until he can barely exist, the ultimate object being evidently to handle the goods direct to the consumer without any middleman. Some pieces of to-bacco, for instance, are so marked that the retailer gets about 14 per cent. profit, which is really no profit at all. Many of the National Blacuit Com-pany goods only yield a profit of 17 per rent. This is foo small a profit for The same is true in a worse

The retail grocer of the future will simply be the agent of the trusts. He will handle what they direct him to do, at the price they fix, and will pay for the goods whatever they charge him. There is only one escape from this, and that is by organization, under which the truste may perhaps be compelled to respect the retailer and acknowledge his rights. Yes, the retailer is up against, the trust problem good and hard, and lit the comfort is in sight for him. In a score or more, probable a hundred arti-cles that must be carried in stock, be is already the mere agent of the trusts, with power to buy or sell only by their sufferance. Whenever they think the time propitious, they will probably place the retailers on salary—just com-mon wage workers—that is, those of the number they desire to use, while nainder will be turned adrift to bustle as best they can.

The "Storekseper" urges

tion of retailers as a remedy. When th little ash assemble in schools, it is all the easier for the sharks to get a full meal. Organization can settle the trust question, but only such organiza-tion on working class lines, with the definite object in view of making the trusts the common property of all the people. To this said Socialists are orgauting the workers everywhere for the conquest of the political powers, by which alone, through their agents and legislative tools, the trusts maintain their power to levy tribute upon the

But collective ownership is not th oal to which the gracers look for-ard. Hear the "Storckeeper" again: "It is likely that happy medium will be struck, when the trusts will give the grocers a chance to carn a fair profit on their goods, and thus consimmate the laudable purpose for which they were formed to make goods at a profit and aflow the dealer

Vain hope! The "landable purpose for which they were formed" was to do away with as much labor as possible, and no one better than the trust ates understands that a builti plicity of retallers means a greater di-vision of profits that they desire to keep for themselves.

The vast majority of retailers, more especially in the grocery trade, any workingues who have saved a few sired dollars and embarked in busi ness, thinking thus to escape the drudgery and dependence of the wages system. Few escape drudgery and name dependence upon the favor of the trusts for a continuance of even these, while the hundreds of failures reportad waskly mark the wrecked bones of the shall business man, whose little capital is enguifed in the capacions maw of the trusts. Other venturesome spirits among the workers, with other hard saved earn-ings, take the places of the submerged bely in turn to see their dollars disap pear. And thus the process of centralizing wealth and power goes on, each year adding to the multitude of mis. The new recruits to the from e working cises from commerciation are falling into the ranks of Socialism and if these still in business desire et solution of the trust probles correct solution of the trust precipitathey will cease tooking forward to a time when the trust will 'divry' with them the profits diched from labor; they will join the distalected in the political fight for supremacy and the inauguration of the Co-operative Compawealth, in which will be combined both the right and duty of all to labor for exciptions.—Surprise Exposers will alone survive the many wrecks destined to mark the span between this and the year that shall be written 2000. That Socialism will not brought about by the mere orderly de-solution of capitalism on behalf of an inert mass of proletarians who wait unpassionately for the law of economic recessions, but by a multitude of temporary evolution in their hearts and brains.

I deliberately choose this word "pas sion" as the watchword of the new, more vigorous, devoted, and necessary propaganda of the next ten years, for I am persuaded that upon the men-who live and work for the cause during that time, and upon their intensity in the cause, depends whether Social-ism shall be the triumphant fact of the coming century or only one of the de-parted hopes of the race.

The Socialism that propagates itself | but through this narrow door. To them, one and all, we have up other word but this: "Repent," and to the proletarians, "Resist." Karl Manz was a Socialist because he was so much more than a political economist. It was his social insight, sympathies, and passion that chose for him the path of the economist-philoso-pher of our cause; and lonly wish that those who intellectually accept his analysis had added to their acceptance his passion. It was this his social in-stinct that gave fibre to his finer meatal work in the cause. By a few well established and splendidly expressed generalizations this man of social gen ing saves men of action and coarse to fillerty. That the commerce of ex changing for profifs, can never, how-ever wealthy it may make the opera-tor, make any wealth at all, but that labor alone openies all wealth, is the preliminary propaganda.

So far as the work of excavation is concerned, we need burn no more mid-night oil; we know where to bid-the laborers strike for the foundation lie of espitalism—that profit is wealth. By that other masterly abstraction embedied in the term "labor force and by his pursuit of it to its crystal tred forms of commodities equivalent and the connecting link of gold, itself an equivalent of social labor and the dities reduce themselves as in a com mon denominator into exchangable terms with all other labor equivalents and, added to this, his third great law of social labor- and the Socialist of passion has all the balance he requires for his work. .

In the doctrine of social labor we have the germ of all that is truly revolutionary in Bocialism. Follow it to its legitimate conclusion and seck to for the individualist. There remains no private work, no solitary mechanic no separate achievenient, no single crown. This doctrine should have made the individual millionaire an in possibility, for in blotting out the incividual industrian it dethroned his ex ploiter. It was the keynote of the odern collective life and speint economics. The mind at once recognized that it stands before the century law and the century thought in this term. "nocial labor," and out of it grows all that shall be embodied in that social passion which must prevail in our propaganda. Let us remember what manner of days of Mark. To whom or to what force do the young Russians and Germans, the present day students of the novement owe their benty To the scial passion that was created in hon scrattle men when they saw the mean-ing of wages, when they perceived what it was that was bought and sold in the factories—the life force, all that was left to the new class of the disinherited, the proletariat. When the reelyed that this denuded outcar capitalist found wages, and then out of his own loins supplied competito by whom his share of the produ ould be kept down to the bread-line they drank in that passion of resent ment which opened the lips of Las salle and the brain of Mark and rang from East to West, from Elberia to

COCIALISM AND THE "HAPPY HOME."

To one ignorant of an architect's plan the unsightly excavations for a foun-dation and the building material lying about convey no idea of the finished edifice. But the architect knows what the finished structure will be and the intelligent worker placing stone upostone or sawing, kammering and fit-ting timbers may see with his mind's eye order coming out of the chac about him.

So the Socialist, desiring a better o der of things and realizing that the logic of events must bring that better order about, can see in present events the zapid rising of a structure of the rative Commonwealth. "He who may read" at this time the ing of the great industrial events, bu how infinitely wonderful was the mind which fifty or sixty years ago could figure out as the fathers of Socialism old the order in which events would come! A scientist understanding the laws governing the structure of animal hodies can take a single bone of a prohistoric monster and construct the en-tire skeleton. Wonderful, you say, but it is easy when you know how after ears of patient study. So it is easy development, to build a social system from an event, a tendency, a condition A case somewhat to the point is provided by an article in Monday's."Con rier-lournal." Here are a couple, paragraphs which tell of a sign of the ming of Socialism:

"Probably no city in the country in greater need of flats than Louisville and real estate agents are besiege with applications for them. Flats are becoming more generally used every year, and there are hundreds of fami-lies in Louisville who prefer them to a esidence.

"The numerous conveniences thoroughly modern flat building are in-numerable and do away completely with the cares and worries of housekeeping. Bome data in the larger of ies are not only provided with gas and electric lights, but and cold water, and a heating system, but have a telephon system, a restaurant and a laundry. All these conveniences are included in the monthly rent. In this way one car keep house and yet be relieved of the annoyance of marketing and cooking, and looking after/the payment of coal and was bills, keeping up fires and the hundreds, of other details which fall upon the housekeeper." Every now and then some wild ass are up on his hind legs and brays that

Socialism will break up the home So it will, in a sense, and everybody will be better off. And it will be observed that common sense is every di breaking up more homes. "There is no place like home" the ordinary home and hence the reason "flats are becoming more generally used every year." The lot of the workingman's-wife and even of the middle class home-keeper is, like that of the "Pirate of Pennance" policeman, not a happy one and under a same system of living twenth und be necessary. Housekeepit would not be necessary. House ing is the most odious drudgery and th modern apartment home is popular be cause it does away with this drudgery As if is now, however, only the paratively well to do can enjoy their advantages, but under Socialism all could enjoy the pleasure of an existnee free from hand "washing and brening," cooking on a little stove and the multitude of little, details which make the wives of workingmen old b fore their time, broken in health and spirit by a multitude of petty and un-CORRECT CUTES.

The class of people who can afford a metul of servants to do all the worl may view with dismay the "oblitera-tion of the home," but the individual household nevertheless means useless, dirly work which servants must d and the servants have as much right to live under decent conditions as those for whom they slave.

Breaking up of the home, how does not mean breaking up the family Socialism would improve family rela-tions by eliminating the petty care. which make the average man long "wander from his own fireside." it may represent from time to time.

At this time a discussion of the na-ture and functions of government is as important as it is interesting, as the solution of vital questions depends upon the adaption of one or the other de of the contention and the enforce

Many who see great industrial and social problems confronting the pub-lic realize that these problems cannot be effectively dealt with except by the extension of governmental functions yet they have fears that such a course would react disastronaly by establishing a species of tyranay more unon ducable than the evils that now affici us. The most ardent individualist is beginning to reside that his cherished position is becoming more untounb each day, and the irresistible logic of events is compelling him to relind the traditions of a by-gone period

As long as the discussion of the conflicting theories tof govern was confined to abstract propos it could interest only students and doctrinaries; but now it has been brought into the realm of practical polon the question.

Yet, it is the fact that the most erroneous idea and conceptions, prevail, and upon no other theory can these false notions be explained than that if served the futerests of the dominant class seculor by to propagate these ideas.

If one will carefully apply himself t a sindy of human history, it may read ily be discovered what the true, prin-ciples of government are. It may be in accord with ethical ideals that the just powers of government are acqu ed by consent of the governed; but his-tory gives incontestable evidence that such view has no foundation in fact. such view has so increase, the powers of government are derived from a gov-eraing class which exercises dominion over a subject class, and which uses the instrumentality of government is the instrumentality of government to protect its rights and enforce its private

While a de-ception or an analysis of primitive-government is more or less speculative, we may dinity perceive in the germinal state the prototype of the different forms of government that have succeeded the original one. have succeeded the original one. Whether there ever was a period of human existence without some form of governmental authority is doubtful, conceivable. By its very nature the human species, must pass through a long period of dependence and necessary subordination to those who provide sustenance, and it is rea sonable to suppose that there always have been individuals or classes who eleland governing powers over a From the family anthority to the

The patrian extension of the same principle that operated in the family circle—the pro-cess of aggregation and segregation shereby the father and his sum and the family began anew the work of tribe building. This form was suit-able to these existing industrial and social conditions. With a large area over which to wonder the race sub-sisted on the spontaneous products of nature and upon their flocks and herds. But with the multiplication of the race here arose an inevitable struggle for pererpment had to yield to one adapted to the requirements of society

In the change from the tribal form intent principles then became man Intest principes then because mani-fest. The struggle for subsistence in-fluenced and moulded the form and de-termined the function of government. Government was made a tool or instru-ment to protect the economic privileges of the ruling class. The idea that gov-ernment has ever humaritally severed. the interests of all the members of sothe interests of all the members of ac-ciety is erraneous. It was not even pretended that such was the case, up-to within a century aga. In fact, the lives and interests of the lower wirats of society was not esteemed of suffi-cient consequence to merit the hotice of the governing power, except to compel subsubsion to the dictates of the reting class.

of industrial and social organization this conception of government was well adapted to the needs of the mass ca of the people. The abolition of spe-cial privileges and restraints, together with the almost complete freedom of opportunity, greatly diminished the sphere of governmental operations. Abundance of free land and the cleapness and simplicity of the tools of wealth production needed only the rewealth production needed only the re-moval of governmental restraints to emancipate the race from class tyran-ny. After conturies of spoliation and oppression it would seem that the race had at last emerged from its servitude and attained to a state of liberty, fraternity, and equality.

But when all seemed promising, the ceaseless and remorseless forces of conomic development created a cos

THE FARMERS' DOOM.

Chief Stiltistician Powers of the agri cultural division of the United States Census Bureau, has made public the first figures that are of interest to the er shows, in an article in the Chicago 'Record," that in 1800 there, were k-564.63), farms in this country, and of that number 26.1 per cent, were operared by tenants. In 1900 there were 5,700,000 farms in the United States, of which number 30.4 per cent. were operated by tenants. The increase li farm tenantry, therefore, was 4.3 per cent, during the part decade, against an increase of last 1.6 per cent, in the previous ten years. This condition is iruly alarming, but, of course, Mr. Powers declares that it is an "evidence of prosperity," and so it is for the er paragites. The increase in tenantry was general, and no local causes can explain away the palpable fact that the soll is slipping from beneath the feet of those who till it. Just what derstand. ent of the Socialist movement in this country, perhaps more so than at any, previous period, there are thousands of people who are just awakening to the fact that Socialism is becoming a power in the land. Most of these peo-ple have been brought up under some port or other of sentimental influences and they still continue to think that external divine power, or the superior humaneness of American citizens will suffice to solve all questions of an economic or political character. Hence, on first acquaintance with Socialism these good people hold up their hands in holy berror and exclaim: "It is all restrial, it has no soul, it does not deal with anything higher than the stomach of man, it ignores all feelings of brotherly love and fails to reok with the higher intelligence and with the spiritual qualities of the race. Therefore, it, is sortld, and narrow and can never amount to anything but an irrational ficker amoug the great movements of the world. timental expressions are found in all ranks of life and are usually very anxlous to give dratuitous advice. Here, in Rochester, one learned professor of the Theological Seminary said he had been whiting for over a year for an op-portunity to tell the Socialists their faults in this direction. Then, he went on to mivise them to abhadon their po-litical party, to join with good people of his calibre and demand from the old parties the passage of a graduated inheritance tax law as a first step to Re-cialban. This good gentleman may have been in earliest, but it seems like insuiting his intelligence to suppose that he was. Any man who has the mental power to solve a simultaneous quadratic equation must surely also have the mental capacity to know that taxation of any kind, in any degree, can have no influence in lessening the proportion of surplus value created by inbor, and it is in the direction of the numlete pholition of the taking of suroliss value from laborers that Social into try to keep stepping. Or lie might know that the breaking up of large fortunes by this means could at best which, logically followed up, means going backward towards the days small industries whence we h ome, and the throwing away of what it has taken us years to accomplish. The fact is that all such people are either knavishly dishonest or they are not mentally developed up to the standard of comprehending a subject as a science. Socialism, be-cause it is a science, has no prerogative to concern itself with anything outside of material substances which are ca-pable of being weighed, measured, analyzed and exchanged on an equality of value with other material things. To try is get away from the material things of life is, in itself, an act of igparing the most glorious, beneficial, de lightful and heautiful things that any appercatural creative power could bring into existence. As an illustration of what I mean I may refer to a realty good (I mean honest in his be-liefs) viergyman, with whom I am acqualuted. He preaches that to con-qualited. He preaches lind to con-cern solvesels with material things, in any way, is merely to forget God to serve the devil and to miss all that is-apiritual and worth living for in order-to grab what is, at best, only sensing and perishable. This same good man had one of his parishioners killed by a tudiey car and his relatives got $5,000 dalanges from the company. The smell of that cold, hard material $5,000 attracted the good corgresson around to visit the relatives of the deceased for the first time in his life and he want-ed a since of it for the deat Lord (him-self), and on being refused, he has fall-ed to again visit the same people over

WHY STUDY SOCIALISM?

We perceive that the hour has struck; that the immutable law of pregression inherent in nature and man has pronounced the doom of the exist-ing capitalist and competitive order. and now demands the inauguration of the Socialist order; that it has become imperative that we promptly act in and with nature in the dimination of the one and the upbuilding of the other, to the end that the transition shall be lawful, tranquil, and happy-without harmful friction and shock. For if the people be not alive and obedient to this imminent demand of natural progression; if they continue to permit it through the apathy or ignorance of the many, or the equal ignorance and mis-taken' self-interest of the capitalist class the transition will be both pain. ful and violent, destructive and degrading-for that is nature's penalty! The law of progression cannot be bindered save at our cost.

If a violent disturbance should come have mentioned it and warned against it. It will result because of those who imagine that if you "keep your mouth shut" it will not happen-as if the wheels of progress will stop for them! graded and despotted by their eco-nomi masters. It will be those disin-herited ones, on the one hand, and the "hired men" of the capitalist class on the other, who will create and prolong the disturbance; the one goaded to resist the unbearable oppression, unother er hired to resist the oppressed, noth lacking the intelligent and truthful perception of what oppresses them and what the remedy is Therefore should we study Socialism which is but studying our social duty and dolog it.-Robert Swift.

ARISTOCRATS AND TRAMPS

What is the difference between the aristocratic pauper and the tramp, between the few who are the real para-sites, who have begged the labor prod-ucts and stolen millions, and the min who begs enough to eat? Why are we so anxious to bring the tramp to, jus-tice and leave the other who can count his millions and has produced nothing except misery and poverty in others? Civilization is parasitic. Even our most extolled philanthropists who endow universities, libraries and churchworld, because such endowments are parasitical in their nature.

If we want men free, if we want men self-sustaining, self-respecting, we must have a just civilization. We should have learned that a bad tree causet bear good fruit. If we have a civilization based on equality, fractionally, the territy, liberty, then common life will supply its wants, it will beild its own litraries and museums, it will do away with that moustrous habit of endow-ing institutions with the stoken fruits of a fellow-man's labor,-Goorge Q

The Victory of the Striking Silk Mill Girls.

Their Unfortunate Gendition Much Improved - Splendid Work Done by Mother Jones - Labor Movdelent Senerally Active in Lackswanne Re-

After a strike extending over th mins the 5,000 silk workers of Scran-n have secured a favorable settle-ent of their grievances, winning a complete victory, and returning to work under better conditions than they have ever experienced before. This has come about after a most stubborn

Mother Jones gained the victory.

The strike began on January, 23, when the girls at one of the mills were compelled to strike because of the treatniest received from one of the forewomen. The girls had formed a union the Saturday previous and efforts were being made to disrupt it. The other mills followed the example, and within two weeks all the twelve mills in the

The smaller children led the way, and were the first ones to robel. And they rebelled hone top soon. The writer had the opportually to see some of them during the past week, and he can say truthfully that anything nervofore trothfully that anything here-tofore said about their age or appearance has not been overdrawn. It is a sickening sight to see the pinched coloriess faces of these children. Their Budies are dwarfed and mishapen through the drudgery of the mill and their legsow startlingly frail and thin

Some of the children are very small, so small that one wonders how they an emnage to work at all. MOTHER JONES' WORK.

This victory for the oppressed addition of Scratton is all the more remarkable became they had never been in a civilic before, and they were prac-tically unorganized. TRADE UNION ACTIVITY.

In the short time I spent in Scrantor I learned that the victory won by the miners last fall had resulted in a great revival of unionism throughout the Lackawanna Valley. There is hardly a trade that is not now organized, or if process of organization, and there never was a time when unionism flourshed so strongly as now. The latest requisitions to the unions are the ed last Sunday. They have started out with a grievance and that with our "Socialistic" (and slander friend, the New York "Journal."

The miners' organization is in good condition. On Sunday evening I visited Oliphant, about five miles from Scranton, where the Delaware & Hudson Railroad owns and operates mos and made inputries as to the condition and wages, etc. He talked freely, while he showed me around. The men, he said, were satisfied with the way things were going in the unions, and they were glad the organization was in less grievances and more liberty. The breaker buys were benefited greatly, and the tendency of the union was to have men employed and raise the age limit, so that the boys could go to seffool instead of working in the breakers. SPIES EXPOSED.

An Elaborate Plan for Undermining Labor Organizations.

Gleveland- Citizen " Makes a Remarkable Discovery-Manufacturers Allied to Ruin Unions -Agitators Are Blacklisted

For some time rumors have been rife

about the operation of an organization whose mission constated in furnishing sples to act in the trade unious for the henefit of manufacturers. In some cities spies have already been caught in the unions, but it has remained for the Cleveland "Citizen" completely to expose the organization, as was deno in last week's issue, April 27. The facts will doubtless create a sensation in organized labor circles everywhere The "Citizen" claims to have prooof every statement, and further these proofs were secured in the office of the Manufacturers' Information Bu reau, as the spying organization is call The burens, it seems, was establed by J. K. Turner, who was exposed by 'the "Citizen" in November 1800, for being interested in a so-called etective agency. The bureau had endquarters in Cleveland and a bendquarters in Clevel branch office in Chicago.

"Through the law firm of Smith & Laugin, 703 Cuyahoga building, Cleve land, Turner seduced as many union lets as possible to turn traitor and b tray their fellow workers, organized and morganized, who were struggling for better conditions and against the eneroschments of capitalism, and learn that agintors and advocates of Socialism were especially marked That the expitalistic concerns t ed below paid liberally for the inform ation they received, is proven by the fact that Turner paid his black-heart-al Judases $40, to $81 per month. "The system under which this Manu-factorers' Information Euroau, operates is quite original. A code of initials is used, and the spies are unknown to each other. The employers are group ed under the names of flowers. Thus: Machinists' employers are known as Tuitps, Clover, Lilac, and Magnolia: brass manufacturers, as Daitodil, Tu-lip, and Magnolia, etc., To learn the identity of employers and spies, therere the names, but the key that would jets and the traitors to the working

The "Citizen" has obtained this code with the names and addresses or th firms and their spies, and publishes th me in full. The firms are structly mostly in Cleveland, Dayton, Chicago, and Milwaukee, and the spice are lo-cated also in these cities. We notice og the firms the names of the Na cloud Cash Register Company of Lay-an, which makes so much show of "elevation" its employees.

"Citizen" elbses its exposuwith these convincing words:
"The most prejudiced and stupid will no longer be able to deny the existence of a ches struggle - a struggle in wifely helser is attempting to rise to the full height of economic freedom, a struggle n which capital and its minious would gen labor in slavish ambjection. "This Manufacturers' Information Bureau is a crime against the laman race, and must have been conceived i hed. It is a damable conspiracy to faster freason, to sow the seed of hatch between man and man, to mercilessly apply the knowt of the blacklist, and to read suffering and misery among in-some note of warning before striking down its intended victim, but this satument alliance cowardly strikes in the dark like a mus erous thug.

"Brothers, comrades! Let'the words; dealing with this infamous Manufac turers' Information Bureau, its patrons and its spice. Post the foregoing list in every union room in the country weed out the traitors in the organiza tions, and as far as possible boycott the concerns that are responsible for the say system.

"Further than that, guard your class interests on election day by placing it political control lamor men who stand or enforce laws to stamp out such mo stroom conspiracies as they would crush the head of the poisonous snake."

These private mat-ters would never have been fixed in the public press had not comrade Her-ron been engaged in a crusade which has for its object the overthrow of

This statement is borne out by the conduct of the capitalist, press and of the "Christian" ministers whose sus-tenance is drawn from the coffers of the capitalists. There has not appeared in the New York press a single to telligible report of one of Courade Herron's dectures, from the beginning until now. Every paper has given colomns to his private affairs, to the ac tions of his enemics, but all have care fully avoided publishing a fair ac-count of any of the meetings. Some have ignored the fectures altogether. others have printed partions of them, garded so as cutively to change the meaning of the words.

This has prevented the newspape readers from being able to judge fall what Comrade Herron was lectur ing about. Only those who attend to prectings can form an estimate either of the man or his message. Outside of the Socialists and sympathizers, few are allowed to learn where the meet-ings are held. Comrade Krafft Seizes the Opportunity to Expose the Fállacies of His Jersey Speech

As previously mentioned, the Jersey City "Advertiser and Eagle" devotes a column every week to Socialist news Recently Congressman Sulzer spoke in that city. The following clippi show how the congrades of Jersey City take advantage of the opportunity of fered them for "getting back:"

"As the Republicans go to the grave yard for Grant fiel Lincoln, so the Democrats continually faunt the ghosts of Jefferson and Jackson before our eyes in their spread-eagle orations. Congression Sulser denounced the trusts as the greatest scheme ever devised by the ingentity of man to rob his fellowman." Mr. Sulzer is quite right there. Upon this piece of news our co-workmments as follows:

"The 'Exponent' is at a loss to know from the above, whether the appointment of Mr. Rogers is considered by Battle Creek 'Socialists' as a triumph or degradation of the working class. This much we do know, however; that no class-conscious Socialist would accept an appointive office at the hands of any capitalist political party. nim of the Socialist movement is the conquest of the powers of government by the working class, in order that they may revolutionise the system of industry. Labor has been too long recognized by apittous-cleaning and public beard jobs. It is time that labor recognized fits own power, and this can never be brought about so long as representatives of the working class are content with amountive crumbs. are content with appointive crumb from the capitalist's political table.

"Whosever-accepts office as the gift of a capitalist government is an ally of the capitalist class, and must do the hidding of his masters. It may be that the brand of Socialism that stands Creek, and has no connection with the great proletarian world movement, but we do not believe the comrades bave considered the matter in its true light or Mr. Rogers would not be on the heard of public works or would not be a member of the party organisa-tion."

We agree entirely with the opinion of the "Exponent." A Socialist who accepts an apointment from the capitalist authorities thereby accepts a favor from the opponents of his party and his class, puts himself under obligations to them, and compromises the

We do not wish to make a heaty indement of Mr. Rogers' intention in this action. He may simply have made mistake, through insufficient, knowledge of the movement and its needs. But the party should require his imme diate resignation of the office. It is unfortunate that such a false step should have been made; having been made, it must be corrected at once The party should require Mr. Rogen ediately to resign the office; failing that he should be expelled from the party and his action publicly repudiated. Action on this matter cannot be too prompt and toe firm; while the matter may seem a small one in itself, it involves a very important principle.

At a meeting of the Workingmen's Educational League where Comrade J. Spargo spoke for the S. D. P. the other day, two DeLeonites expressed their fear that he would soon be expelled Only about a month ago one of their friends predicted the same fate for this editor of this paper. Our crotwhile cialists at the head of the party papers and on the lecture platform of the S D. P. Pretty soon they will open their eyes to the fact that the S. D. P. is perfeetly conscious that its speakers and writers are good Socialists and cho them just on that account. The S. D. P. is not in the business of expelling good Socialists.

We have received some slight probut no spatied but week, in our editorial "lage's Lateur Imitatora," anch papers as the New York "Sourral" and "Son" and the Brooklyn "Rack" We simil that the expression is a strong and an unpleasant one. For such conduct we can conceive m fifter term than that of "harlotry." It is the prostitution of a noble and responsible function for base ends. The prosititution of the mind is infinitely more criminal than that of the body. Moreover, the venal journalists have not even the excuse of dire want which the aufortunate women of the sinus can urge in their defense. The editors of the "Journal" and of the other pa pers which, in this affair, followed its dustardly leading are able to live in comfort without resorting to dishonor able means. There is therefore not the shadow of an excuse for their prostitu tion of truth and decency to the intereats of the ruling class.

The word is unpleasant. But it is sometimes necessary to use unpleasant words, because it is sometimes frecessary to speak of things that cannot be otherwise described. We therefore repeat, with a firm conviction that we are justified in so doing, that Hillis, Raymond, Strong, and the other "rev erend" gentlemen, instead of following in the steps of that upright carpenter whom they pretend to serve, have has tened to take the word of a harlot has a pretext for casting stones at a man who had the courage to attack the interests of their patrons.

Af a banquet held in this city last week forty-four members of the executive council of the American Bank ers' Association represented, over $500,000,000. Of course, the burden of the speeches was prosperity and the unpapallelled righness of this country. That was quite proper. No person have more reason to feel gratified at their own-condition than these people. They are prosperous and everything just now is going their way. The punsling part is that the fellows with nothing who will read that story will actually believe they're prosperous, rop, just because the bankers said as There never was a wealthy class so wick as once and that with an little trouble. And there never was a work ing class so "intelligent" and so easily, decrived as the working class of teday. All that is needed is a brass band and the picture of a full dinner pail and they believe they are the only things that ever happened. No wonder this gathering of plutes patted each other on the back and proclaimed that the finances of the world would in future be controlled from New York. The workingmen are to be considered only as necessary machines. produce wealth, because the working men don't consider themselves.

AM UNUSUAL INCIDENT, AND

THE REASON FOR IT. Something like a sensation has been sused in trade union circles in Tennessee by the passage of an act prohibiting the employment of children under the age of fourteen years la mines, workshops and factories. It is so unusual for any legislative body to pass a labor law that the trade union ists act as if the surprise was too great for them to bear rationally. But the passage of the law was quite to be expected. The political conditions are such in Tennessee as to make Demo cratic supremacy a doubtful quantity. The contest between the Republican and Democratic parties for the spoils has been close enough since the way to make the situation uncomfortable for the latter party, so much so that at least once in the history of the state, in 1894, the recount of the vote by the Democratic legislature placed a Democrat in the chair as governor instead

In 1896, the Democratic plurality in succe for president decreased 19.ean below that of 1892, although the total vote increased, and in 1900 the increase in plurality was only 5,008. In 1905 the Democratic plurality for governor dwindled to 6.854, a result which was gained only through the personal city of the Democratic nominee In 1886 the total vote fell off over 180, 666, and the Democratic plurality in creased 27,000. This was due to the institude of the Republicans and Demecrets. Many of the former did no vote because they believed they would be counted out anyway, and a leaser number of the latter stayed at home disgusted with their own party. In 1900 the Democratic plurality dropped ludow that of 1898 nearly 8,000, show ing the unsettled political conditions it

There is nothing more satisfactory to the politician in pursuit of his trade than a suce thing, and this uncertainty lass impired the Democratic leaders of Tennessee with a deep lave for labor, the shrewd politician) the "labor vote. Consequently labor has been tickled ways known to the capitalist politicians everywhere. Sandry individuals of that some personned good night result to lake therefron, yet the condition of labor has apparently not been buttered use whill at particle as a con-

The passage of the child labor law at ance of the policy of "throwing a sprat-to catch a markerel." The law passed may be a cause for rejuicing on guine or the self-seeker, but there is no guarantee that the law will be euforced. Time and experience have proved that capitalist legislators do not enact labor laws for that purpose, On the contrary, the rule has been otherwise 'The report intely issued' from Illinois shows that the same child labor law in that state is ineffective and its provisions violated; and what can be said of Illinois can be said of every other state in the union where such laws exist. Nothing more can be expected while capitalists and the service creatures of capitalism are in control. And the tendency of the courts to declare such laws unconstitutional, on technical or other grounds must not be forgotten. The Tennemee law has yet to run the gauntiet of the gentlemen who have never falled to be the saviers of the capitalist class from the "tyranny of trade union legisla-sake of the children in the mills and factories of Tennessee,, and for the sake of the women who love those children, that this much needed law may be effective, yet the bitter experience of the past teaches us that it is too much to expect that consummation at, this stage in our economic and political affairs. We believe the child labor law was quacted, not through humans motives, but only through those other baser motives that stir the politician to an active interest in labor's affairs. solely to perpetuate the politician and his tribe in public office. And when the test and the time comes, we are sure that the growing demands of the capitalist exploiters in the South for their pound of fiesh will see the law rendered innocuous and uscless, a record upon the statute books of the foolish waste of energy on the part of the working class of Tennessee.

For this reason the trade unionists directly interested can afford to curb their exuberance. It is well to fementber at times the old adage about "not erying balloo until you are out of the

In order to offset the assertions of the peeky labor agitators, several hundred business men and a number of ommittees of the Republican party in Poerio Rico bave drawn up and pre sented to Governor Allen a sweetly worded address, congratulating him on his successful administration, and expressing their desire that he stay with them. They're satisfied, and why shouldn't they be? Business or political committees are not going lusane and committing suicide for lack of food and work. Workingmen are doing that. These admirers represent the "best" citizens to be ound in every community, and they are always the class who live and pros per through the exertions and suffer ings of other men. Governor Allen is me of their kind, and they will sup port him against all the charges the despised agitators may make against aim. Agitators come from the working people who have nothing but votes to give away at election time to sup port Allen and his class.

with the much more important one of, coting the commissary department in disclosures now being made should come so quickly after Funston's capmre of Aguinaldo, as the lustre of that dublous exploit is greatly dimmed accordingly. Even the most virulent tieroes find it difficult to onthuse over an army whose officers are reported to have received bribes in return for favors conferred upon contractors. The stories of bacchanalian revels indulged in by these officers are also rather dampening to the arder of the promoters of medern civilization in the Philippines. But the officers of the army must have their assureneuts. Time hangs heavily on their bands, and it is hard to resist the alurements of the contractors wh cant privileges that will assist in the work of exploiting the natives. Thus it is that parasition, a result of pri the function of perpetuating and exmeding private ownership in order to prolong parinitium.

FROM THE WORKERS.

While sending in a good order for books, Comrade W. T. Beals of Da-bique, it, says: "I consider The Werker one of the best propagands pa-pers published. It always has timely articles which are up-to-date." We'll try and keep it that way. Push it Writing from Hibbing, Minn., Co rade Edward Harris says: "It is with great pleasure I renew my subscription to The Worker, with whose prin ciples I heartily agree, and in a quiet way do all I can to persuade those with whom I can get to talk upon such subjects. This is difficult, as there are so many of different nationalities here that there is little unity or sense of Socialist papers published in other lan guages, Comrade Harris, and that will probably help you in your good work.

Comends Smith of San Bernardine Cal., renewing his subscription. The Worker this tribute: "I like Worker first rate. I am well satisfied with your gentlemanly handling of our miserable family quarrels. 1 feel your policy on these lines will finally have the right effect. I think your artieles on Labor Politics and Socialis Politics very rimely. The working man should wake up some day to at least a glimmer of class-consciousness but he is an awful long time doing it. But be will wake up, Comrade 8 Just keep penging away. The articles mentioned will soon be issued in pamphlet form, and should be placed where they will do the most good.

Comrade H. A. Loring of Hallowell, Me, is another hustler who likes The Worker. He says: "We are trying to get the workers here to do a little for their own class, and as we are receiv ing some bein from the State Commitsend you several names to whom you can send. The Worker, as I believe it will be a good thing to start them on. I think The Worker will make more Socialists than any paper I have ever read, and I have read a few. There was a time when you could do nothing with the former People; it was so abusive, but it has improved greatly. I. know whereof I speak, for I have taken it for a long time." Thanks,

Comrade C. H. Casper of Fort Ed ward, N. Y., sends in a bunch of sub-scriptions and an order for books as an evidence of his feelings toward The Worker. This is a regular thing for Comfade Caspar to do

"I regard. The Worker as the best Socialist paper, and could not be with-out it without feeling I had lost my best companion," is the way Comrade W. J. Jackman of Lynn, Mass., puts it and renews his subscription for a year to back up his convictions. A letter from Comrade John Evans of Massillon, O., along with three yearly subscriptions and an order for our May Day issue, coptains also the following encouraging words: "These were the easiest subscriptions that I have ever obtained, for in each case I merely showed the paper and stated the price and asked if they would like to subscribe. This is all that I said.

and each man just handed me a hilf dollar. I am not going to stop, but will try to keep up the work, as you have shown a willingness to give us the best Socialist paper in the country assue the socialists can only show their appreciation of your efforts by trying to increase its circulation. I congretu-late you on the able manner in which the paper is edited."

Expressions like these are most to spiring, and we will my and make The Worker even better and therefore even more worthy of Comride Evans' and other Socialists support.

Comrade T. F. Keogh, secretary of The important task of civilizing the Lecal Toledo, O., evidently believes in an order for 300 copies of the May Day issue and says: "I think if we looting the commissary department in can get more party papers in the hands Mantis. It is unfortunate that the tof the people it will bring good results. There are but few now in the cities who have not a pretty fair outline of our objects and I believe The Worker is just the thing to follow them up with in Toledo there are many peo-ple who call themselves "non-partizan Socialists." The lecture was able one and presented the question in a clear and forethle manner. He was listened to with evident interest, and was intercupted by applause at various points. The lecture was followed by a debate which was an inter annusing one. The lecturer (not the ecture) was criticized by Meissen, A. L. Vogi, O'Rorke, and a young gentleman who was careful to inform the audi-ence : about, the possession of a "diploma," for what he did not say, though he seemed to be gifted with a superheman gall. The merriless grasp of inexes able, poverty did not loosen upon Fenton in the hour of his grief; on the contrary it crushed him more closely is its folds. Dector and undertaker had to be paid; the family had to be fed; the rent was overdue. The furniture had to go; but how little the deal-r gave for it. More was being offered him than he could buy. The Fair was almost ended, the visitors disappear ing; the heat of exten men that had been employed were taid off; loads of eurplus stock were being offered in the stores at reduced prices; the boom was over, the artificial attinuiation on hausted and stagnation reigned; the masses, rack-rensed for mostle, gerg, reduced to poverty. The wealthy had seen the Fair and grown richer be-sides; the poor had borne its burdens. If did not take long to reduce Fenton's rooms to bareness. "The Adventures of John McCus, Socialist," is a little book written and printed with great care. It starts with a humorous astree on Democracy as we have it, which is no repicte with action, that even the most stubborn non-Bocunlist will be interested and amused in spite of himself and will be led to consider the serious exposition of Bocalism which takes up the latter haif of the book all of which is told in the guise of a story. It is therefore as a means of propaganda almost unique. It must be admitted that Americans do not take their politics seriously and are inclined to ridicule, but in this little work ridicule in disarmed by being formatised. Eight-Hour Law in the State of Washington is Knocked Out by a Court Begislen. .

The eight-hour law passed by the egislature of Washington in 1800 has been infultiated by Judge Ruell, in a lecision handed down on May 1. lecision was remiered in a brought by former city employees against the city of Tacomb for pay

The Appellate Division of the Sureme Court has affirmed a decision in favor of Patrick J. McNuity, who, as assigned of 707 drivers in the street cleaning department of this city, sued the city for avertime wages as ing to $1,330,000. The claims dated from the period extending from January 1, 1802, to April 26, 1804. The complaint set up that eight hours was then a lawful day's work and that by an act of the legislature, passed May 10, 1992, all drivers in the Department of Bireff Cleaning working overtime for each hour of extra work. The Appellate Court sustains the contention of the claimants upon the plendings before it, but gives leave to he city to entry the case to the Court of Appeals.

The Tammany city administration may be willing to claim some credit among workingmen for not pushing, the case properly against the men. But semething cise should be considered will get but fittle benefit from it. They could not one opportely, so they have assigned their claims in a body, and the greater part of the money will go to the assignees and the lawyers.

This is not an exceptional case. It is a very common and a very predicable trick: The capitalist officials allow a large number of small claims to accrue and contest them until the original and senuine claimants get discouraged; a partner then buys the claims cheap and brings suit on all together; finally the case is compromised or is decided in favor of the new claimant- and the

WHAT SOCIALISTS WOULD DO ..

A Social Democratic administration representing the working people and holding itself responsible to them alone, would do things differently. In time so long as there are idle men. If there was more work than the existing force could do in the legal workday, it would hive a larger force.

In the account place, it would not force the men to go to law in order to collect their wantes. It would pay the street cleaners just as promptly as it would pay the mayor and the city attorney

Maybe the street cleaners think Mocinium would be impreciative and tyranuteni. Maybe they prefer to work evertime, have their 'wages held us, and finally have the larger part pocketed by lawyers and analyses. If sa, they should not vote for the Social Democratic Party next fall. The Social Democratic Party is not in for that kind of "economy."

WHAT WOULD THE S. D. P. DO?

The workingmen of Albany, Troy, uted vicinity are learning what the "love for labor" of the Republican and Democratic governments means. When it is a question of labor laws, it means the defeat of bills in the legis lattire or their amendment into laws injupious to labor—as in the case of the employers' liability bill; and it means decisions of courts that any law favorable to labor is unconstitu-tionat or void—as in the case of the prevailing rate of wages law. When it is a question of the inter-vention of city and state governments in labor disputes, it means the issu-ance of injunctions against atribers, the non-enforcement of oglinances for tions have forfeited their charters, and then calling out of police and soldiers, to protect the amployers in their law-less career and to club and shoot the

There is only one aspect of the at fair in which we have much interest It is worth while to note that the losers were not the Morgana, Rockefellers Hills, or other really great capitalists but the small fry in the exploiting class. Many of these, who hoped to reach a position of security, where they and their heirs forever inight live is idle luxury, have been completely stripped of their wealth. We, who stand for the working class and the working class alone, can view with ea tire satisfaction the expropriation of the small canitalists by the big pace The sonner the line is clearly drawn between the trust kings and the ladus trial serfs, the better for the serfs.

But let the producers not imagin that this process is going to work out their emancipation automatically. Capitaliam, by its own development, co rentrating wealth and crushing out the middle class, creates our opportunity It is for us to swine spon that oppotunity by organishig the workers, edu rating them to a knowledge of their rights and of the way of sttaining them, and inspiring them with a fire resolution to emancipate theuse

"Times" represes Mr. Harrims and Mr. Hill for baving demoralized SOME OF OUR, IDEAN AND, the stock market and raised many pillory of public censure," says the "Thous" "Is the just penalty of their abuse of power." Much Harriman, or Hill care for the "pillery of public censure?" Connr is above the law. These men more in a public quite upart Trans ours. The ill opinion of the ordinary public anneys them no more than the busning of a monquits on the other side of the globa.

President Hadley's nalve plan of "social astracism" will not touch them. As well advise the down-tredden milllone of Russia to "cotructee" the Tour The thing to do in Russia is to part, an and to tearism. The thing to do in America and all the world is to put an and to expitalism-not to waste breath in trying to distinguish between good centratists and bad once, to praise the good and "censure" the bad.

It is said that when the Kentucky culousl heard some one speak of had whiskey be exclaimed. "Bir, there is no such thing as bad whistery. Some whiskey is better thun other whiskey." No we say: There is no such thing as a good king or a good expitalist. Some kings and some capitalists are worse than others; but all are bud; all must be shullshed.

President Schunb of the Bleed Trust tells young men that they do not need reliegy education, that means and in dustrial training to enough. This is getting to be a popular opinion among the capitalists as applied to the work ers. They wish to have the mastrained and efficient working machine and nothing more. Recigi Democratic think differently We would have only the legal right, but the practical opportunity for such an integral training physical, manual, scientific and literary—as would develop all his powers of mind and body and enaste him, not only to produce the good things of life, but also to enjoy them to the utmost. And when we my "every man" we include the women this phrase. We will get such really practical universal education only when the Socialist movement brings in a just and fraternal organization of moriety,

THE PERCE OF SUCCESS.

Mr. Charles M. Schwab has been telling the youngsters how to succeed and some day draw a salary of a million dollars a year. Our industrial captains are nothing if not encouraging. They are not foo great to tell the boy how fame and fortune is the reward of application, frugality, industry, and all the rest of it. All this is inuduble indeed, but Mr. Schwab apparently fails to see that he gets the enormon salary he does became there are many other employees of the steel trust who

If all the workers for the trust got what they should then Mr. Schwaii would be receiving much less than he flow does. "It is not clear, there fore, new every boy could succeed in finally being in a position to draw one million dollars a year. A few men receive large incomes because other get only chough to live mon. Success and a million dollars cannot come to every one. In order that Mr. Schwal should receive his present, salary thou sands of workingmen must be robbed of the fruits of their labor. This is barsh, but it is true. Our Schwalls and Carnegies and Morgans are successful because myriads of their fellowmen are failures-and failures not of their owa voltton, but because the indus trial system demands failures so that a few men can be exalted.

The prosperity of trust kings is bull upon the tell and sweet the blood and agony and soul jorture of fellow haman beings. They are fortunate because others are unfortunate. The only excuse for work a condition is that all med are not equal, that some are born to suffer so that others can live oney, care free lives and that the flexires and luxuries of the few men are more precloue that the happiness and freedom of the many. The present condition of society can find no other justification than that, but such a belief belongs to a past age, not to this one.

Socialists believe that all men ar bern equal, and that they are entitled to equality of opportunity in the purunit of life, liberty and happiness. If they are denied equality of opportunity now it is because the means by which men live are in the plenession of a small class that corners opportunity for its own profit. Humanity will be able to live freely and nobly when acdone to the things which make life worth living are free to all whose labor creates them.

The Schwabs and Morgans may be neeful in a way, but the price paid for their usefulness is too high. There he too many tears shed, too much blood abed to pay it and top coully. In the caluing time, when society owns so agers of our industries will ask and expect no more than what their nerv ices and justice demand. They will of their fellows the greatest reward that their work for acciety can bring them. And their lives and the lives of me around them will be the awvete and more useful for it.

There is little or no comment upon whine med by President McKinley and blasparty in their present trip is supplied free to them by the raffrond corporations. The Puli man Company furnishes the cars, while the railroads hauf them and furnis the menia. This amounts to no annal Hem, but the corporations know upon whom they are invising their diffs. They are not in the babit of bestowing favors upon their enemies. The permi far feature about it is that the mass of the people arcept this proceeding as quite the proper thing. Rolady attremps to disguise it may more. Every mady recognizes that the administra tion is our that represents the wealth of the country, and the propie seencontent to be alleved to gaze upon their "mervant" and bowt their lungout at him. "How it Cau Be Done," would be a really valuable 'work. From their earlies days, he urges, all children should b taken in charge by the state, which should educate, feed, and clothe there and, where necessary, home them : well, Under the system which he skeiches, the children would first spend some years in the "first grade schools," which would be, founded upon the most approved kindergarten principles. From this school they would pass into the "second grade chools," in which the cucriculum pro vides for manual instruction in 40 branches of industry upon a productive and profitable scale, and me with matha wheels" and unive diles, in which every student would hours each week to productive en ployment. Their educational course completed, all the students would have to serve four years in the Nation at Workshops as a return to the state for the cost expended upon them. From this stage on is the state organ faction of industry is an easy trans-tion. All this Mr. Richardson believes. s musible even with the present meth is possible even with the present near oth of production, and in a chapter, an "fost," he shows a 'satisfactory' bal-ance in favor of the state. The following address was delivered | or Rev. R. H. Greaves of the Fire Unitarian Society of Trey, M. E. We comment upon it chewhere.

Last Monday Sight at about 9 o'clock was disturbed in my reading by the ter to the streets, I-went out that I might know the came of such a con-course, and found a crowd at least, a hundred strong watching with interest and applause the antics of two tlu; girls from one of Troy's alleyways whe were dancing to the music of a stree organ. It was a real treat, both fo the critical and for the two neglected atomic of building who were perform tug when they ought to have be noleep; but my heart was undersed I looked and then turned slowly wards the room that I had left, for felt most keenly the difference betwee the pleasures of these children of the records and these of many others I has own. It was not their fault that they aers, and being human, it seem If a condemnation and a responsibility were resting on my bend, as a member of society, for the awful disparities that we have forced upon the all bu belpless world. "Why." said a vote as persistent as that of the daemon Sucrates, "why should your father child have pleasures and privilege that are depied to these? Why should the children of one man have all that the world can give to make Me pieus. ant, and the children of another, an perialpo a better, have himost nothing? BO THEY HAVE ABY?

I came across an old man whose b was baid with thinking, and who had shared the bread of poverty for ever settinty, years, and I said to wint "! rant to speak about the pleasures the poor. Zell up; wint are they?"
His eyes opened wide with notonishs ment at sach a foolish question, as he swered dowly and it seemed to an host printally "The pleasures of the e PLRASTREE of the POOR Why, Mr. Greaves, they DON'T HAVE ANY." Then his thoughts wandered arms once twined about his neck, as he added:"Yek," They do have a lift pleasure, metals of them; in their fami-lies. But that is all." And even while he spoke I was thinking of the many into which I had gone ablest poverty made even such pleas ores an inquisibility.

In an article on "The Pleasures presty," recently published in a de ominational paper, the writer any The wife came with cuspty hands buckand who had, no rich gifts to.) stow, but while she is struggling and saving, and he is tolling and denying idmostf, the sometommen of doing for the other's mike confers a lappi went nothing can equal." It sound well; but the only thing that is amin with it is that it positively is not of those who can rightly be called poor and I think that I can speak from a deeper experience than any man who so lightly talks of the bless blues of privation. It is true that here is no greater or surey houses of cuest impolitess than bell-succifice; but when self-sacrifice itself is power even so much as will bursty supply their needs it is madness to talk of hap

the New York journals, publish article on the awasting system, in which we were told that "A man, prematurely aged, working with a swarm of equalid men and wamps and hope eried out to the protesting health of cor: 'Don't talk to us about disease It's bread we're after, bread' 'Last June in the great metropolis of this land of pienty and prosperity a broken hant of party and beauty and her baby that she might save it from the starva-tion that threatened the whole family. Less than three months ago the paper were telling as that's niether, crazed by destitution, had mardered her six children by drowning them in a well: and so we might go on, giving instance after instance to show that there are many thomsands of the poor, in our own country, so utterly and helplessiv destitute that leve for husband, wife, or children but adds to the unpery is which they live, and their only hope for even a passing happiness is in moments when continuous suffering has caused the mind to wander, a when reguon has been dethroued, a hurdship has reduced the sufferer to state beneath the level of the brate.

WHAT RING UP PLEASURED!

Have the poor, then, no pleasures! To be honest, as a class, they have; but they are generally of a 'hind to make one shudder and be moved to make one shudder and be mores to pity. We have seen their children dancing on the streets hard by their niterable resements, to the music of the barrel organ. We have seen them enthusiantic over a game of baselual the half a tis can picked from some que's ash barret. take pleasure in all forms of mischief, from comparatively innocent fun, to stealing and throwing stones at win-dows; and far were than all size, we down; and far weese than all size, we have over them whos not more than all years old taking the first steps in the way of the rake and the practicety—an almost invitable result of the way in which our Christian civilization compais them is live; and we have never been suspected when the have read, as we sometimes do in the daily papers, of messe little girl of thirteen or fourteen who have been "on the max" of the greatness of our "Christian Cly-

THE RIGHT TO PLEASURE.

It is the special Boast of the two great Angle Saxon races that they, love justice; and we Americans have even put ourselves formally on record as believing that all men are created free and equal. We can hardly, then, escape the question as to whether the poor have not a RIGHT to recreative poor have not a manufacture, none inco-pleasures. That they have, none inco-luming flowd will ever question schould income that suchety, while ac-siliaritely. the aid of offul. if seems to us that suclety, while acknowledging the right, has deliberately refused to grant the opportunity. It is an apequivocal distate of the more law as written indelibly on every con acience, that every man has a right on sufficiency of all that tends to the welfare of his body or his mind, and the right is based simply upon the fa-of his unerses with the race. We do not say that there may not be circum stances under which he may forfe that right, but we do say that every child that secrets allows to be born and we know well enough that w have th this country an inhightonic law keeping the number of the helples mor as high as their ounven poor as tight as their convenience requires, which practically JEMANDS that tens of thousands shall be born early year who never ought to be error thought of every child that asciety all lows to be born is cutified to as theo ough an education and as good a chance in life as every other child. But not only be this demanded by the more inw, it is being practically recognised in the spacemental charities with which nedven. in the specimelic charities with which we insult those who are less fortuna's than we and a still more partial as We are continually making laws meiting tenement houses, hours of in bor, conditions of labor in sweating ex-tablishments, the cuployment of women and children, and other such things, which show that the social con science is awakening. It is one the such legislation only touches the oute edge as it were, of the great social di eige as it were, or me great statistic case from which we suffer. It is only a sort of external application which may, for a time, serve to remove the most apparent signs of the scrofulors condition of society's life blood, but It is a beginning, and we have hopes for the forter. the future. Again we may notice that the poc in which personally, we do not, night not, to believe, the law of inher finice. It is claimed that the children or the relations of a man who has su covied in amassing wealth have a pe feet right, by reason of their relation ship, to inherit the fruits of his labor or ble manipulation of the labor of oth ers, or the case may be. Suppose, t the sake of argument, that we allow the claim to pins unchallenged, and see how this law affects the poor.

THE SOCIAL INHERITANCE. No man can ever attain success life without the aid of others. Ti necessful expitatist may, perhaps, to skilled smeatpointer of index, in most from the inborer he would be so helpless as a naked savage. The sucseeful inventor owes his success etlisps tens of thousands of men who raduce what he has invented-for he is entirely dependent upon the m the monider, and the men of all ifferent trades list are needed before the finished invention can be put upon the market; but he is also indebted to the inventors, the scientists, the labor of long ago, for it was they who invest the way for his nuccess. It is true that an Edison would be a great man in any and among any people, and perhaps also a successarie increased greatness and his success are increased a thousand fold by season of his in-As we have said, it is only so far as society, AS A WHOLE in concerned at is not so, so far as the individual employer is concurred; and it is be-cause, in dur lance short-sightedness, fre consider the interests of the indidelitedness to others. Now if it be trie-that our law of inheritance is founded in righteousness, it must also be true that the men whose fathers were the chief instruments in building up the furtures of others are also entitled to inherit the fruits of their labors—and to our way of thinking the inheritance of the messes ought to be the greate part of that which is inherited. tence by increasing the pperogatives of the capitallistic class, and that only so-long as they appear to be of more use to the emplayer than those who are er unfortunate than they.

He all means lot such works on oh. fact that so far as accomplishing the heat results for the masses, and any results at all for the people who most need our sympathy and help such phil anthropists are beginning at the wrong end. What is the use of a park or a library to a man who has to work night and day, or at least until he la poetry, and the drama can do be placed at the disposal of the humblest work-er?" and our own consciouses answer "Why?" We know the needs of hutoo fired to care for anything at all save sleep, in order to che out the sean tient livelihood? "In all our great cit ies," says the "Bunday School Times," not the more needs change, and rest, and pleasure. And in our liened more the worker needs change, and rest, and pleasure. And in our leases the case we allow him to have a runshop in which to get drunk and a mise crathe bovel in which to sleep, and, aim, to bring linh the world a family of unhealthy little urchins, must of a home nust suffer as their parents here miserable before them. And yet name of m have the hardined to talk "there are lables dying of starvation at this very moment. While the children of the rich are functivily picking at the uninty dishes provided for them

nate when they find enough of such

We know that the picture is not over drawn and those of us who do not, ought to know it and yet we talk of parks and libraries and open-air converts. What many of the poor need most of all is WOIFK. Work that will emble them to live without beving to keep hody and soul together without cores of people of all ages and both sexes. "conking a living" on the dumn being turned out into the streets in the depth of winter became their build builds cannot possibly get steady work, or work of any kind, enough to pay the rent, of men and women being found dead in their little hovels, starv-ed to death in the midst of a land of plenty and in a city in which good. fruit had but a little while been ruthleady destroyed because the owner louds not get the price be wanted, and when we read of many other things of a like import, it makes one wonder if the average philanthropist is not one of the most foolish of non, and we instinctively compare his erany schemes for social amelioration with the comknow from actual observation and exerlenes that the first step in true philanthropy is the providing of work for those who cannot find it for them-The next step in philanthropy in the insuring that every worker shall have desent wages and reasonable hours of labor. Montague Williams. a police magistrate, who has proved himself a friend to many of the friendless, de-scribes a cheerless room in Londan seriles a cheerless room is where a man and his wife were work-ing "for dear life" at their respective occupations, while the youngest six children desed away the minutes n a corner, and the older ones were deatly "beiping father." The woman was making buttou-holes in a beap of relateents, and the husband bent over hearh, stitching uppers to boots. No one spoke, so one looked up even for a glance from the prindow, and after standing some time in sitence the ter, however, neither spoke nor moved on eveluals. The remark was repeated but etill there was no answer. Mr. Williams, believing the man to be deaf and down, turned an inquiring look on

"What is the matter?" he asked. "Oh," naid she, "he's got no tip talk. Every minute is precious to him. All that lot of uppers him got to be finand then he'll bring me and the little und a bite of food. If he wastes even five minutes to jaw, maybe he'll be too late to deliver the work, and we'll have nothing to eat afore to-morrow, unless I take half o' my work back."

expected. When her own sewing was hurriedly finished she drew a quick breath of relief, wrapped the water-cents in a ragged lift of paper, slipped an old-shawl over her head and hastened out still in silence, to-carry house her work This is not an isolated case. Our great cities are full of them. But even if it were, a very little consideration of the lot of the "upper ten" among the poor is quite enough to prove th necessity for a naiversal movement the direction of the bettering of the conditions, all is no excuse for us say, as some of as do, that we often work as much as fourteen or fifteen hours a day ourselves. If we do, we are better paid for it than they, we do largely the kind of grork we want to do, and not that which stress of cir-cumstances forces us to do, and we are not, obliged to work so hard by reanon of necessity. The only answer that any man who cares whether he is called honest or not can afford to make to a plain statement of the facts concertifug the wages and the hor thing clue, and the poor may go to the devil for all that most of his class will do to right their wrongs. But their claim to justice is not vitinted by the sellish indelence of the men who do not know the meaning inciship, and who are more inclined to make their hurbon greater than to reduce them; and today the voice of the eternal law demands more persist-ently than ever before, that every man shall recognize the instituable rights of every other member of the human famlly and shall seek. In every posethic way to bring about the cine when all economic questions— and the question of wages and hours of latter among them-shall be decided by a rational and fraternal interpretation of the Golden Rule.

THE "HOMES" OF THE POOR. A third step in true philamibropy com-ate in the providing of decent hea for the poor; homes in which they will not be crowded together as if they were entile, and where the children will not be all but compelled to grow up into 'vicious' men and women by reason of the most disgusting over-croading. The rector of Spitnishelts wrote to the London "Times" a few years ago an article in which he spit that there were there "23,000 auda upon seveniy-four acros of ground," an average of 311 per scre. And spenking of some of the people, their "human," and daily atmosphere, he said: "Hi-horns Hi-fed, Hi-housed, ill-clad, minny of them at heat are pour animals and 'in-finlents' by birth of innecesses, decease, chaotigs, almost impossible. Children game upon the bests fight and the benised face without emotion; and I have seen a child at play upon a finer still red with its dren's play, A murder in little clas than a paneling actention. Direct stars-cases even at shouldny; unlighted land-ings at night, ven in 'models,' a com-mon office for a number of families; high rents and consequent svereros d-ing and indiscriminate meaging of the series after dears, sever fastered throughout the year, admitting stairs and landings used as sleeping places by men, women and children the reigning squalor on every hand the shifting character of the people these are things that haffle and perplex us at every turn," Nor is London' ay any mena the only place in which such conditions are to be found. On block alone, in New York, the most densely populated in the world, contains no less than 6,988 people, and the horrible condition of those "homes" of the people cannot even be hadged by those who have not seen indiged by those who have not seen them by the antenient that in less than twenty four hours on the 12th of July mut the bodies of thripy, ave chifrom were taken to the public morgue from what the press has called "the tenement helis of New York City."

Is it any wonder, seeing that these things are so, that when Rinkin was asked to contribute to the purchase of a park ha maked to be have been asked Alexandra Park, and I will not; and beg you, my working renders, to su-derstand, once for all, that I wish you HOMER to be confortable and refund, and that I will resist to the itimust of my power all schemes founded on the modern notion that you are to b dead, that other people, may make money by your work, and then taken aln samuels by transway and railway

This, then, is the only practical way work shall have every opportunity that all workers shall have decent wages and short hours of labor, that their hours shall be such as we our selves might be content to live in; no when they have gut these things it will be time enough to talk of parks and libraries, picture galleries, and other

An Ametin, Tekna, disputch of May. "The secretary of state to day,granted a permit to the Byrd syl-dicate. Ruited, of London, England, is do business in Texas. This syndicate has leased 63,000 acres of oil hand in the Beaumont field, which it will im-mediately develop. It will also build add operate an extensive oil pipe line system in the new field. It is said that this syndicate has large interests in the Baku oil district of Russia.

A few weeks ago we were being takt what a great field the discovery of all in Texas would open for the middle dam, the people who have saved a few hundreds or a few thousands of dollars and who would now be able to com-pete with the great monopolists.

It now appears, however, that the autall invesions are getting experience and the monopolists are getting the off wells. Another dispatch mays:

Now that the gambling stage has pushful, five iters in oil stocks, and oil lands in the Beaumont field are looking late things is a practical manner, and the outlook, from the point of view of the majority, is anything but pro-ising. A DELIBERATE ATTACK.

The Manufacturers' Association of this city has been perfecting a plan for over one year, whereby they could close up everything and break the back of the organisations. Doyton, with a opulation of $5,000, has at this tim much alarm, and sometime ago the decided to make May 20 (when the mi chinists demand'aine hours the test of strength. MORE DECISIONS FOR WORKMEN TO CONSIDER.

Courts Sustain Blacklisting and Enjoin Union from Assisting Strikers.

How "Even-Handed Justice" Between Capital and Labor is Maintained by Capitalist Courts-The Right to Organize Is the Exclusive Property of Capitalists.

The last week has brought us twd part them unite to use their power and nore instances to add to the long list change the law. of court rulings against Labor in hydally struggle with the capitalist class. The two make on excellent parallel and we call upon all workingmen to think them over carefully and remember them next election day.

BLACKLISTING IS LEGAL.

The first comes from Chicago, where the Superior Court/has decided that capitalists have a right to maintain a blacklist against working people who have taken part in strikes or other action against the employers.

The decision is given in a suit brought by Annie Cowden against a number of packing house companies. We reported the case some weeks ago, when the and was begun. It was broven that the girls who took part in a strike against a wage reduction in one of the pocking houses and lost had, been blacklisted by all of the large com-panies and were unable to obtain work in the trade.

The court has decided against the plaintiff and rules that the great capi-talists—the Armours, Swifts, Cudahys, and the rest-have a right to unite (!! they, were workingmen, it would have been "to compler") to prevent "objec-tionable," persons from obtaining employment,

BUT ORGANIZATION OF LABOR IS ILLEGAL.

The other ruling fomes from the Circult Court of Hopkias County, Xen-tucky, and completely dealers a corre-sponding right of organization on the part of workingmen.

Then suit of the St. Bernard, Bein-rete, and Monarch Coal Mining Companies of Hopkins County, Judge Nunn of the Circuit Court has issued

To collect union dues:

3. To ask other coal miners to com

4. To distribute food to miners who This latest anti-labor injunction far surpasses even that granted by Justice Preedman of New York against the eigarmakers last year. The ground of the application for in junction is simply that the object of the union is to organize the men now employed in the plaintiffs' mines "which would be injurious to the bust-ness of phintiffs."

THE RIGHT TO WORK.

In times of strikes we been a great deal about the "right to work." right of every man to work when and where and how he will and denounce the "tyraniny" of the trade unlone which well to abridge time right by sotabilebing rules that men must not work for more than specified hours or for less than specified wages, and that one workingman shall not take the place of another who has gone out in

But when it is a case of blacklisting. this city-when capitalists make an agreement not to employ members of trade unions or persons who have had the impulsace to resist the Jowering of wages-the right to work is forgutten and the same capitalist apploais are loud in their defense of the "right

Thus it appears that, in the mouths of the sufferers of the present system, the "lands nable right to work," means only the right of capitalists to employ scales and the "innlienable right of organization" means only the right of capitalists to complete to starve workingmen or poor, defenselem working girls into abject bubulesion. And this interpretation is upheld by the power of government in the hands of both Republican and Domocratic parties.

WHAT'S TO BE DONE'T

In view of these decisions against Labor, which are coming with ever increasing frequency and neverity, and in view of the all but unanimous open approval given them by the capitalist press, what is the working class to do? There is but one thing to do: Recog

Inted the agreement and compelled but to employ union men' to finish the work.

The union, however, claimed that, since they had been forced to strike by the fault of the employer, the time they had lost must be counted and paid for an "waiting time." This, was the point upon which the subjection to the interests of united and uncompromising points at action of a time will appreciate that the interests of the capitalist class. Becognize that the interests of the capitalist loss will missent universe for a capitalist pleasantier, for this second and uncompromising points at action of the refusal of the Association to the working class can active the productions of second in the working class can active the productions.

Let the workingmen no longer bother their heads as to whether these decisions are good law or not. Anything in law that the courts declare to be low and the speculity authority carries out to have a few declares to be low and the speculity authority carries out inguist and dissatisfied with the law, be you red to entire E. lat them not argue and promet and logs.

The old parties pretend to represent all classes of society. Since class in-terests conflict it is impossible for any party to represent all classes. But by this false pressure they seek to divide the votes of the workers and thus to keep the political power in their bands for the service of the capitalists.

The Secial Democrate Party does not pretend to represent the interests of all classes. It represents the interents of the working class slone and openly attacks the capitalist class.

A Social Democratic judge in Chicago would have decided that those blacklisted working girls had a case against the complying capitalists, and he would have entertained a criminal prosecution against them, in addition,

A Social Democratic judge in Ken-tucky would have refused the injunc-tion applied for by the coal companies, but he would have granted an injunc tion forbidding them to import scab-for the purpose of wrecking the miners' unions and depriving the members of an opportunity to earn their

And the Social Democratic Judge would do this frankly and openly on the ground that it was necessary to the welfare of the working people, who produce all wealth:

Capitalists would complain that such action was unjust and illegal. It is time that they took their suru in having came to complain. The game has lever played too long on their side.

If workingmen wish to see the pow-ers of law and government med in defence of their interests, jured to manufacture to every man the right to work and to get the product of his labor, they have only to use the political power of their numbers, so units and vote for the party of their class—the Social Democratic Party.

LARGE VOTE IN ILLINOIS TOWN.

Capitalist politicians at Danville, III., got a fine scare in the recent inunicipal election. Democrats had failed toput up a ticket, leaving the field ho tween the Republicans and Social Democrats. There was consternation in the enemy's camp. Republican and he the enemy a camp, insputment and hemocratic papers united in making pitful appeals to the people to vote down Social Democrats. W. H. Wiso of the Social Crossale conducted as enbracelly compaign, and, kept the pot boiling until after the votes were counted. Of course, the Republicana was, but the Social Democratic mayoralty candidate polled 611 votes, and the comrades are delighted with the manifestation of hostility to the working class exhibited by the capitalist heelers when the issue of capitalis and Socialism was presented for t

Its a peculiar fact that the people a he continually insist that labor is not distonurable, display a constant aversion to performing any labor their selves. A TRUCK TO APOLOGIES.

The delegates in the Central Fed rated Union who spent so much time in deprecating the one of violence in the Allmay strike might have used their breath to better purposs. We do not advocate the reckions and futile me of virient pressures. We do not know whether any of the Albany strikers took part in such rioting as oncurred or not. The officers of the union deny it and they probably tall the truth, at beast so far an their edge extends. But, whether it was strikens or apparationers who did it, we are not going to apologies for them. When the capitalist class ceases to us violence and fraud against the predurers of wealth, then it will be time enough to read lessons of patient and meckness to workingmen. If provovation is an excuse, then the strikers had ample excuse for violent action. The street car employees in Trey and Albany, as in New York and Brooklyn, and everywhere one, are treated like dogs, day after day. The company which profits by their excessive and underpaid inher shows not the slightest, espect or consideration for their welfare as buman beings. HA BOC. There have been many cases, on the other hand, where the fact that the workinstmen were well known to ! ready for violent action, should occasion arise, has had the effect of atrengthening their position and fright-ening the capitalists into a respectful state of mind. Of course this will pen erally be the case only where, as is parts of the West and South, crety man is armed and where the violent action, if any occurs, in deliberate and organized:

If the rioting at Albany is to be coenned, let it be, op the right grounds simply and solely because it did no appreciable good. ADVICE FROM THE HURMY.

The "Times" takes occusion to give some good advice to the trade unlum gratia. That is, it gives to the trade unions some advice which to decidedly good for capitalist interests. There is much food for thought in the editorial, if the reader, instead of accepting the conclusions of the "Times" editor, will consider the matter for himself. Here

"It is well known that a part of the dissilvantage that British trade feel in rivalry with the American is due to the exertions of the trade unions, and especially to the higher rates of wages maintained for inferior work and the pistance of the unions to the employ ment of labor-saving machinery, a considerable extent and mech a then in this country the purpose of t unions has been to restrict the house of work and increase the number-workers, rather than in extend the pr duct and increase the amount of west to be done. Against this handless the intent they can have the co-opera of the unions, for even a successful fight with the unions would hadly cris-ple them in their competition with Auerian rivals. Accordingly, they have appealed to the unions to study unions have been persuaded to do so by their perception of the fact that the demand for British labor in likely grantly to be cut down if the Ameri cans secure the markets heretofore en jayed almost exclusively by the Brit

"The conential point is that the co munity of interest thus recognized by both sides in this emergency really or hots at all-times, and that both parties will be reatly better off of they can rome to a mutual agreement as to the relations than they can be when the relations are determined only by cotautly renewed equilicits. The Britis industrial Union ought to become per manent, and it ought to be an example for intelligent employers and employee to this country."

To test the correctness of the advice hery given, let us not: Euppose the English workmen do consent to work ere botte for smaller wares, what will be the effect? Obviously, that Brit ich enpitalists would make larger pe his and that American trade would suf der by British competition. Then cappoor the American workingmen, acticle on the advice of the "Times," ala agree to the demands of their employ ern, what will be the result? Obviou ly, again, that the balance will be respeed and American espitalists will get larger profits. The capitalists on ath aiden of the water will have gain ed and the inburers on both sides will atther side of the cross allow their work to be made heavier, they bened their employers at the expense both of on and of their fellow work nes across the water. There was a time when the interests of the American capitalist class were really opposed, in many respects, to those of the British capitalist class, became they were actively competing to sell the goods their employees produced. That day is rapidly passing away. The financial columns of the daily press show us how largely the stock of American corporations is held in England, and how largely the stock of Brilish companies is held in Ameics. It is no longer a question of Brit leh capitalist against American capitalbet; it is a question of capitalist against workingman, regardless of nationalty. But it is the shrewd game of the construction class, to concent this fact and to play off the workingmen of one country against those of the other every monible way. "Divide and conquer" was the wise maxim of the Homann: other nations allowed themselves to be divided, and they fell. The working class should profit by the les-

If any considerable body of American mony policy" of which we have of late heard so much, the result will be disnations to both. The welfare of the working class in to be advanced only by resolute, aggressive, and uncompromising organization of the workers in all countries, for reduction of work ing hours, for increase of wages, for whatevels advantages may be gained by reade action, and by corresponding action on the political field It is rather bewildering after being named many, many times over that the Fast Mids of New York to learn that mis Same them offer Tai-tory Inspectors are engaged in going through th sweatshops, hunting for violations of the factory laws. SCHWAR AND UNIONISM: It is no new thing to hear that Mr Schwab, president of the Steel Trust tues not believe in labor organizations He never did believe in them and the wretched condition of the workers in the Romestead mills is sufficient testimony to the fact. Without organiza tion or solidarity among the working close the capitalist class can exploit intur to the full extent of its appetite It is not so important to the work rs that Schwab should be against trade unions us it is that the works should time trade unions a means of re streamer against the eneroachment of capitulism. It is to be experted that Schwab, the expresentative of the capi talist slass, should be opposed to any on the part of the workers ests of his class require that the work; ers should be disorganised—that every individual workingman should be left at the mercy of the trust of which penwah is the beatl.

It is not the suppres sity that Schwab and his class fearit is the restriction of the exploiting power of the capitalists by the deter mined organization of the workers. It he not the destruction of inventive on the part of the workers that lichwale quakes at-it is the destruction of the ratem that gives the capitalists opportunity to rob the workers.

This is the basis of Schwab's objecon to inbor organizations. It is upon the same basis that the bandit object to armed resistance on the part of his victims, instead of peaceful acquiescence in his wishes. And he very fact that Schurab should pronounce against thor organizations is reason enough for every workingman to join the unhan of his craft-and help make it a "nighting union."

The "Journal," which advertise surif as a "twentieth century newspaper" and a "friend of the toiling mass es," made another exhibition of its in verted honesty last Monday. Among or who discussed the Albany strike at the Central Federated Union on Sunday was Isaac Cowen. He spoke ne long and very clearly, about ing that such conflicts, with all their ttendant evils, grow naturally out of he fact that the means of production are swood by private capitalism who bow important, in soch cases, even to a more shortsighted view, is the pag again of political power. Finally, he showed that, while the Republican and Democratic parties units in using this power for the benefit of the capitalists, the Social Democratic Party alone stands pledged to use it for the defense of the workingman,

The "Journal" gave what pretended tó he a report of the meeting, including Cowen's speech. Undoubtedly the reporter gave in the matter in full. But before it went to the composing room every reference to the Social Dem eratic Party was carefully stricken out and the readers of the "Journal" might naturally infer that Comrade Cowen was urging the workingmen to yote the Deportatic ticket, that of the Citizens I'nion, or hay other

The editors of the "Journal" are truly "wher in their day than the children of light." They know the value of a lie and the value of a half-truth, It is time for workingmen to cut such japers and support their own press.

Li Hung Chang has made an appea for help for famine stricken millions in China. Li is the richest man in China. He has more than enough to supply him, and thousands of others with pletity of food and clothes for the rest of his life; yet there are people starving at his very doors. There is probably enough food stored an and held by Li Hung Chang and his class to satisfy the demands of the bungry. It was so in India, where the few at lowed millions to die rather than give them food without making a profit on it. What Li Hong Chang wants is American money to pay for the neces saries in his keeping, which he can sell for a fat profit. He is a parasite and famines can be made profitable for parasites who own the land and ma binery which the people must use in America, Under Socialism, no man would be able to corner the necessities of life, and if droughts should come the people would be prepared to mee them. Then the dauger of droughts would be averted by irrigation and ther modern methods. But Socialism could be impracticable, for are no families necessary to prevent the perfrom becoming extravagant and fall ing victims to over indulgence?

W. S. Wier, in Southern Labor News,

To a student of sociology the ques-tion of foreign emigration is a ques-tion of industrial economy. The labor fight is an international one. The conditions which produce paupers in the old world will produce paupers here. The land in Europe is held by the aris tocrate and the panpers who flock to our shores are fleeing from the merciour shores are fleeing from the lies parasition growing out of social conditions of that country. They are not lary people, whoever saw a lary Jew, a lary dage, or a lary Hun garlan? They will travel miles and infler a day peddling knick knacks all the while carrying a pack, that would make a Georgia mule tired. If they are victors, it is the result of the ept of ignorance and fifth in thich they are born and raised. If for here, they would be competitors at home. The great transportation comrope and manufacture if about as cheap as it can be made here. If they don't come here to work the owners of transportation facilities and machinery can go to them. The ques tion must be solved by the people derstanding the causes which produce effects and applying the remedy. The printerratic princes of Europe about the same position that the plutocratic princes of America are begin-ning to occupy here and all because they know how to monopolize the and instruments of production and dis-

Prophecy. A play in two arts, by erick Kraft. New York. Socialisti operative Publishing Association. Pamphiet, 39 pages. Price, 10 orati

The author introduces this little pla as being intended "to teach Socialist thought through the medium of the stairs, with the limited means at the monand of the sinateur.".

There is comparatively little inclient

the story serving merely to justify the lively dialogue, which presents the suf ferings of unemployment and poverty.

Jack Williams is a young mechanic who is out of work, and the first scene is in his home, now a scene of want and despair. " His wife and a friend a slop girk, talk over their hard-sings. Their conversation is interrupted by the entrance of Mrs. Williams' brother. olimy, who has enterprisingly swiped a basketful of potatoes. With, he refuses to see anything wrong in his action, and his sister's accepted ideas of honesty give way when Inck enters, thisheartened with failure and fainting with linnger and fatigue. A further dis logne enture between Jack and a 9al-vation Army girl who brings some food and some plone cant for the relief of their sufferings. On her exit Jack falls luto a sleep of exhaustion and a probjetic vision appears to him, point ing the way to freedom.

The second set is of a visionary charnoter, the time being the year 1960, Th on of the to be expected in a joyousness of life to be expected in a Recinited commonwealth is brought on in the dialogue and is enforced by conwhen Williams now an old man bor agitator. The scene closes with the music for which is given in the last pages of the bamphiet.

Of most of the book, we must say that it is not better than the recent effuof Ella Wheeler Wilcox - which na Mr. Dooley remarks, "In a held of a mane thing to say of ahny man."

That "one-half of the world down no know how the other half fives" is along durity proper by the occasional at templa of against our literary people to tempts of embod our Hecury peops or write ferion dealing with the labor question. Almost without exception these attempts exhibit the most world nted to say wilful tginlife, the thoughts, and the feelings of the working people. That ineffalife such, John Hay, secretary of atate, is credited with the authorship of "The Breadwinners," which had miniderable regue a few years but has now nearly reached in 'de-nerved, oblivion. The author aboved his intelligence in only one way- by keeping his identity a secret. He classe to make the workingmen who figured in his book talk in distort; but instead of taking the trouble to go among nekthermen to study their language he adopted a bad imparition of the dia-lect of English workingmen as repre-sented in novels of Forty years ago throwing in a few sciginal and otherunbeard of errors of gramma who promunication, by way of variety limited is a minor affair; but the au-thor's ignorance of his subject on this point was married by his knowners on all other points. His workingment where such as mover existed outside of backs and of very hidly written busiles, no there decubly better in point of liter-

Almost invariably to be popular authors have a case to prove that truthful, generally drunten and relous and frequently neglectful of their fam-illes. The case is, of course, as easy to-prove as the function one of the wolf exinet the lamb.

One of the intest attempts of the serk is a novel entitled "The Warners." by Gertrude Poiter Daniels. The hero is a "self unde sinn" who starves him-self in the process of making. KNOCKS OUT "THE RIGHT TO WORK."

The old saying "it never rains but it urs," can he applied to the growin number of court decisions against labor. Following rapidly upon adverse decisions and opinions rendered by decisions, and openious rendered by judges and attorter-generals all over the country, comes one from Chicago which deciares that it is legal for employers to maintain a blacklint. The raing came from the Superior Court in the case of Annie Coudon against several stock yard necking firms. The balancit was a lieber with can maintee. pialntiff was a labeler and can painted nd joined in a strike last year against a reduction in wages. Since that the The court ruled that the firms had right to take protective measures against persons who had quit the em-ployment of other firms, without valid

This is an interesting decision in view of the hub-hub being raised anent the rejorted interference of the "right to work" at Albany, and which right the state troops have called out to protect. Is not the right to work a prerogative to be enjoyed also by this girl. Annie Condon? And if this right is dealed her, what are the reasons for it? According to the court quitting work for higher wages is not a valid reison for heaving the employment of any corporation, in substance this means that the workers have not the right to en orders because it is not been as the substance of the core of the control of the core of force a depand for better conditions or higher wages. If the employers do not the employees must not quit rossede, the employees must not qui work, else they have no standing be forw the law.

The capitalist press are insisting that The capitalist press are insisting that the poor faols, who went to Albany to betray their fellows should be protected in "the right to work," but there will be no insistance of protection in the right to work of thomsands of workers affected by this rating of a capitalist court, hande Condon and all those who three protect against the tyrnamy of employers one starrs upon the street, eet's worse fate, but the right of or meet a worse rare, our upon the temporary to dictate enhancement to the wage workers, and the conditions under which these workers must haber must not be interfered with- and is shall not while capitalist courts interuret the laws.

calling out and using the troops to as-aist and enforce that blacklisting is also legal. Fortunately it is not yet illegal for workingmen roters to black-list the capitalist parties that are the instruments used by the capitalists to anslave the workers. That right will remains and workingmen should use it while they can.

Speaking of The Worker, "L'Union Des Travalleurs' says: "This paper is one of the most interesting of our exchanges in the English inquage, it was a say to the english inquage, it in published in very good form, and costs only fifty cents a year. We ad-vise those of our readers who would like a good Santish paper to subscribe for The Worker,"

Delegates from Southern labor unions who visited Fall River receptly gave a different version of the possibilities of the Both from that commonly accept-ed in the North. All that is needed, they said, to cruste a aroung trade ouion sentiment in Southern mill towns is that the operatives there about learn as much as the delegates had about the conditions in Northern cotton mill towns, brought about largely, they believed, through the strength of lator organisations and the consequent effect politically. A large majority of the operatives in many Southern de-tricts cumot read, and they are content with their conditions of long hours and small wages paid in store orders, the delegates said, only because they do not know that they have it in their the not know that they have it as their power to better these conditions. These assurances greatly encourage the Pall Hiver labor ment. They predict that a great textile union movement will aweep over the South within the next two years, thus equalising conditions as between the mills in Massachmeetts and those in the Carolinas.

Bobal, the Social int leader, moved that all children born monito by the price true, but are motion was defeated. The government authorities simply took the position that sinvery to necessary for European settlers in Gorman colonies, and let it so at that, it is rather upsetting to reflect that slavery exists to-day under the flags of Engiand, Germany, and the United Sarks. American owned shaves l'nited States. American owned si in the Bulus are not yet freed, altho in the Snius are not yet freed, although President. McKinley has autocratic civil power in the Phinppines, and, to keep a human boing in alavery a single hour is a violation-of the constitution of the Traited Sintes. So far as we know, Blassia, with all her absolution and semi-harkarisms, so-salied, hasn't a single slave to answer for within the reach of the Tnar's authority. When will the other powers of the world be able to present a smillar record? Rus stan despotism is a fearful thing, but it is not so revolving in the pharisalc hypocrisy of nations pretending to be free, and democratically, administered free, and democratically administ who shamefully trample upon every human right-in order to pile up wealth.

YOUNG SOCIALISTS AT WORK.

The Young People's Social Demo cratic vius of forkvine seld its first regular meeting of the W. E. A. club house, 2nt E. Eighty-siz-street, with eighteen members present. Many mor-are expected to join. It was decided to held meetings on the first and third Wednesday evenings of such month. Comrades Schultz, Von der Hall, and Noch were chosen as delegates to the Yorkville Agitation Committee,

The pitpost of the circle is to carry on Socialist agitation and education on economic and political questions among the young pupil of the Yorkville diatricia—to combine littinies, education, and social pleasure. CLARK AND THE COPPER TRUST.

How the Montana Senator Deceived His Supporters.

Malhor & Black, After Setting Into the Senate by Attacking the Copper Trust, Tures Got to Be Affiliated with That Organization.

The miners, starttermen, and other wage workers of Montana and the neighboring states have received an-other lesson on the necessity of class-connectors labor politics.

many years the Montens work era have suffered under the increasing oppression of the Copper Trust, an an gegation of capitalist interests dond-unted by the same Standard till ring which deganized the criminal con-milency against inter in the Circu denou and which is rapidly gaining applete control of all the industries complete control of all the industries of the nation. The workingment knew shat political action was necessary to resist the aggressions of this "acroppes," but they hid not yet developed suffi-tions additional. t solidarity, self-reliance, and is medence of mind to stand-together wage workers, in a party of their own, to achieve their own cumulant fun through the collective ownership of the mines and mills that their colbeetive jabor had created. They choose, enther, in depend upon none empiration with political ambitions, who should champion their cause for them and enampton there eases for them and promise, through the inducates of the wealth he had florced them of, to so cure for them some partial protection from the tyranny of other capitalists.

The longed for "friend of inbor" upmillionaire copper, king, wh and a great liching to get into the Millionaire's Club, of Washington, formerly called the United States Ben-No. He had cherished this lofty and bition for some twenty years, but the other copper king, Marcus Duty, had been able to thwart on him. them able to thwart all his plans. STREET CAR STRIKE.

Over one year ago the employees of he People's Street Railway Company an Eastern corporation went on strike for nine-hours, 20, cents an hour, and recognition. After a fight of a few days the settlement of the strike was left in the hands of a committee with power to act; by shrewd manipolation a nettlement was effected where by the men were made to believe this had recognition, but not so. After ten-days they found that their victory was what is termed a "Sell-out," and they were about to strike again, ! Choles ndgment prevailed; however, and bes investiond by the contract, which expired June 1, 1901 A pew contract was prepared, presented, and refused. Flows Glorgymon Denounce Unions fo Mosting on Sunday, but Referse to Squalder Request That They Proy for the Eight-Hour Bay.

Last Saturday's pession of the gen eral synod of the Reformed Preshyter-ian Church, meeting at Pittaburg, was the scene of a bitter attack upon trade unions by the elergymen amembled. Resolutions were introduced condemning the unions, both because they are to a certain extent, secret organiza-tions and because they often held their meetings on Sunday.

Ex-Moderator Foster supported the solutions, denouncing the "tyranay" of labor organizations, which do no "ienve a free field for labor." but wickedly restrict competition by fix-ing wages and hours for men employed in their trades. Elder Bobb of Sharon, in., said the emblem trade union was "the mark of lienst" and wanted a resolution to condenn and denounce absolutely all la-bor unloss. Elder Walter Miller and Rev. J. M. McKnight spoke in the

A minority defended the unions, Ber. J. C. McFeeters pointing out that the synod did not propose to censure or-ganization of empiralists, although they were also secret organizations, and were in the habit of requiring their employees to work on Sunday, The conference, however, evidently thought that the practises of the rusts were sanctioned by "the law and the profits" and, by a vote of 71 to 54 fastructed the committee to reall labor unions and forbid the church members to join them.

But the climax came on Monday, as told in the following disputch: "Mod-erator Martin of the Reformed Presbyterian Synod has received a tele gram from the Association of Ch Labor Unions asking the Synod to pray for an eight-hour work day, no the intering men would not have to bold meetings on Sunday to devise means to secure it. Dr. Martin aski he thought the telegram was mean! for a joke."

The plous eiders at Pittsburg to be an deficient in a sense of humor as in a sense of truthfulness, decepry or hummity. They have nothing t say against bosses who compel many their employees, on pain of discharge, to work seven days when week; but they condemn the working week; but they condemn the working-nien for taking the only day when most of them have time for thought or discussion to meet and plan for their common welfare. They profess to beleve in the "power of prayer." when they are asked to pray that their fied would incline the hearts of the employers to grant a shorter workday so that the men might not be too tire to hold their meetings on weekday venings, they, consider that the request must be meant for a joke! They, are quite right, too. But the loke is on them-and a bitter joke it: in, revealing the hollowness of their climonious pretenses. The church has been called upon in decide on which side it would throw such influ-ence as it may have—for the men who create the world's wealth and bear lise create the world's wealth and bear the world's burdens or for the men wao exploit the workers and build churches out of the plunder. things that the manufacturers suggest are true and important but there is another inference to, he drawn healden the one the bosses drew from them.

They ask: "Do the machinism realize that the question of pay for labor performed is merely a question of supply and demand?" That is a good question to think over. Do the workingmen realise that so long as a capitalist class own the land and muchinery and other means of production their labor power, rery lives, are only a commodity like potators or pig iron? Do they realize that under the capitalist agatem they have no right to be considered as hu-man beings, but only as living means of production, to be hought and sold in the market? It is time that they real-

The manufacturers infer that workngmen, as commodities, ought to be an passive as potatoes or pig fron, as sub-missive as oxes. Socialists make au-other inference. We say that work-ingmen ought to use their united power to change a system which treats them as commodities and set up in its place a system under which all men would be workers and all workers would be men and treated as such. That condition will come only when the people, as a body, own the means of production. In it not worth thinking

The manufacturers ask two sum or three of these question competition with the machinists of other countries, that cheapness wins in the world-market, and that if they, demand higher wages than are paid in other countries they are likely to loss the market, and thus to lose their cimuce of employment?"

That is worth thinking of, too-and it applies to all trades. Industry is manufacturer cannot sell his en-ployees' product at a profit to himself, it does not matter whether people need that product or not, the milis will be closed and men will not be allowed to

The manufacturers infer that the workingmen ought to be content to work as hard and as long and for as low wages as those of any other conn try, in order that their employers be able to compete profitably in world market.

Socialists make another inference We my: Instead of industry controlled by private capitalists and carried on only for profit, let us have industry, controlled by the people and carried on for the public service—for the satisfaction of the people's wants. The der Socialism we foreign markets. We should produce what we needed, without letting any non-producer get a profit on it. found that we were producing more than we needed, we should simply reduce our hours of labor and take time to enjoy our product.

Be long as the means of productions belong to capitalists. belong to capitalists, workingmen must compete for the privilege of toiling. But when workingmen get ready, to own collectively the things their co lective labor has m tion and tnemployment and overwork and capitalist tyrauny will be at an end. Is it not worth thinking of?

MORE SERFS FOR RUSSELL SAGE.

Court Décision Expropriates Numérad:

of Minnesota Farmers in His Favor: Several hundred hard working peo-ple of Stearns County, Minussots, will now have occasion to think seriously about Socialism. The courts have de cided that 30,000 acres of land in that county, which have, for many years. been occupied and cultivated by those bona-fide settlers, legally belong to Runnell Sage of New York.

Mr. Sage has neither the ability nor he desire to cultivate or use all this land that the courts have presented him with. As for the people who have worked upon the land, improved it: and multiplied its value many times over by their years of labor, Mr. Sage will graciously allow them to continue to workupon it on condition that every year they shall pay over to him or hi o'gent a certain share—as large a share as he can extert from them—of the value of the crops they produce.

As, year after year, the hand is still further improved by their labor and as the demand for land becomes great through the increase of the popula ever performing one lots, of useful work, whether manual or mental, will be able to demand larger and larger rental from those who do the work, And if they refuse to yield to his demands he can call in the power of the government, with marshale rod, if necessary, militia and walters, to dfire them from their homes to seek and of opportunity."

If the pe to put the ple of hinnesota had voted to put the Social Democratic Party in power, had elected Social Democrats as legislators, executive officers; and brickingers and hod-carriers went on judges, that case would have been destrike for an increase in pay and the cided differently. It would have been decided that the people who worked muon the land had a right to the use of it and that no other man had apy right to levy toll'upon the product of their laior. And the whole power of the state would have been exerted to support that decision against the out rageous citims of Mr. lage and to protect the producers in the enjoyment of the fruits of their toil.

It is a pity that only about 2,000 of the people of Minnesota voted that way last fall. But they are learning, and decisions like this will help them to learn faster. Socialism is coming and the reign of parasites like Sage is approaching its downfall.

FEASTED BY THE ENEMY.

The so-called labor leaders who were direct at the Democratic Club last port of Tammany Hall this fall, and o get the workingmen to do likewise. are reckoning without their host if they believe "the labor vote" is any longer a commodity to be bought and rold in the market. They know little of the working class if they believe the experiences of years have not beaught lifter lessous that are bother remembered by increasing numbers of the working class. The "labor vote is fast becoming a class conscious vo that cannot be an apped around at the pleasure of a few labor leaders. THE DEMAND FOR BRAINS.

"The country is being ransacked for Brains, Brains, Brains," so says Chas. M. Schwab, who has enough brains to satisfy those who control the big steel trust. The other necessary commodity, that the big capitalists are looking for not mentioned by Schwab and that is meanness, meanness, meanness, Brains without meanness would be as much of a fallure as meanness out brains. The kind of brains in demand by the capitalist is the kind that can skin the people the slickest and make the people believe all the time they are not being skinned! The kind of brains in demand by the capitalist is the kind that can figure down to a cent how lik-tle a workingman can live on and june which more he can squeeze out of that workingman and not kill bim. The workingman must be kept alive, or there would be no capitalist;

You assuredly we want industrial peace. But the "Republican" offers us no way of establishing peace. We reof Patrick Henry: "Gentlemen cry 'Peace, neace," But there is no peace," When you have in acciety two classes whose constant interests are diamet rically opposed, you cannot establish learned that forly years ago. When William H. Saward declared that the stavery question involved "an irreconflict," his words were conted an the wild enthurst of an extremist by many well-meaning people who occupied a position exactly corresponding to that of the "Republican" evils attendent on slavery (as the "Republican" frequently shows that it recognizes the evils attendant on capitalisms, who immented the better strife which the slavery question had already aroused (just so the "Hepublicah" is ments these labor wars), but who, instead of advocating a ratioal settlement of the question, wanted to patch up a peace by compromising differthat A-ward was right.

To-day we have a small class, also lutely controlling industry and, through the shathy of the mans of the people practually controlling the governmen On the other hand, we have the working masses and we include all wage workers, not simply manual laborers whose lives are, in the main, one long story of everwork, anxiety, want, in sult, and disappointment. They create all; but they must give up the greater part of their product to the meless "mosters of brend," who have the poser to permit them to work or to throw them into idleness at will and to die intertaction the terms of employment. Such a condition involves an irreprevaile conflict, and no nitrangl at enforcing a truce upon terms of comion," if has been rightly said, "is over pettled until it in settled right." If we wish for industrial peace and all right-minded men must wish for it, as the workers certainly do then we must reorganize nuclety on a basis of tentire adapted to our new conditions. We must some to all the right to work and to enjoy the full fruit of their lahor, thus removing the came of class antagonisms. That is the Socialist program. On no less broad or deep a foun

A COMPRESSOR OF PAILURE.

For a frank acknowledgment of the waste of labor involved in seeking recognition for workingmen from the cines in control of the government rommend us to the following from the "Coast Beampn's Journal" of San Francisco:

"On page one of this lame w lish the memorial to President McKin permanent peace upon the bhots of a key, presented by the San Francisco compromise. Americans should have Labor Council, So far no reply have frest received; possibly, none eyer will be. However, the substance of the document has been given by the press to the people of the country, and a fe-ply from the latter may be looked for with remonable assurance. At any rate, the fact will be noted that the trade unionists of the Pacific Coast have availed themselves of the only repportunity afforded to appring the head of the government of the contiment against Ulinese and other spe-cies of Asiatic labor. The memorial was only a matter of form, perhaus: but, then, forms cut as much sigure as facts in some cases."

Now the "Journal" is one, of the mont seistent advantee of the policy of "independent political action" (inside old party lines.) It believes in the begging policy which has brought such humiliation to the organized rurkers of America, And yet note that the "Journal" confesses it does till expect any reply will be received from the memorial to the president.

The plea is made that the substance has been given by the prem to the prople of the country. What a sweet optimious it is that believes the press of this country would give out enything favorable to labor in such a form that the people would be able to form an intelligent opinion upon it! Only the inhor press would do such a thing. Thesentiment of later upon any question will receive proper attention when that sentiment is properly directed erlous Socialist itnes. At present the appeals to the ruling powers are as ineffective as the efforts to allay the effects of the cheap Asiatic labor which is flooding the Western conbecame of the new economic coud! tions following upon the new commer cial policy of the United States, and while industrial revolution.

NO CONFLICT?

Some Remarks for the Editer of the "Brickiayers" Journal" to Consider.

lays There Is "No Conflict Setwers Sopilal and Labor"-Why, Then, Are Workers and Employers Reganized to Fight Each Other?—The Class Struggle in a fact and Should Be Speeg-

Here is the way Mr. Meward Medict, editor of the "Bricklayers" and Masous' Journal," expounded the labor question at a mass meeting in Newark last

"I would have all union workingmen remember that there is no war be-tween capital and labor. Both are equally necessary, and both have rights that should be respected. Proporly organized labor does not want the rights of capital, but the rights of la her. And those righth, I trust, they will ever neck."

As if to accentuate the truth of his remarks, Mr. Mosflit in the next breath field his hourses that "the machinists are now engaged in a great struggle, and I-am glad to be able to say they are winning and winning easily."

Now it is difficult to understand why workingmen abould organize into trade unions it "there is no war between cap-ital and labor." The very act of organisation is a recognition of the exstrage of conflicting interests-tha is a war going on hetween the expitalist class and the working class.
If there was no such condict then it would be to the interest of the laborer to accept whatever conditions his employer saw fit to concede him, because identity of interests would de-mand ununimity of action. Mr. Moffitt would be the very last man to agree to such a condition of af-fairs. Ha would probably reply that the workers require organization to protect them against-what? Against capitalists, who are acting accord lug to their rights. For the continued believes he has rights and he tries also utmost to maintain and extend them. But the very maintenance and extension of these so-called rights of the the working class, whose labor is the principal commodity in which the capitalist class deals. There is a class of circuic optimists who tell us that there is work enough in the land for us all, if only we ar willing to do it; and when we are in them where it in; becames we are in terested in some poor men who cannot find it (though they have looked for it near and far, we are told, perhaps, that it is in the country, on the fare I have lived in the country myself. and have gope around from farm nd from farm to and with hired man, and I know that it is not true that there is enything like chough work in the country, on the form or anywhere elec for minried men' who to day are out of work; and as to the single men, for whom there is at certain seasons ; minud that is never fully supplied, the work is generally only for the sum nate enough to get on to a farm where he can find employment for the win ter, his wages for that half of the year are cut down to a merely nominal and Now, for the pake of the argumen

UNIONISM MOT EMOUSE

Bare you forgotten the unio think I hear someone say. Not at all. We cannot but be aware that the an nor are they in a-position to solve, the problem of poverty. And indeed, is it not than ifest that they have not solved problem even for the members of union who are in regular work. If President Pruys of the Uni blon Company were to be reduced to a salary of $2 a day for ten hours' work he would at once begin to indulge in some very practical, reflec ns about the gnawlags of povertytrouble him much to-day.

trouble him much to-day.

We have no time, now, to enter at any length late a discussion of the efficiency of unions in ensuring a decent itselfhood for the workman. But here are one or two points that we may meation in passing. The street railway strike which has so filled our thought and weighed upon our hearts and, I trust also on our cou-aciences—has shown us how difficult and how painful it is for the worker to get what he considers to be his rights from the men whose supposed right to live in luxury on the work of the poor is upheld by law, and by a militia, the chief reason for whose ex-intence has been sufficiently demon-strated here in Albany. And the time is coming when it will be seen by every union in the world, that the struggles between the unions and the empitalists do little more than apply a local, and perhaps a temporary re-edy, and that the disease of whi-strikes are an external manifestatiis too deep-seated ever to be perman-ently cured by any sort of a local ap-plication. Besides, is a protracted sight between the producer and the capitalist the wealth of the latter will almost inevitably ensure success.

No far as the worker is concerned there can be no doubt of the fact that it is to his advantage to do all in his hands of hired murderers whose risks are at symbols of the spirit of our thristian civilization. And even if the unions were always successful and every member who could get work at all could set a fair price for his la bur, they do not in any way affect the men who cannot get work; and the problem as to how we can do away with poverty remains entirely na-

After thus discussing the various palliatives offered for the social diease of poverty, Mr. Greaves forcibly expressed his conviction that the only cure was to be found in the collective ownership of the land and the other means of preduction and their use by the program of Socialism.

A CRITICAL TIME FOR LABOR.

Capital is concentrating and presenting a more united and therefore strong er front against the trade unions. A the name time the powers of government in the hands of both old parties are growing more and more servile to capitallet interests and treating the workers with greater and greater con tempt. Colleges as Scab Agencies-Man Forced to Scab Under Deputies' Rifles-A-Fight to the Finish-What Does It Teach?

College students have begun to play | NOT BE ALLOWED TO RE-ESTABup the proud role of professional scales. The machinists at the Crocker-Wheeler electrical works in New Jersey are carrying on a desperate strike for the nine-hour day and there was evidently serious damper of their winning the fight. But Columbia University, presided over by that eminent reformer. Beth Low, has come to the aid of the losses by sending down two or three dozen students to steal the jobs of the striking workmen.

Maybe some of our friends in the trade unions will still deny that there is a class struggle, even when they see this aristocratic factitution of learning transforming itself into a scale agency. There are some people who will not learn. But workingmen who are not hopelessly prejudiced will see that this incident adds one more piece that THE WORKING CLASS MUST WORK OUT ITS OWN BALVATION. THAT IT HAS NOTHING TO HOPE FOR FROM THE HUMANITY OR BENSE OF HONOR OF THE "UP PER CLASSES."

We need not blame these college boys too much. They do not realize the crime they are committing. They have been systematically taught, to, regard the wage weekers as inferior beings, fit only to labor and die, and they have been trained to no higher ideal than to look for individual success and person al advancement. THEY, CANNOT UNDERSTAND THE WORKING CLASS MORALITY WHICH RIGHT. LY TREATS SCARRING AS MORE SHAMEFUL THAN FRAUD OR

I bo't you think, you machinists, that it would be well to vote the florial Democratic ticket, all together; next election—to vote for your class interests as you are now striking for your class interests?

The members of the National Metal Trades Association are class-conscious They have firmly received to end all dealings with the union and to Aght if to a finish. Their came is to theht the strike in the larger shops, in the bullet can be recaptured. It is a good game Perhans they will win. They say they AN BACKED BY THE ENTIRE MONEYED INTEREST OF THE COUNTRY. That is not far from be ing the truth.

Perhaps they will win. Perhaps the brave machinists will lose the gallant fighi they are making for a better life and a newlest assuranch to truttee.

But whether this fight be won or lost by the workers, we know one thing: WE KNOW THAT THIS IS BUT ONE SKIRMISH IN A BATTLE THAT MUST END IN LABORS VICTORY.

"Freedom's buttle, once begun,

"Hequeuthed from bleeding sire to "Though haffied oft, is ever won."

We know that THE MACHINISTS ARR FIGHTING, NOT FOR THEM-SELVES ALONE, BUT. POR THE WORKING CLASS OF ALL TRADES AND OF ALL LANDS. We know that the bettle must be fought strenuously We know that the greater the solidar ity and resolution of the strikers, the greater the active sympathy of workmen in other trades, the greater the less inflicted upon the employers, the better will be the outcome for the machiniste and for the working class. MEN RESPECT ENEMIES WHOM THRY FRAR AS WELL AS HATE. THE EMPLOYERS ALREADY HATE THE UNION. LET THEM BE TAUGHT TO FEAR IT, TOO. Then, however this strike may end, the workers will be stronger for another buttle and the enpitalists will be less ready to provoke another.

Pinally, we know that this strike in teaching workingmen to think for thenwelves and to rely upon themselves-not ad individuals, but as a mited class. LIFE vs. PROFITS.

Some Facts and Figures for Railroad Men to Consider.

Aggidents to Relirond Employees Incrosse, Whild Socidents to Passongers Beiresse - Interesting Court Beelsiens on Employers' Liability-Cows' Lives More Sacred than Workingmen's.

There is a gruesome suggestiveties in the numerous advertisements of artificial legs and arms in the journals of the various rallway unions.

The artificial limb manufacturer know where to advertise. No vocation of life involves more danger to life and limb than that of railroading. The June number of the "Locomotive Pire men's Magasine" gives a table of train accidents for the month of March, with deaths and injuries involved. Of course train accidents cover only a part of the fatalities and casualties to which rail road men are Hable. Tet this table shows, for a single month, 42 persons killed and 130 injured in such mishaps. Thirty-three of the killed and 84 of the senger on the traible at any given time far exceeds the total number of that the number of employees killed or injured should exceed the number of passengers who were victims in the ratio of 117 to 60-almost two to one.

FATALITIES INCREASING.

A comparison with the corresponding month of the five previous years shows that the number of employees killed was the largest on record and the num-ber of employees injured was exceed ed only in one other year. Casualties to employees neem to increase, while cannottes to passengers with others fend rather to decrease in frequencyand this in spite of the fact that the total number of justicenzers carried is in-creasing faster that the total number of employees.

These figures suggest the idea that the life of an employee is reckneed much less worthy of care than that of a passenger. And it is easy to see the reason for this fact. The death or injury of a passenger in a railroad accident means a damage suit against the company, with a considerable chance of a vertice for the plaintiff. But the law is so framed by capitalist legislators and 'se interpreted by capitalist judges that it is next to impossible to compel a railroad company or any oth es employer to pay damages for the hilling or maiming of an employee at his work, It has plain fituetration of the class struggle. Capitalists form a considerable proportion of the passenunts are therefore careful to keep down the risk of arcident to passen gess. But them are no capitalists among the employees; their lives are cheap-not to be considered, when a question of profits is involved; there-fore there is only the slightest atten-tion given to securing their safety at their work.

The same issue of the "Firemen's Magazine" contains a resume of recent decisions affecting the relations workingsien and employers, four of which turn on this point of the em-ployer's Hability—or, more properly, by mon-liability—for accidents to his employees at their work. It may not be amiss to note them.

The first case is one of a freman who was injured in a collision allege to have been caused by the error of ellow servant." Another case was of an engineer kill ed it being alleged in the complaint that the company falled to employ a sufficient yard force for the safe hand-ling of trains. A New York state court ed to allow the plaintiff to intr duce evidence to prove such negligence on the part of the company. The third care was of a section hand killed in the backing of a train. The complaint alleged that the company did not adequately provide for warning men working in the rear of the train.

A. New York state court held that was incumbent on plaintiffs to show that some other and safer plan was actually in use on this or some other rand, before they could impute next gence to the company in not providing a sufer rule. That is to say, if all reads employ unsafe methods, no com-pany is to be held negligent in law: and the burden of proof is thrown ubolly on the plaintiff.

In one case only was there a ruling favorable to the pisintiff, and that on a point not likely to arise frequently to play an important part.

before the return of Dewey from

There is no doubt that if a Dewey religion at twen started and if he had been printing the head been printing in the Heaven sent Missath of Ilin statt, hundredged these sendimentalists credit have thereon investigation and the feet. Here werehippers must have herees, where a calmirrie, so plaubtes, or neters, or jetche e. As ining as we have a large discussion of the comment in deligit become, we shall have such as the contract of the contrac It is a fact-and a fact full of ill omen-that the last few years have brought, especially in this country, a great recrudenessens of superstition. Every childish delusion of antiquity, every morbid fantasy of the Dark Ages, every grotesque figment of savnice it bornnee has been revived under some new name in this land of free schools and newspapers. No belief is too pure the or too ridiculous to and devotees it only it is clothed in words horrowed from the impringe of science and se companied with vague phroses about "ineffable beauty" and "divine im-pulses" and "sternal verities." Those mystic cults are an insufferable and some to all men of eval education or of mound common seams in the present age; but they will doubtless present a very interesting subject for the selectitle historian who, in a later, day, sim! study the transition period from expi-tation to Socialism.

The amrees of this flood of a nonsense may be found in the homen-ing of the old bonds of authority, the general superficiality of education, the lifteness and emptiness of the lives of a certain portion of the people and, finally, the shifting and insecure post tion of the middle class.

It is significant that these cults draw their devoteen chiefly from the inichitecians. It is significant, too, that the French Revolution was preceded by fast such a period of fads. Parklism seems to be one of the incidental emptume-but he no means one of the essential features of a transition age. It is very true that "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing." We need not take the maxim on a poet's authority Take the maxim on a peer a directly. Thomas H. Huxley, one of the most enthusiastic advocates of popular education and one of the samest, of men. has said: "In flees times, as man big to write. Bur I peopular to I. I recently the alternative. were a necessary one, I would rather, that the children of the poor should grow up interact of both these mighty was than that they should remain by normal of that knowledge to which test that, if I thought the alternativ

We in America boast of our universal education We have little resuperficial as it is wide-spread. Properly it is not education, but merely is adequate instruction. And this is four. not only of the poor, but, in quite aggreat a degree, of the middle class

The first effect of partial instruction is to-give the learner an confidence in the powers of his individ-tal mind. The buff-instructed pass at ways tituke himself profoundly wise. Add to this, that a general but very in departs knowledge of the wanders the apparent miracles-disclosed by selence has, in the absence of scientille training, an almost inevitable tendency attenuate creduity People who have rend newspaper accesses of the facetires man readily believe a street rakir who shows them for five cents a seep) here to see through a brick send and buried ancestors at so much per head.

This is a general tendency But among the working people it is largel communication face to face with facts, beening their lives are compara-tively free from sham, and because they have better business than moon ting around waiting for 'bevul' mani-festations' or cultivating hysteria and latincinations.

With the middle class it is different.

With the mindle gines it is directly theny of them empecially, as Mr Casson remarks, of their women have live of "praction" consern to occupy their minds, and they have no tractions study or a curate though? They fall an casy levy to pempenolyphrased payable into, nebulious continuous plies and a sort of Sestard eathers chun.

But there is a further stimulus is this quisestingtendelsey in the middle class.
The econosiste changes that are going on and the consequent motal changes

the ground shifting under their feet. They am no temper cure of any of the old fulths or cuntoms or habits which once served their purposes. The forces that are so shaking their little world are where them and nepeats them wouldern mithin those eight. They are like Alice after she current the White Hab-bit's burrow; "oversthing comes out different" and they cannot understand. So they groups wildly about for nonne-thing to than to; they chase straws and set out to find the pot of gold under the rainbow. In a world where noth ing is any more intelligible to them they naturally find, the absurdest things quite credible

In a word, just as Christianity came ean "religion of consolution" to the op-treamd . Sasses, of jusperial itoms, so the various forms of "occultion" - the esophy, spiritualism, "Christian Belof commission to the perturbed little bourgools of to-day. Christianity had lived became the oppressed classes have persisted and have always been oppressed, "Occultism" will die when the middle class shall disappear... He far as they are concerned, it would be futile to discuss remedies

But insofar as the working people are, by contagion, afflicted with this strange delirium, there is occasion for serious concern. For them it can serve no good and does untold harm. Among them it should be fought by preventive and curative measures.

Nomeon's his well said that "the cure for the cvibs of liberty is more liberty."

It is equally true that the cure for the evils of superficial education is there ough editation. There are many—we reed cits only Schwali among capitalsts sigd Coler-among politicians, who pour need to, in effect, the old "three Ra" plus recipies i raining. Against these observanters all haters of supersition and especially all Socialists must raise their voice. Not only must we guard fact as well as open in theory to every third in the land; we must insist on its That every person be given the oppur in the schools, the colleges, and finally the technical or professional institute. This may be a distant ideal. But will be appearehed only as we keep it in view and strive for it.

In the meantime, focialists can do good practical work in their limited reid by circulating good books and paterm, by encouraging the study of real their agitation. by sittletting close to trees and carefully avoiding "guals" and the pirases.

Mr. Casson's book is waiten in a lively, readable, and vigorous style. St should have a wide circulation, for it

A great change of feeling is going on in Spain. No country in Europe has, until very revenity, been more completely under the control of the reactionary elergy. But the last few, saintils have been marked by a greaf revolt against elericalism. An incurace of this is shown by the following dispatch from basedons. Inner the control of Marrelona, June 6:

"The anti-Clerical drama 'Mectea. which has been placed under bun by the church, was performed here last pight with immone success. The audience continually chosed and interrupted the actors with shouts of 'Long live liberiy,' 'Death to reaction,' 'Death' to trell-suits.' Pulsoquently, a republi-cial demonstration was organized in the street, and these who took part in it paraded the main thoroughtare!"

THE NEW LABOR LYCEUM

as Assessed for the Fotors Solve o Brooklyn's Labor Organizations.

We present to our readers a picture of the new building for the Brooklyn Labor Lyceum Association, a club-home for all the different unions and labor ogranizations. The old Lyceum was destroyed by the a few months ago, and it is now the intention of the Association to replace it with a new and much better building. Out of the animed by the building committee, it was decided to accept those drawn by the well-known, architects, Richard Jahn & Co. of Brooklyn and the Assodation agreed to give them full power to proceed with the work.

The haiding will have a frontage of high insement dwelve feet and three upper stories of fourteen feet each ile the clear. A seven-foot passageway is left at the westerly side for exit from the grand ball-room and dining-room below. The rear half of the outler building contains the grand ball-room and concert hall, running through from first to account story, and to be about thirty feet clear in height, which will only make this rear part two stories in height above the basement. The architecture of the front is in German renaissance and classic style. which will give a fine effect. The base ment and first story will be of granite and indiana limestone, and the upper stories of light brick, and terra cotta tfinimings. . " The inside arrangement of the differ

THE PURPOSE OF SOCIALISM.

How the Development of Machinery Makes Social Ownership Necessary.

BY C. R. BAVIS.

Everything that is new and peculia to the present arrangement of society, called capitalism, grew out of, and wars to expand the markets; the coflicts of capital and labor that are fast and clearly drawing the lines between the tool-owning and the tooliess class; the paradox of poverty in the midst of plenty—that an Booner have we created alundance than the capitalist tells us that, through the glutting of the market, a panic has been created, and h turns us out tuto the highway to "roof, hog, or die;" that, after suffering the terments of bell through the panic, he tells us after the panic hi over he'll give us another chance to produce more abundance to glut the market again tion, he tells us all this is our reward nore they receive a smaller part of all they produce; the estrage, that every improvement in machinery to save la-bor, forces the attendant of such machine to expend greater exertion for the same wages; all these, and a thousand and one more, originate from the vate or rapitalist property.

Though as a basis, this is the quetion of all questions, still the press, pul-pit, and restrum are as slient as so keep before the working class. The expitalist class dure not touch it. The) knew when the wage workers become enlightened on this question the ruling class will be forever doosed.

short life. For they soon saw it was folly to smash machinery in the face of a volley of hot lead.

2. Then came the longest, and one of the most important, periods. In this they tried, and are still rrying, to regulate the owner of the machine. Their eyes seemed to be no longer on the machine, but on its owner. They, thought, and still think, they could make the owner, the capitalist, dis-gorge more of the profits of the nat-chine. They were forced to organize into trade unitons. They never one-questioned the outifalist's claim to "his sacred rights of private property in the machine." They invented the weapons of the strike, howcorf, and in-tel, and were contented with the right to use only these weapons in fightism, the capitalists. They recognized the right of the owners of the machine to take the biggest part of their hide, but at times they brought out the strike and hoycut to force their employer?!

the wage clien being the majority, they are the public. And we must bear a mind tint all outside of our class wi mind runt an outside of our chain will oppose any such program as this. When private ownership has brought faintons blessings to the capitalists, it is unreasonable to expect them rollinturily to immender the machine. The cupitalist class has already taken a bold stand that they will surrender nothing unless they are forced to by the wage workers. Hence our eman cipation through public ownership can only come through the intelligent action of our class.

But it is asked, "How will we get the uidle ownership?" That which is fa the benefit of the majority is right and should be enforced. This principle is as old as democracy itself. As the wage class has the majority wherewith to capture the government, their first act is to capture, this government mes will be forever doorsed.

This being of such paramount in: portance to our class, the wage work eric fet us take a peap into the history of machinery. We might divide it into tour parts

1. The appearance of machinery was halfed with delight by the working than. By being taken into the confidence of the capitallots, their conditing minds helbeved them when they were told that machiners. is but a few polantes of very light work hours of tell and give them more of the good things of this life. This period did not last long, as they scoul discovery send of the government, it would not be the controlled to the controlle did not last long, as they save discutered the file of the capitalists.

2. When they saw their stommelts got less food as the machine grew harger, then, in their labralessen, they intruded to smashing it. This, too, had tion. And these are often men wan hold out in an empty-helifed strike for months, fighting thatling guns with sticks.

Let our watchword be "Ou, on or to the ballot-box and capture the ma-chine." This, in brief, is the purpose of the Social Democratic Party.

"On the other hand, we have bee nized that our platform should not consist merely of a set of demands or propositions, chosen, as is commonly the case with so-called reform parties and 'labor parties,' simply for the purclements, but not consistently determined by any central purpose

"We have accordingly, in drawing up this program, held in view the fact that the purpose of our movement is not herely the reforming of abuses and the amelloration of conditions, but the complete transformation of exist ing capitalist society into a Co-opera-tive Commonwealth. We have kept in mind the further fact that the con-quest of the political power in a single city or even in a single slate would not enable us to carry out in its complete-ness this, our ultimate object. We have considered also, that while our purpose is revolutionary, it is not to be expected nor, perhaps, desired, that its reali-zation will come in a slagic sudden act of revolution; that on the contrary, it will be effected by a gradual process the politically organized working class winning city after city and state after state, and ultimately the national gov-erument itself, and seizing every opportunity that shall be found or that can be made to lay, so to speak, the foundations of the Socialist state and in that very process, to relieve the suf-

A SHAMEFUL VERDICT.

One of the saddest features of our commetitive exercise to that the worship ney and the contempt for the lives of workingmen does not prevail among justile. And that resolution should mean the great capitalists alone, but that it infects the whole-middle ciass and even, to a deplorable satent, the working class itself. This redection is stugreated by the amounding verdict brought in by the jury in the Alice

" If the news of more recent crimes against workingmen have not driven that murder out of mind, our readers will remember that, about four months non. Charles Gole, a workingman hunt ing for a job, found himself starvins and penuliess, went into a Bowery mission restaurant, gut a cup of cuffee and a how valued at all courts, and then explained that he could not pay fut them; he was assaulted by the fou men composing the staff of the place and thei simust instantly as a result of the attack.

Confirmation of Socialist contenti that the present prosperity means misery for a multitude come from strange places at times, but they do come nevertholess. For instance, the movement started by a New York akierman to men and women of New York City to the fields of Kanssa and other Western states to help harvest the crops." This announcement contains the acknowledgement of two facts, first, that there are 5,000 mes and women out of work in this city, and, second: that this number is only a part of the unemployed In that acknowledgement are all the pretensions of the press and politicians dispelled. But what an appalling con dition of affairs does not this reveal: Try to imagine what it means to without the means of livelihood in a nince like New York Olty this time of year. Think of the sweltering, murderons heat, the stifling atmosphere, publican party nominate Hanna for the het pavements that fry the feet, the torturing thirst that cannot be quepch ed, the restless alopp upon park beachen. Think over this, feel it if you are not dead to all feeling and then cease to wonder why spicides are increasing every daty.

And what do the high priests of pros purity offer an an ansidute for this? Nothing lent arrivous labor on sunsecrebuit Kaning harvest fields with long hours and shamefully poor wages. But it is anything to get the troublous once away from New York, although the movement itself disproves the oft repeated charge of capitalism's cohorts that the unemployed will not work !! they get a chance.' Would the philauthropic promotion of this scheme unwould not giadly accept this opportunpeet it to succeed if the out-of-works fly to earb a living?

At this time, while the watering places and mountain resorts are crowd ed with those whose vacations, with all that they tuply, are spent at the expense of the overworked laborers and the wretched waits loft behind in the cities, every Socialist should resolve to work harder than over for the cause that will make such conditions imposmuch of mennee to a system that has little of anything but audering and shame for millions of human beings to commend it.

It is very fitting that the men who pardered poor Charles Gale because he could not pay for his six went lunes should have been defended by that de pleable renegade. Hugh O. Penterest. He argued that Gale was not killed by the brutal assault, but that he died of heart disease which, by a curious coindence, seized him at the very momen when he had been knocked down, beaten, kicked; had thrown out on the sidewalk by these "mission" employees, No danger of Pentucost dying of heart

PRIMARY OWNERSHIP TAKEN PUR-LIC OWNERSHIP.

The Benver "Times" says: "A gigantic scheme is under way to transfer the railroads of the United States to the government. A Western Amendier de clared that within a few years Bocke feller, Harrimen, Vanderbilt, Gould, and Morgan interests would turn over to the government every the of ratirond in the country, the government to pay the total value of $10,000,000,000, a string of banks to be controlled by the same interests and to fluence the deal."

While this is far from being an aumoritative statement of fact, it is perhaps a shrowd enough guess at the probabilities of the near future. It is hardly to be supposed that there is any such definite plan formed, as yet, by Mesers. Bockefeller, Mergan, and the rest. But when through the growing aggressiveness of the labor movement, the difficulties of profitable railroad management have been increased and when, through the growth of Socialist thought, the magnates begin to be afraid of losing their uncarned properties, we need not be surprised to have just such a proposition made-and that. in all likelihood, not through the Deinotrats or "reformers." but through the orthodox empitalist erganization, 'the Republican party.

When that time comes, the voice of the Bocinlists will be beard, pointing out very clearly, and to the great au novance of the expitalists, the radical difference between Borialism and state expitalism, between public ownership for the public service and public ownerable for class' profit, between the Co operative Commonwealth as advocated by the Social' Democratic Party and "Government & 'Co., Limited," as 't will then be adversared by the political agents of the exploiting class.

There is an old Latin maxim, "Si duo idem factuat, non est idem"-which, being interpreted, meann: "If two per gons do the same thing, it is not (necessarily), the same thing." This is very true when applied to politics. The same proposition may be made by two parthe representing different classes and therefore inspired by different principles and ideals. Their purposes in making this proposition will be different-perhaps opposed. It will therefore be of the utmost importance that their purposes, their principles, their ideals, as well as their practical propositions. be fully understood by the people, th order that an intelligent choice may be made. in the matter of public ownership, for instance: The Social Democratic Party, representing the expinited wagenorking class and holding the ideal of human solidarity, advocates public ownership as a means of putting as and to exploitation and class rule. But It is quite conceivable that, under circumutances which may arise within the next too years, the Republican party, representing the capitalist class and holding the ideal of plutocracy. might also advocate public ownership tof curtain gigantic industries, at leasts -but with the exactly opposite purpose of perpetuating exploitation and class rule. Let the government buy the rule roads for say $10,000,000,000, giving bunds for that amount, and then runuing the rallepada for profit to pay the interest on the boads. That would be and we have only to a very natisfactory enrungement for calculation in applying that law. We the reliaved of all responsibility and their swing in accordance with that law as we are that the san will give on schoolprofits would be assured. But the rall road sworkers webbid not profit by the change. Public ownership established by the Social Democratic Party would read can tell just how much he should be suite a different affair. The disposbe quite a different affair. The disposseared owners might be paid something (provided they submitted grace fully to the inevitable) - not as compele : eation justly to be claimed, but as a late its speed; the graner can jell just mounts of avaiding unpercentary friction m-just as the Southern sieveholders would have been paid had they consulted to emancipation instead of fighting" hopelessky stubies will attempt at the But, however that might he, not the memorit to deny those actentive permishent income would be pentrud to perminent income would be sentred in a physiciat as "marrow, intolerant, un-the farmer owners of the railroads and christian, and un-kinerican," for he the ludustry would be carried on, not on the basis of profit-making, but with | gn, are absolutely correct. THE TERRORIST MOVEMENT.

But industrial evolution proceslowly in Russia and the city projets. int, while gradually increasing, was still too ineignificant to lead strength to the landership of the intellectuals. And the young hotspurs, impatient and enraged, answered the Incomest oppression by the government with re volver and dynamite. The chief of Kravichinsky. Prince Krapotkin, gov ernor general of Kharkoff and father of Peter Krajiotkin, was shot. The "Will of the People" with its famous les and the government ended in the killing of Alexander II, on March 13,

Tear killing, however, is a dange and, moreover, very modess sport, as the terrorists learned to their disadvan-tage. Hard and bitter lessons they had to study under the despot's avenge. The reaction eclebrated the same up-Paris Commune, and the blood of in nocente flored in streams.

THE LATEST PHASE

Hereliess of the joys and sufferin of an upward striving nation, even evalution went its slow and measured course. Capitaliam and a lourgeousle gradually arose, but also their impla entile similaw, a class conscious prof mrint. A strike here, a labor riot there, were the little atoms it administered to emphasium and through it, to Tagricu. Labor organizations appeared on field. The strikes grew in dimension until on June 2 1807, 44,000 Laborers M. Petersburg was their first indus-trial battle and carried their demand for a welking day of eleven and a half ory Owners, by Proposed "Volum tory Reforms," Admit the Atrocity of Ohild Labo.

The tearlie manufacturets of Georgia have at hat awakened to the iniquite of overwork and child labor in the mills, and in order to save any further have started out to remedy the matter themserves. As a smult the deergis industrial Association recently adopt of resolutions pledging the numbers not to work their employees over BLX-TY-BLX HOURS A WEEK. Turther they also promise: That no child less than twelve years old shall work at night in any cotton or woollen mill under any circumstances, and that he child less than twelfy years old shall he allowed to work therein at all unless he answers to work thereon at an unnes-such child him a withowed mother or physically disabled parents who are dependent the support upon the labor of such child, or baless the child can read or write, or unless the child attends school for four months of each calendar year; and provided further that no. shild under ten years of age shall be permitted to work in any succe mill or factory under any circuit.

The adoption of these recolutions in what the New York "Times" calls "step in the right direction." It is cortainly very encouraging to know that children twelve yeers old will only be "permitted" to work in the day time, when they might be playing in the mushine-but hold! are the e! lidren of the poor expected to play? Then it is a genuine relief to know that no child under ten years of age will be "per mitted" to work in the utills of course. if the children under ten or twelve break into the factory and insist upon Now what we want to know set If I working either during the night or day be empirished. man, as Mr. Blaby alleges, how will those same capitalists be able to "pay The Georgia manufacturers are following this course to forestall "bestle legislation." Not that they are partic ularly affeated of hostile legislation, because they know that nogalied labor laws are rarely enforced, but it is in convenient to have a factory importer noting around and sometimes it is ex-posite simi. Factory inspectors with the "welfare of capital and labor at er wagen and to give much more to charity in the bargain, and yet to live in comfort, if not in luxury, And the heart" must receive suitable reward and recognition for their aritions in-lant, It is also much easier for the manufacturers to adopt resolutions which they clin, readily forget when necessity demands then to inculence while preparing his fecture, to inventi-gate the facts for himself, to study the census reports, and to do his "figuring" for himself, he would have known that of the net value created by infor every year in the inaudiacturing industries discoupert for authority among the pro-bresking a law The action of the Georgia manufacture turers does one thing, however: It sub-stantiates every charge made against them as rathless murderers of little citilites, upon whose firsh and blood they prosper. They acknowledge that their prosts have been made at the cost of blighted childhood, that their prosperity has been wrought from the borrors of a measure of the innecests This foul acknowledgment is one of the proofs that there is a class street gis, that the interests of the capitalis class and the working class are no Jantanti

It'le valuable also as a remin the working class that child labor, overmork, and starvation wages are the logical outgrowths of the capitalist system, and that only the inauguration of Socialism—the collective ownership of all Judgatriy—will see these swils landshed from the workers' lives.

It is either Socialism or stavery!

PLUTOCRATIC IMPERIALISM.

"If only we could have a free hand; For my part, I put more confidence in one thinking workingman than in ten much theorists as Mv. Bixby and that in why I nuspect laspectors, free from eleminal suspectors, free from school board inspectors. from home office imperiors, what enor mosts economics could be effected," Thus spoke Mr. Arthur Chamberlain as a meeting of Kynocha, Limited, last work, and there breathed the true spir-it of the modern imperialism. What aconomies we could effect, if only we could do as we liked with our "hands." if we had had none of this grandmoth erly legislation which seems to have ned that human beings were act unity of more account than hardware, and that life is more precious than cheap explosives or quick-firthy gues; What do the working classes want is what they were sent by a beneficent Providence into the world for No ed-ucation, no manifation to leisure, no recreation, for the masses of the peo-ple, only the dull round of factory life, pie, only the dust result of tarmery life, from the no dark from the cradle to the grave. That is the ideal of the pinterrate imperialist of to-day. In conjunction with the fact that this is Fourth of July week, this "hot wave" suggests ome remarks on that declaration, have provided, which was spouted by politicians and school-boys all over the country last Thursday, that "All men are born free and equal."

Nothing serves so well as some uni rereal columity-excessive heat or cold, g famine or a plague-to expose the horrible inequality that actually exists. It tears away all the nice, pretty masks by which we hide the fact of social inequality and injustice.

Ten days of excessive heat. That is all. A mere freak of the weather. But in this city of New York alone it has meant hundreds of sudden deaths, and unrounted hundreds, of cases o health forever ruined-and, not tem norary physical suffering alone, but lasting sorrow and hearinche for thousands upon thousands of bereaved purents and orphaned children.

Were we savages, roaming through the woods or over the plains, this would not be so. Why should ten degrees difference in temperature be so much more disastrum to a civilized nmunity than to a myage tribe?

Because our civilisation, ballt upon lass-rule and organized for private profit, robs the majority of our people of the opportunities of savage life and gives them next-to nothing of the benefits of science and invention.

Read the death-lists in the New York papers. Note the quarters of the city where they occur. Are they on Fifth Avenue? Are they on Central Park West? Are they in any of the places where the OWNERS of the city live? No. With comparatively few exceptions they are in the tenement districts. where the MAKERS of the city dwell,

A great deal of mandlin sympathy with the poor is being ponced out just now. They are so sorry, those men who own the factories and the tenements, that their simployees and their tenants suffer. They are willing-provided it does not cost them too much exertion, this hot weather-to "do something" for the poor. Yes, if necesenry, they are willing to do almost anything except—except the one thing that they must be made to do-EXCEPT TO CEASE LIVING AT THE EX-PENSE OF THE WORKINGMEN AND THUS MAKING THEM POOR. There is no reason in justice nor in nature why a factory should not be made as .comfortable as a business

There is no reason why workingmen. should have to toll ten or twelve hours a day whenever they get permission to work.

There is no reason why all the devices of science and ingenuity should not be used for the comfort and health of the whole people, instead of for a small class sione.

There is no reason why the people who do the productive labor should have to live in crowded, unventilated, ill-drained fenements, along narrow, dirty streets, without so much as glimper of bine sky or green trees.

There to no reason why the working prople should have to deny themselves every laxury, often to suffer actual hunger, to become old men and womey at forty, through overwork, anxiety, and hardship, and at last to be turned off, like worm-out horses, to drag out their lives in pauperism and shame.

Considering the advance that has been made in ecleuce and invention, there is no reason in justice or in nature why these things should be on-But they are so. And the only reason is that the capitalists own the means of production and lavy tribute upon the product of the workers.

The capitalists are willing to conlong at the workers are willing to endure if. The Social Democrats declare that all this must be changed. We want real freedom, equality, and fraternity. We want he more exploitation and no more charity. We want so more idle rich and no more working poor, '.We want it to be impossible for any one to say: "As usual, the greatest suffering Was among the working prople."

The "Times," commenting on the effects of the exequate heat, says: "The lucion." We opine that the editors and peperters of the "Timed" have never handled nick and shovel under the in stifling workshops with the mercury at 100 degrees in the shade, never tried to sleep in a New York tenement house on a summer night. These people know nothing of the sufferings of the working class, and it is hardly to be expect ed that they should care much. Their sympathics always go out more read!'y to horses and thurs than to workingmen. If the working people wish to they must resolve to free themselves.

INDIVIDUALE, CLASSES, AND CONTRACT.

Every Socialist recognises that Individual capitalists can no more be held responsible for the injustice and oppression of the capitalist bystem than can individual reformers be counted upon'to abolish that system. Neither the workingman nor the expitalist, we know, is free to live up to his own best ideals of duty. It is needless to point out how the poor man who is dependent upon daily wages for his very exlatence is forced to do things that his own conscience condemms. But it is cany to see that the same thing is true of the rich man who lives he the most

Not a few members of the capitalist class recugnize that the present system is unjust and unresconable even that ther would themselves lie happier in of these espitalists do? Let him be ever so willing to do justice entire'y or dartially-to his municipees, be knows that just so soon as he begins. for instance, to pay them wages materially higher than are "justified" by the conditions of the labor market in his trade, fust so soon will be become unable to held his own in competition, pulotis and kind-bearted, and that if he persists in such a course he will in a short time be forced to give up his the days go by be quoted as under hundayes and turn his men upon the The individual alayeholder inthe old South could do little enough in lemening the evils of chattel slavery, and surely the working class is h though many of them clearly saw and , regretted those evils. Yet he could do amething: He could not abolish sizvery, but he could, even in spite of law, contrive to emancipate his own slaves. But the capitalist, as an individual, annot do even that much. To emancipate his own wage-slaves is only to throw them into the power of another master, and purhaps a worse one.

The o'll system initiones itself upon all, whether they like it or not. But is thin a reason for excueing the card fallst clam, which, as a clam, however a few of its members may feel, always nterests and by any means that will serve, fair or foul, seeks to maintain its union nower? Nevertheless, the "News" hantend fo mert that "the party which comerce burning oun, never bent over machines the interests of the mass of the people and is not in bondage to the capitalist class is the Demicratic party, and this in well understood among the rank and tile of the working class." Therefore, with few exceptions, the workingmen will not render aid to the Republicans by florking into the Socialist ranks, but will rate the straight municipal ticket, mindful of the fact that it is only at Tammany's hands that the municipal government will be administered in the mass of the people." Yoting for Hanford because he is a trade unionist would be "paying him a dear compilment," because it "would take away votes from the Democratic candidate who really stands for the muses and thus contribute at least negative support to the nominee of the classes," a contingency which should not worry the "News," owing that Tansanny is going to win anyhow This acticle is interesting innamuch

IL-WHY STUDY BOOMOMICS.

Economics is the study of systems by which wealth has been and is now produced and distributed. If ought to be evident to any one that an under-amenting of Sectionles is necessary to any class that would defend its own interests. But since there are some people who, either ignorantly or dispently, object to anything of the nort, I shall try, in this article, to prove the truth of what I have mid In the first place, & saget be evident to every workingman that he and has

Pocialist agitation by declaring that blatory gives us no examples of an enproduce two or three or four times as much wealth as they receive back in the form of wages. They work hard all their lives and make only a living, and a poor living at that, for themselves and their families. They are not allowed the opportunities of education cation or leteure for the enjoying the goods things of life. Whenever t are not free for a time from the but den of increasant and painful toll they are prevented from enjoying their lebure by the haunting tear of want. The spectres, want and fear pursue them through life. They sell haed and live prodely, year after year, in the hope of giving a hetter thance to their chil-dren. And at last they are domied dren. And at last they are downed to see those children start out on the

The por-criy of the working class is not cause ! by lariness, drunkenness and extra againer Only samethnonions hypocritic pretend that it is so. Nor is this por erty necessary in the nature of things Not half of the insural resources of the world are developed; no. not : touth, nor a hundredth part. inventions of humann genius are abl to multiply the productive powers innor almost indefinitely

It is evident, then, that the pove of the workers residts from th tice of the system of production distribution. An additional proof this is furnished by the fact it wherever extreme poverty exwealth-exists side by side

If, then, the economic system is ing to the working people, it is dentify the interest and the duty of working people to understand that tem in order that they may abolish a injustices.

For it is senseless to expect these wrongs to be righted by the efforter the class which profits by them. 'No instance can be cited in all bishery which a ruling class has voluntied, given up its privilege of living by or, er men's labor. Whenever any has been become really free it has done so by its own class-conspicies effect

And it is equally renseless to exper-things to got better by themselves, 11(s tory does not move by accident. The present system is consciously main tained by those who enjoy its privi leges. It will continue until it is over And it is not enough to be dissatis

A PLAN FOR UNION.

Proposed Outlines for Organizati the United Party.

The appropring Unity Choweston, to be held at Indianapolia, July 32, has given rise to a number of plans for union. The one thus far most advanced is known as the "Strobell plan." In a critician recently published in the various party papera, I pointed out the fact that this plan provided for expense. arate organizations in each state, in-stead of a untileation of them. It is, however, not sufficient to show the falincies of proposed plans. It is neces-iary to offer some proposition which, if adapted, would effect the unification of the various factions, nationally and locally, and at the same time it is necessary to overcome the obstacles which now exist. The plan must not remnifers; must be positivable, sin-ple, inexpensive, and above all things, must milfy the factions. I submit the following, believing that the above points are all entisfactorily provided

1. The affairs of the party shall be conducted by the National Executive Committee, the state cummittees, the locals, the national, state and local conyen .ms, and the general vote of the party.

2. The N. E. C. shall be comof one member from each state who shall be elected by and from the mem-bership thereof, together with a aparum of seven members to be elected by and from the mambership of the

2. The members of the N. E. C. shall continue in office for one year, provided that, each state shall have the power to recall the member elected therefrom, and provided that the local electing the quorum shall have the power to recall any or all members of said querum, and provided that the term of office of the querum shall ex-pire at any time that the sout of the N. R. C: may be-removed at hervinalter provided.

4. The National Convention skall appoint the seat of the N. E. C. which may be removed at any time by a majority vote of those mounters of the M. E. C. who have leven elected by the several states, subject to the approval of the party.

S. Upon demand made by five or more members of the N. E. C. any busi ness transacted by the N. E. C. in sussion shall be submitted to the culture N. R. C. for their endomenant or re-jection. The votes of meditors of the N. E. C. who impresent states may be taken by currespondence.

6. Whenever there are five locals in any one costs, they shall form a state organization to be known as the Blate. Committee, which shall be governed in according as the locals may provide. The state committees shall receive blank charters from the N. E. C. and cals, provided that such power may intence of the state committees:

7. Any number of persons subscribing to the platform of the party and who belong to no other political party, may form a local. The party shall at all times have the right by means of the referendum, to act on any propo-tion, and annul the acts of its office

The reader will perceive that the above is a draft or skeleton for a con-stitution, and that the duties and pow-ers of the H. E. C. and of the state limited, as the party deems best. Thu we have a national executive commit-tee which may be comoved or directed by the membership which in its turn may remove the quorum by changing the next of the N. H. C.

If the quarum or the local at the seat of the X. E. C. are inharmonious or in capable, the power can be taken from them with ease and dispatch. Notthe will kiral armentar or favor for indi

Monongahela River Consolidated Conand Coke Company controls all the river mines in the district. This means all the mines which ship their produc by way of the rivers. The Pittaburg Coal Company controls all the railroad mines. Although operating separately they are practically the same, and they control every mine in the district, and through them every miner. Soon after the Coal Trust was organized the offi-cials organized the "Federal Supply Company, under a separate charter. This organization has stores all through the coal regions, and furnishes all the necessaried of life supplied to the miners. It is supposed to be independent of the coal company, but failure to deal out a portion of the wages barned in the mines at the company stople results in no work. In som-mines, the store cuts up all that is left over the house resit. The rule is to customers in the store, than the single men, who buy only their supplies of powder, etc., in the 'supply," as it is onlied."

It would surprise the miners of Peup sylvania how much time, energy, and money they would save if they protest ed at the bullet-last by voting the So ed at vac cialist ticket.

THE ACTOR AND HIS ART.

New Commerciation Represses Senius in the Dramatic Field.

McClaston Descinment, a Paris jour-nalist and international gassiper, re-cently continued a course of lectures upon "The Consemplements Bange" at the Berkeley University. In his fourth lecture he said: "While I lette ted boss in this country long emutals of the whether it is rese, there the to know whether it is true here, the greatest problem which the European world must face to-day in the division between inher and capital. This social problem is now the one which is most closely engrossing the attention of relations. The poor man of to-day is not natisfied with charity. He does not want to be a dependent upon the bounty of the rich. Of course, it was to be expected that fiterature which reflected life should take as a theme these arcial problems. The great Victor Huge has preached mercy and gen crosity to the rich and the dignity of labor for the poor. New social prob-lems have come to take their place in the therms of the great dramatists of day. It is only natural that in the French theatern, which receive support from the state, such problems should not be discussed with transment. So it is that the beginning of notial problems in French literatur was not made in the Comedic Fran caine and other subsidized theaters.

The editor of The Worker has saked cabins and cut all the wood they need no to write one or ewo build papers of for fires. By degrees a great many of them realized that they must work, bo arrungements were made between them and the landowners.

The landowners were as bad off as the freedmen. Without labor their lands were worthless and a drug in the market. They had no farming in plements, no stock, no provisions fo their families, and no money with which to buy may. All their cash had been turned into Confederate notes or bonds, which were now worthless. There was nothing to be bought except in the North. When the Northern mar-ket was asked for credit the only security he would accept was a mortgage chant explained, that, no crops and prices frequently failed, it would be necessary to pay him a heavy bonus for taking the risk. I have been told that the bonus usually amounted to from 50 to 100 per cent, of the credit fewired. If a crop failed no more cred t could be obtained unless the limit innew contract.

CARPET-BAG RULE.

The difficulty of getting labor and the difficulty of getting money supplemented by another thing kn by the name of "Carpet long Rule," Carpet long rule was the reign of ad-venturers made possible by the aud-den enfranchisement of the former slaves and the coincidental disfranchisement of such large numbers of the whites. Clouds of these adventurers swarmed into the revently saisined territory, each bringing his carthly pos-mensions in a curpet hag. They were from "Marse Lincom's" land, and that, was enough for the negroes. They this simply for what they could make out of the distracted condition of the counvoters. GROUND BROKEN

For the New Brooklyn La-Bor Lyceum.

Work on the Erection of the New Home for Brooklyn's Organized Prointeriot' Formally Begun on the Fourth of July.

On the afternoon of the Fourth of July ground was formally broken for the new Brooklyn Labor Lyceum, The xercises were witnessed by a la go and enthusiastic crowd, comprising delegates and numbers of the Social Democratic Party, the Brooklyn Central Labor Union, the Workingmen's Blck and Beath Hesefit - Association other organizations of the working class. The place was gay with the rel flags of the various bodies interested in the events. A better day could not have been desired and after the opemive heat which had gone before e workingmen and their families on joyed the resplie to the full.

Shortly after one o'clock, Gottfried Weble, the president of the Labor Ly-ceum Association, called the assembly to order and briefly autounced he pur pose-to celebrate the breaking of ground for the new home of the organplace where the workingmen and ized working class of Brooklyn, the working women of the city should meet for their class conscious p. littent action, for the defense of their conwata in the daily trade-union recreation, for the education of their children into loyal and useful members

CAPITALIST PROSPERITY.

Now Supposed to Be Hovering Over Kansas Wheat Fields.

Mislanding Stories of Unlimited Changes of Employment-Presperity Riways Somewhere Else-The Double Purpose of the Sumors.

Just at this time the newspapers are giving widespread publication to the report that men can get work in the hansad harvest firsts for $8 a day This occurs periodically, when the Kanmis wheat crop turas out well and the furniers find theimseves "short-maid-While the politicans deserve as much credit for a successful wheat crop as they do for a much needed cool wave, get the occasion is select upon as one reflecting the general existence of prespectity.

. They evidently do not stop to adder that it is a poor prosperity that one present but one pince is all the country where incorers are in demand and wages $3 a day-that in if speli be the case in Kausas, and there is room for doubt upon the matter. Con-ceding that the reports be true, it only established hauses as the exception that proves the rule of memployment

The press writers are also telling us that there is no excuse for idle work ingmen remaining in the cities, whisuch inducements for employment ex lat in the Western state. Only an in born inclination to bad can account to men turning their backs grown a gold or ertupity to inhor at which wages r doing so but substitutiates the the ity that they are victions of their own shiftiessues and a lamentable lack of energy. Thus runs the argument of the deniers in current suphistical misrep rem lituthau.

These assertions can be answered in s few words. Surpass that all the unemployed workers in the cities, or even a small port on of them, whould migrate to Kansas. What would be the result? Nothing else than an overcrowding of the Eanua harvest fields, and the in-evitable fall of, wages-to the Jowest ievel desired by the farmers, who, like other employers, want to buy labor as cheap as possible. The poor expectant devise who would harry from all quarters to Kannan, would not only have to work for far cap than they had hoped for, but they would probably be lacky if they got work at any price they might offer to sell their labor for. And it is this very condition that the originators and vendors of the deluding reports in question seek to bring about in the interest of the troubled authoridaws on the country. It is a acheme no it is an ful in its results to the efrayed and d'appointed seekers for

Again, it is no inducement to men or those of farm life, to go to Kansan or any other farming state and perform the labor required of helpers and harvectors. To people accustsued to working indoors at certain basks, lifelong application to which has rendered them practically unfit for anything clos, it be terrible toribre to be thrust into a harvest field and with bent back foll day n till dark. Harder and more dis piriting later than this cha senger be found, especially to the utinitiated. There's little running and much stem reality about it, and those who doubt it should try it. There would be less

SITUATION IN DAYTON.

Trede Unions Unable to Resist Manufeeturers' Combination -- Socialism Remains as the Only Remedy. .

The atuation at Dayton is anything but plending from a trade-union stand point. The men made a long and hard that against the united attack of the manufacturers, but the latter has every advantage on their side.

The machinists are voting to go back to work at the employers' terms. The Duvin Newing Assettine Co. agreed to take back all its old men at the old terms with the asception of two "agitators," and the union decided to sulmit. The two victims are officers of

Ger Manager Kirby boldly amountees he will make this a test case and will getablish the individual liability of mentions for damages resulting fro acts of the union. Of course, compara tively few workingmen, in the unions or out of them, have properly to be levied on; but if the company carries its point this will just another legal weapon in the hands of the capitalists for the persecution of workingson who dare to resist oppression

Buch methods as this, fugether with the use of the police to help the bosses and the free lemants of injunctions against the strikens, will go far to con-vince the rank and file that both the old parties are capitalist tools and that Socialism is what they want. A number of the officers of the Metal Polishers' Union are Democratic politicians. this summer's experience will a thrir hold on the minds of the workingmen took place out in Kansas the other day. an incident that workingmen may well think about.

It seems that the Kansas farmers have a large crop to harvest and cannot get men enough to handle it-or, at least, campt get enough men who are willing to endure the excessive work and hard treatment that hervest hands generally get, for the sake of a , few weeks' work at spek wages as the farmers are willing to pay. This is what happened, as told in the press dispatches

A train-load of immigrants on its way further west reached the town of Peterson, in Osage County. The farmers new their cleaner. They organized a party-net a mob, you know-armed with shotgans and sevolvers and held up the trait a mile out of town. The trainmen were unarmed, so they had to obey orders. The enterprising farmers then clit off the two rear cars, coutailing the immigrants, ordered the enginner to proceed with the rest of the train, and proceeded to go through the cars and pick out their laborers.

The immigrants, having learned an abourd theory that "noither slavery nor involuntary servitude" existed under the Stars and Stripes, naturally made such resistance, as they could with sticks and other improvised weapons. After a severe fight, in which several persons were more or less seriously ininred, victory perched on the hunners of the eager employers and the immigrants were induced to make a free if through the harvest. When the crops are in they will be turned adrift and the same farmers who used shotguns and revolvers to compel them to go to work instead of proceeding to their destination, will be ready-to use shotguns and revolvers in driving the "hoborn" and "foreign paupers" out of the neighborhood.

The Incident is instructive enough in itself, especially if one compares it with the news of men fighting for a chance to work in other parts of the country. But especially interesting is the way in which the newspapers have treated it. We have not found one capitalist ne-per which condemned the riotous and lawless conduct of these Kausas employees. The New York "Times" and been kept very busy of late denounce ing as anarchistic and un-American the trade unions which refuse to allow their members to join the militin and approving the extraordinary injune tions issued against trade unious and the calling out of the militia to break strikes, and has rensacked the diction aries for epithets to apply to working nien who, as it says, uphold the "free dom of "riot." But here is a riot of employers-not a mere outbreak of an gry passien, but a deliterately planued violation of the constitutional rights of workingmen, unforced, not only with thrents, but with the actual use of firearms; and the "Times" has not a word to say against it-nay, it rejoices in this evidence of our national prospec-

No plainer lesson could be given to the working class than this. It is wrong for workingmen to use methods of peaceable organized persuasion to prevent other workingmen from taking their places when they are ou strike. But it is right and preheworthy for employers to use armed force to compel men to go to work in their

Law and order is a good and precious thing for the capitalist class when it is practised by the working class. But its facredness is thrown to the winds when it is a question of employers violating law and order in order to protect their profits!

They compiùin because open cara are run in cold weather and closed cars in hot weather. They complain because there are not enough cars to accommodate those who want to ride. They complain that ronductors are sometimes insolen They have a hundred other complaints and almost every one is well founded. But there is one thing we do not hear much open complaint about and which in really the duost serious of all the rythe-and that is, the condition of the street-car employees. Passengers growt and write letters of protest when they have to stand during a half hour's ride. but they never give a thought to the men who have to stand from early in the morning till long after midnight. who hardly have time to make the arquathtance of their families and yet hardly get wages sufficient to heef for aid from capitalist politicians, rethose families alive, who have to works in all kinds of weather for fear of losing their jobs and yet have no certainty of not being arbitrarily turned off to "hustle" for another place to morrow. There is probably no large class of wage workers who endure greater hardships in the way of overwork, low wages, uncertainty of chiployment, and goneral had freatment than the store car employees. They are absolutely negressary to the life of the city. An hour's tie-up on any of the great lines disturbs the whole movement of the served.

We hear a great deal these days population and ought to teach the bud-"respectable citiswent" how much they owe to the labors of these men. Yet the city, ruled as it is by the capitalist case, takes absolutely no thought for their comfort. their health, their liberty, or even their lives. The Social Democratic Party, as a workingman's organization, is interest ed in the "rapid transit question." But .it is interested in it, first and foremost, as a question of the condition of the run the cara, or who work in the shope and power-houses. The M. D. P. done not concern itself with the three-cent fare agitation. It does concern itself with the eight hour day agitation. MR. DOORS FOR MERCULAGE (LINCOL)

Out of the mouths of the humaris omes much wisdom. Mr. Dooley has leep studying the decision of the Soprome Court in the Puerto Mican cases and the only conclusion he can come to is this: "No matter whether the constifution follows the flar or not, the Rupresse Court follows the election reincan." That is more than a good joke. It is a profoundly true mying. There

This is the necepted theory, but it dore not tully with the forts. As Mr. Dunley says, "The Buprence Court folon the election setures." Up to 1860, to tedulities deviations of the Waprotes laught, tutroprotting and opplying the many claim of the stareholding class. after the election of Liberale the destr-are that time the Supreme Court in interpositing the laws just as the legisexecutive in autording it) has repre control the interests of the capital own ing dam. In a word, the courts, from justice of the peace up to the Empressi Court of the United States, form a part of the political power-not something apart from and above 15-and, in apply ing the supposedly unchangeable "prin ciples of justice," hierars serve the iti-terests of the dominant class. This is worth thinking about in con ertion with the talk which we always hear in campaign time about the necossity of having an "bulemendent, nonportions indicingy." Importally to it important sinch this port of talk plays a large part in the "Sabor politics" distinguished from Socialist politics) which just now so curses and mislends the working class.

Workingmen have good reason to be interested in the indicinry. The severest blows which the labor movement receives come, not from executive offcers or legislative bodies, but from the judget, who issue injunctions against unions, send men to fall for pleketing strike about or hoyeatting "unfair" employers, and otherwise interfere with the workings of the labor organisations: With exceptions so few that they may safely be ignored, the judges of all degrees and of both parties have mies of the fahor movement.

And yet, whenever an election anproaches, we hear labor politicians advising the endorsement of this judicial candidate hominated by the Republican party and that one nominated by the Democratic party, in order that we may have a "non-partizan judiciary" to all.

It is time that we should have learned by experience the folly of such a policy. 'It is time we learned that if we want judges to decide cases favorably to the working class instead of the apitalist class, we must use the politicat power of our numbers in a class conscions manner. We must vote for epredictatives of our own class, upon definitely partisan labor platform, for judges as well as for legislators and executive officers: When the workingmen follow such a course, even before they shall have succeeded to electing their candidates, they will in spire the courts with a whole spect and fear of the power of Labor, which will contrain them from earrying out their inclination to serve La-

If, for instance, the 85,000 organized workingmen in New York City had all Bookstaver and Freedman would still have been on the bench; but in the face of such a vote Bookstaver would never have issued his injunction against the printers or Freedman his sjunction against the eignemakers. But so long as those workingmen allow their votes to be divided between the two parties dominated by their employers, so long the courts will cos tinue to be the tools of the expitalist cines.

On the face of it, an "Impartial judi clary" in no far as the labor question is concerned, an impossibility. The success of either means the failure of the other. It is necessary to the star and let us prove its truth billty of expitalist society and the properity of capitalist, business that strikes and hoycotts be put down. It is necessary to the success of the labor movement that they be unheld. SOCIALIST ECONOMICS.

Boing an Attompt to Present the Main Principles of Scientific Socialism in Popular Language.

IZE .- WELAT IS VALUE?

So touch noncense is talked, now days, shout "intrinsie" value, "suppl "duspiply and demand" and the like, that we very beginning, by finding ou "value" in, what gives things their value, what determines the amount of value a thing has.

I think it was famuel Butler in "Hudbras," who said that

Is fust an much as it will bring. That definition is true and has the merit of heing short and simple. It is not full enough. It needs to be added But it is worth remembering Value, we commonly ony, is purchasing power. It is the power one thing of commending other things to change. It is a sort of ideal quality of things, that appears only in state of society where goods are commonly Among people who are not in the hab of buying and selling or of bartering things, however aneful, have no valuat all, in the goonemic sense of the Value is purchasing power. But what gives a thing its purchasing power! First, of course, it must be a useful thing must be a thing that can be much to satisfy some felt human want. My cipar is valuable: The smoke and ashes into which it is all too rapidly resolving itself are meless. They cannot satisfy man's wants, hence they have diere I must guard against no value. minunderstanding of the word "use Some of my friends tell me that that mill dispense even handed justice | nucleus, harmful. I shall-not argue that nestion. I only point out that, when n economist with a thing is useful, he means that it satisfies some want that onle feel. Maybe the want is fool ish. Maybe it would be better not to entirty it. But so long as people feet the want and wish it satisfied, the thing that antisties it is, economically assuming, "metal";

But some useful things have n vatue. Air is uneful-nay, absolutely hasing power. Why Because ever chasing power. Why? Because every one can get it without labor But catch Mr. Rockefeller and shit him up in an air-pump receiver and he will pay you $10 a cubic foot for it. Useful things have value when they cannot be get without labor. It is the meressity of working for them that gives things their value. If we each had an Aladdin's lamp or a Fortunatus' wishingof our dictionaries.

The next question is: Why'does on thing have more value than another? What determines the amount of value? Why is a loaf of bread worth five cent cast their votes for the ticket of the Rocial Democratic Party, they would three times as mell's at the former. not have elected their candidates; | No one can say that the breast-pin so no one can say that the breast-pin self-issies three three as much human want, or gives three three as much pleasure, as the former. To a child who has just had dinner the breast pin may give a hundred tim pleasure as the bread. To times as much To myself, at present the bread. To myself, a yet if I had a grown in quite uncless Yet if I had a gross of such plus I should not exchange them for one louf of bread. Their yaine to me would be that of just 432 houses of bread.

Evidently the value of a thing is no fixed by its mecfulness. We must look for an explanation to the other fact noted about valuable things, the necessity of labor. And here we find the answer to our question: The value of a thing is determined by the amount of these constants. of labor necessary to produce it. This atatement will have to be amplified a tittle. But for the present let it stand

I ought to say here, and I shall say it more fully in a later article, that I do not believe there ever was a primi tive society in which competition worked quite as we have here supposed it aimply because in primitive society there is not much regular baying and selling. But of this more in another place. The case is good as an illustra-

And this brings us to a possible objection. Someone may hay: Your theory is all right for a rude society. in which things are produced by direct in-bor, without capital; but in civilized suciety, where such vast and compli-cated machinery is used, it will ad-

We answer: It is just in civilized so ciety that this theory will hold best, liseause there competition of buyers and sellers works most freely. It is not so easy to see its workings, simply be cause civilized society is so complex It is not so easy to understand the workings of a watch as those of a windlass. But no one denies that the aws, of mechanics apply to the c plex as well as to the simple machine

In order to show the truth of the law in civilized society, let us analyse the value of any wenducts of modern judge try-ear a white shirt. What elements are there in the value of the shirt as offered for shle? The first answer is: Two the value of the labor of the value of the material (musling thread, bottoma.) But what are the elements of the value of the material? Taking the mustin alone, two—the value of the labor of the weavers, bleachers and the like and that of the material. Again, analyse the value of this material (spun cutton.) There is the value of the labor of the spinners and that of the raw cotton. Go a step farther back. The value of the raw cotton is the value of the labor done in raising that cotton-preparing the soil, putting in the need, cultivating the crop, picking and ballog it, and transporting it to the mills. We might have traced back the value of the thread, buttors, bleaching chemicals and other maisrials in the same way. Bvery particle of value in the finished shirt, if traced ally the value some human latior necemary to the making of that skirt. The dari, as a valuable object, a ce dify, is simply so much crystallized bummn labor.

But someone will object that I have left out of consideration the land on which the cotton was reised and the empthal conschery and the like) used in manufacture. No, I have not. The hand did not supply one lots, of that The rent, which some Southern land lord got for it, and which helped to bake up the price of raw cott produced by the labor of work and women if was paid with the sweat of tolling field bands. It was the product of their labbe. As for the capital, it is true that some of tains of the machinery need went into value of the shirt. And how much? Just as much as that unchinery was note out in spirring the cotton and eaving the musin for that shirt, Vhen the will is chirrly used up the the value of the invried shirts it helped And where did the value of the mili come from? Trace it back and you will find the value of the labor of millwrights, carpenters, and masons, machinists, from and stool workers, coal and iron sainers—the value of human later necessary to the making of the mill and ultimately to the making

The Social Economist.

Some people have very strange ideas about uniting the Socialist factions in this country into one great movement They ween to think that any kind of a ione 'wrganization, will serve as means to establish the solidarity of the Socialist' movement. Such an organ-ism, if it be prudent to call it an organhem, will never bring that solidarity the movement that is necessary to hold it together through the conflicts of the future. We can never hold a movement together while we make com-

WASHINGTON HOLDS STATE CONVENTION.

Social Democrate Most to Elect Delu gate to Indianapolis and Transact

The second annual convention of the Social Democratic Party of the state of Washington was held at the head quarters, 230 Union street, Beattle, ob Sunday; June 30. The business before it was the election of a new state committee, the election of a delagate to the unity conven-tion at Indianapolis, July 29, and such a declaration of principles and policies as the present occasion demands.

Delegates were present from Port

Angeles, Fairhaven, Whatcom, Boy View, Equality, Arlington, Granite Philis, Elecett, Scattle, Renton, Tacoma. Buckley, Olympia, Aberdeen, Spo-hane and Walls Walls. The utmost harmony and enthusiasin were manifest throughout the long ses

alobs both merning and afternoon.

There were two candidates for the bonor of representing Washington at the National Convention, Comrades A. 61. Sethert of Seattle, and E. Lan of Whateom, and the latter was elected.

Whateon, and the fitter was execut.
The new state committee consists of Jas. D. Curia, Joseph (filtert, A. S.
Schert, John Cameron of Health, and Chas. S. Wallace of Fairinaven.
Resolutions were suppred recommending that the national convention adopt the name Socialist Picty for the united party; denouncing the "capitalist attempts to sidetrack Socialism by so-called public ownership plants in capitalist platforms: Instructing the delegate to initional convention to vote "first, last and all the time for organic union of the Socialist movement America," and "to vote for the climba-tion from our platform of all immedi-ate demands and to confine it to a plant statement of our aims and objects;" declaring that Socialists should drop fighting each other upon technicalities and unite and work-for the general Sc tee on its duties; and endorsing Th Reattle "Socialist" and the Socialist Educational Union and recommending all members of the party in Washingon to subscribe for and support th

IV-THE VALUE OF LABOR FOWER.

We shall do well to limits this chap ter with the definition of a word that is ours to occur often in our discussion with word "commodity." alank of a commodity w thing that is commonly produced not for the me-of the predarus, but in ter der to be sold. In a primitive state of society there are no commodities, be-cause possible do not inhimally buy and cell things. Each man produces what he wants for himself, and if there is one eachwage it is so invegular and an cipty, things cannot be said to have any "value" in the economic sense, be estuse they have no purchasing power But when, in the course of social evlution, regular barter and afterward money enchange arises, things came : have a definite purchasing power of value. Most things are then producefor exchange, and pask, purhaps through several hands before reaching the user. Such things are commudities And in medern society, it will be seen common willtien. In the preceding comptor I have explained the value of commedition general I shall speak here of the val of one particular enumodity—labor-power. The reader may be somewhit starfled at first at hearing ble ability to work spoken of as a commedity, it The same category with putatoes and pig-from. Yet if one thinks of the facts ne they are he will recognize that it is units correct. When a workingman whether he is a introver, a mechaniser a no-called distellectual" worker. agrees to work for wages, he actually farmer sells his potatoes or Morkefs his iron. And the wages he gets is the price of his labor-power, fixed by the "law of supply and demand," exactly

ask how the wages of labor are fine

In the first place, every one knows that competition in the labor market is the force which regulates wages. Ami veryone knows that under the capital there are, in general, more men asking for-john than John waiting for men. 12 with the rate of wages. It is the stock argument of the protectionists that ligh tariffs keep wages up. And the is generally true, in the sense that t workingmen generally get a larger amount of money for the same amount willing, out of the gostness of he heart, to pay more for his men? No one who knows anything about the one who knows anything about the all know that the average employed than he is compelled to pay. if an occasional espitalist is kind and vents him from a ting upon his generour impulse. Not the capitalists of a "protected" onlinty may higher wages than those of a free trade country simply because they are forced to do no. And they are forced to do it because the increased price of goods, the li-curemed cost of living, compute the workingmen to demand higher waters. The only difference to the workingman is that he gets, ony, 10 per present or his measurements. OF INGLORIOUS MEMORY. Judge Wm. A. Woods, of injunction fame, had his earthly career out short on Friday last. Death called him be-fore its tribunal and issued an injunc-tion restraining him from participating in the affairs of the world. There being no higher court of appeal the mandate was obeyed. As an individual little can be said of him, but as a type of the class society in which he lived many lessons may be drawn of inter-est to the working class. Had Woods never lived many of his type would have been found to take his place in the service of the propertied class, its faithfully served the interests of the ruling class of his time, and received as his reward a liberal portion of the values wrong from the blood and sweat of the workers whom he sided in creabing. As a taken of gratitude on the part of those whom he thus faith-fully served memorial meetings will be called in his honor and possibly a mon-ument built to his memory. Let them build. We shall build also. But our structure shall be a form of civilization to exist. Justice Brewer, in speaking of Woods, says that his name will be "revered and honored in coming ages." Nothing is-facther from the truth. The capitalist order of things is rolling to the age of social justice and industrial equality. In that age the service tools of the ruling ciase will be forgotten and the laurel wreaths of laying remembrance will be, laid at the feet of who tried to thwart it.-Terre Hauts

Either Somplete Sepitalist Central or Elee Socialism Must Be the Solution --- Be Lasting Compromise Boocssary

The past week has been a memorable ne be the history of the class struggle in America. New strikes have be gan, new injunctions have been issued. new methods have been devised by the empiralists and the courts for crushing the resistance of the working people. The steel strike has settled down to what will apparently be a long and hitter struggle, with little chance of compromise. It will be a trial of en-darance, with all the chances of vic-tory on the side of the Steel Trust, un-less the workers impire their musters with fear by showing a determination to use their political power to settle the question in their own interest.

The issue is declared by the capital-ICS. Set library one, on which he compromise is possible. That have is: compromise is possible. That issue is SHALL THE CAPITALISTS CON THOL THEIR MILLS IN THEIR OWN WAY OR SHALL-THE WORK-INGMEN, THROUGH THEIR OR: GANIZATIONS, DICTATE TO T9430M 7

But the workers, and especially the strikers themselves, have another and spreaser duty. They know that it is they who have created the property of the Steel Trust. They know that they have a moral right to control the industry and to receive and own the product. It is their duty now to take up the challenge of the capitalists, to secupt the leave as stated by them, and to answer it with their ballots.

There is really so having compromise possible: Mither the capitalists are to rule and labor organizations must be crushed, or the workers are to rule temporary victory, will not settle that question. It can be settled only by the will have to lik settled that way, soon The sooner the better, for

CENTRAL FEDERATED UNION DECLARES FOR SOCIALISM. CLASS HAS BUILT AND NOW

New York City the following excellent utions were adopted last Sunday and referred to the affiliated unions:

"Whereas, We the delegates of the Control Federated Union, view with alarm the rapid sucroachment of or-gamined capital and the courts on the reedom and liberty of organized labor as shown in the circumstances leading to the steel workers' and other strikes,

Whereas, We learn with the utmost concern and apprehension of the action of the coarts in Ohio and Connecticut in depriving the citizens of the right of free speech and levying the court expenses upon the workers' hours. wrecking the foundations of ou natitutions; therefore, be it 'Resolved, That the Contral Federated Union now and while the struggi of the steel workers lassts pictics its moral and financial assutance to them and urges upon our liberty-loving cit tsens to stand by the steel workers is their struggle for freedom and justice. "Resolved. That we carnestly recom-mend that all workers combine at the ballot, box to overthrow the system that makes such outrages as the pre-amble mentions possible." Now we want to ask you-you dele gates in the Central Federated Union -do you mean what you say in those resolutions? Are-they merely so many words to which you said "Aye," with out giving them any thought? Or do they express your real convictions and are you going to act in accordance with them? If they do not express your rest con victions, then you have done an inexcanable wrong in voting for themhave, in fact, publicly and solemnly hed upon a question of the utmost importance to your class. We should be louth to think that any delegate has been guilty of such-faisehood.

We are compelled, then, if we would not insuit both your intelligence and your honor, to believe that you really mean just what you have said in those resolutions. And naturally we are pleased, for this is just what we have been advocating for a long time.

But you have done more than express an opinion. You have made a binding pletige. When you "recommend that all workers combine at the ballot box to everthrow the agutem that makes such outrages possible," YOU PERSONALLY PLEDGE YOUR BELVES TO SUCH CLASS-CON-SCIOUS POLITICAL ACTION OF THE WORKING CLASS,"

The Socialist system would ascare to all the right and impose upon all the duty of useful labor. It would assure all of a free and full participation t all the advantages of civilization. would bring lightening of labor and an improvement of material condition with every advance in methods of production. Best of all, since no man would then depend upon another for the opportunity to work and live, it would bring to all of us real liberty and real fraternity.

It all turns, you see, on the ownerhip of the means of production, which the social labor of the working class creates and operates. WHATEVER PARTYSUPPORTS PRIVATE OWN-ERSHIP NECESSARILY SANC-TIONS THE OUTRAGES THAT GROW OUT OF PRIVATE OWNER-SHIP. THE ONLY PARTY WHICH CAN HONESTLY CONDEMN AND TRY TO PREVENT SUCH OUT-RAGES IS THE PARTY WHICH SEEKSTOREMOVE THEIR CAUSE BY RESTORING TO THE WORK-ING PROPLE THE OWNERSHIP OF THE MEANS OF PRODUCTION.

You will have a chance, during the sent three months, to show that you ionestly meant what you said last Sunday. There will be several tickets in the field in this city. Two or more of them will be put up by parties which do not wish to abolish the capitalist system with its outrages upon workingmen: THOSE - PARTIES WILL HAVE PLENTY OF MONEY TO SPEND, AND WILL EXPECT TO GET IT ALL BACK WITH IN-TEREST IN THE GOOD USE THEY WILL MAKE OF THE POWER OF THE CITY AGAINST THE WORK-

But there is size an ofeary, which finds nothing too small for thoughtful consideration, and yet naturalisa the sense of proportion and knows how to subordroup small and)ters to great. There is but one matter which might give the Convention legitimate cause of failure to effect unity. If there be unity would become a disaster as well as a farce. If there he any present who do not accept the class struggle as the basis of our movement, if there be any who do not accept independen political action as its infexible rule. then $ e do not see how these can conscientiously seek unity with those was accordingly accorde to such union.

THE TASK OF THE CONVENTION.

Molad Opportunity to Orga in the Secialist Forces for Future Progress.

The approaching Indianapolis con-rention will certainly eclipse all pre-ceding Socialist conventions in this untry in the magnitude and import re of the task before it.

For the first time in the history of this country Socialism bids fair to se sume the dimensions of a real national movement. The closing years of the has contary were soplete with many fields which did not pass unbouded by a large number of intelligent working men. In almost every state and terri tery of the union there are indications of a complete revolution in the mands of those workingmen; they are begin-ning to lose faith in their old political views and parties; headreds of them are joining the Socialist camp every mouth, and thousands of others are ripe for Socialism. The only thing reed to shape these popular currents to organize these elements in a roll directed battle against the force of empital is-a Mechalist party abreas of the times.
The Indianapolis convention will ther create such a party, and thus occurs one of the greatest landmarks i the history of our movement, so it will miss the splendid opportunity and thus become a lamentable failure. Whether it will do the one or the other the future will show. The one asset tion we can make at the present stage is, that the convention will certainly contain all the necessary material and elements to make it as unqualified and on. If present inflentions do not de-ive the representation will be larger ban at any preceding Socialist conver ton; the delegation will be composed of some of the most active and intelligent workers in the movement, and they will have more freedom of action than ver before.

The recent troubles within the cank of the Socialist parties have served to weaken the authority of former form of justy organization and administra tion; the delegates will be unhampered by party the and praditions, and free to create a practically new party adapt-ed to the reeds of the times in all re-

How can such a party be created, is the question of paramount importance facing the convention. The question has been vigorously agitated in our party press for the last few weeks, and I will now contribute a few suggestions to the discussion.

From this point of view I am unable to agree with those who would like to see the platform bolled down to such a size that it, could be printed on an envelope or pushel and, as well as with those who advented the criticing of all immediate dramanic from our platform. full extent. Wills the party is what and scattered in small erganizations all over the country, a central administrative budy with large powers is the only thing time will upite these scattered bodies into one complete party, and extend and strengthen the organization. A very strong national committee is the mark of a very weak party. The more the organizations grow in any one state the ions is the grow in any one state the ions is the intervention of the national committee in its internal affairs measurery or even neight, and whenever all since of the times will be well and fully organized, so that each state will be capable to take sure of its own affairs, the funcflone of the national committee will of necessity be limited to the manage-ment of national compaigns, represent-ing the party in external matters, and

But have we already reached that point? The most sanguine of optimists will not say that we have. As yot there are many states totally unorganised, and many others to: weak to take once of themselves. To spead our movement to the unorganized states, and to andet the weater states is a task which only a national committee, a committee with funds, and an income, and meeting at frequent intervals cen perform. The cry of "state autonomy" has its justification in a very binited nonce so far. The result of leaving each state to its own resources at the present stage of the movement would be the retarding of the movement in a considerable part of the country If is true, however, that the st organizations have gained m

Y.-LABOR POWER AS A COM-

I have sought to show, in the last two articles, that, under the capitalist sys-tem, inher-power in a commedity, a ket and that its price, like that of every other commodity, is fixed by the cost of production in this case, by the cost of living. I shall now try to make clear how it follows that the condition is the only means by which the condition of the tracking class can be and tetally or par

mently improved,
In society as it exists folday—a so-ciety of buyers and sellers—the work-ingman has but one commodity to offer for only his labor-power. This labor power may be more physical strongth, with the smallest amount of skill or intellments. It may be skill or measual desterity, natural to the individual or nequired by long experience and training. It may be knowledge, gained by careful education. It may be and new cently in two or all of those combined letarian. And the projeturian gets his

In several particulars labor-power diffuse from other commodities—and always the difference is to the disadvanings of the workingman. It is necessary here to discuss only two of the points of difference—the fact that. untilte other commodities, brisis-power comodities, later-power extent saved or withheld from the market.

From the first of these facts it follown that the workingmen, the other of inhor-power, has always to inhor under the dispotantage of being a "much dealer." It is the universal typically in every other nost of traffic, for small trade to give place to great continered, for competition to result in combina-tion. Wheat, printees, outen, fron-segue, perrelessis—off can be cornered. That is, the whole or the greater past of the stock in the market can be brought incit the hands of a single ow-mer or of a few owners who will set in " making." This may be store independent mer or of a few owners who will act in "untion. This may be done (natureally, or whom a Leiter longs up nearly all of the wheat offered by, small producers, or directly, as where a licebefeller gats hold of the sources of nearly all the potentions. In either case, the event of the great stock has a great advantage and in shift to sell at much better age and in able to sell at much better nesses than do, the small helders. But the workingman has countrel only of his own individual labor-power. The only way in which this commodity can be cornored in by a combination of its owners, the wage-workers, as in a trade-major, by will assume he sees why such a residentian can never be so accounted as the escaletentipus effected by the owners of tron, putrakeum and sugar. The escand point of this remember about the former cannot be withheld from the market. Here, again, it will be seen that the relier of inhor-power is at a disadvantage. Let us compare bus, for instance with the farmer. The latter depends for his living on the other of the wing on the other of the wing on the other of the writer.

be had. We has even hold see wheat till next speing without much danger of loting M. The small farmer can always do this to some extent. The large farmer oin do it better. And in proportion as agriculture passes into the hands of very large capitalist concerns, the owners of farm produce are better while to hold it hands form the market. able to hold it back from the market, and so to command better prices for it. Not so the workingman. His only commodity in his own labor-power. He must nell it daily in order to get in value. If he lesses work for a west that week's labor-power is irretrievable less.

This fact becomes more evident when-ever the workingmen and the capital-lets are brought free to face in a strike coperially if the strike be a large one, both sides be well organized, and if the matter in dispute be one of such importanted as to make it worth while on both sides to fight it out to the spd. The struggle, then settles down to a trial of endurance.

The ospitalist, at the worst, does not ruffer an absolute loss. He is not com-relled to fourn fuel, consume raw mate-rial, and most the other expenses of production without a return. He merely fails, for so many weeks or months, to get the profits that he expected to get. And sometimes even this negative loss is partly or wholly emintertree and he is able to dispense at the predict rises and he is able to dispense of his stock at an unusual rate of profit; and this unusually high price may continue. for some time after the strike is settled. At the ure, indeed, concilines welcomed by the employer as giving him an opportunity to "religio the market" without incurring the edium of a shut down or a cut of wages.

With the workingman it is quite different. His expenses go on the same, whether he is working or not. He must live, and in order to live be must have food, clothing, fuel. While the strike temporarily interrupts both the exnenditures and the tuenme of the canitellst., it interrupts only the income of the workingman. And the working man has no "stock on hand" to distorlimit its powers and extend those of of. His one commodity, labor-power, the state committees. it up and hold it until prices rise. If wages do rise, if the strike is won, the increase applies only to the future, not at all to the part.

Exactly the same contrast appears rhen, on account of the lowness of prices, however caused, the employer cides to shut down his factory. decides to shut down his factory. By no doing be raises the prices of goods already produced na well as of goods to be produced in the future. But the workingmen suffer an actual loss, be came their labor-power must be main-tained and reproduced by food, etc., whether they work or not, but lines not, doing the time of the shut-down, bring them any return whatever, We have, then, this fact: That the workingman lives by the sale of his bior-power and that the price of this commodity—that is, the wages of labor—is determined pretty closely by the cost of the workingman's living. We have this fairther fact: That labor-power is a peculiar commodity in that, while it must be reproduced from day while it must be reproduced from day to day, it cannot be witheld from the market, causet he saved in order to gat better prices, but must be sold from day to day, or not at all. There is an other peculiar quality about this, the only commodity of the working class: That it is the only commodity which in being used up, gives rise to a value ed. Of this we shall speak in the next article, pader the head, "What Is.

Brief Reply to Comrade Slobodin's Argument Against Immediate Demands.

BY R. L. STORE.

(Extraction of mance and of time-clien being the host insue before the Convent on -have made it impossible for this repty to extend to some length as Comrade He-leudin's attach upon the impossible de-mandel.)

If those finciatists whose views Com nde Mobadin is volcing in his articles in The Worker wished to be consistent they ought to join the Americanic, ranks, Much as we disagree with the Anarchists, we must give them credit for being at least consistent. To them revolution mesns a fertile act of rerolt which can be brought about by change of naciety by one mighty effort ems possible and feasible, my atten-on paid to ameliorative measures autlutton which is so dear to the Anarch of view, but which the Socialists

These changes do not came of thomselves as a result of assissativity acting evolunic forces, but' thre eum are autogoulatic to each other. In our day the two classes laset premi-nent in norsety are those of the capital-next in sortery are trasse or the capital-late and the workingmen.

We have been thinght to understand an one of the fundamental principles of neintitle forgitten that the Cooper-ative Commonwealth can be resided in no other way than through the arrangie of the working class for its own emancipation, that the only way in which that can impose is through the political and economic strangle of that clear for the betterment of via conditions. As students of economics we have all learned, or eight to have learned, that the Co-operative Com-monwealth cannot be unbered in in a day, nor in a year, by a simple decree of a Sacialist government. Those in the Socialist ranks who are neserting to the centrary are ignorant of the im-

the judiciary and the exceeding inver-ming the eight-house law; never mind-the thousand and one things for which you are struggling every day for the breath of yourself and your tamily, but look to the great Socialist heaven which we premise becausity will en-joy at some furire date"—that flocial-ies is no better than the assestimentous privat who lifts his eyes to heaven at the mention of worldly struggles and tells the workmen to be content with his present lot for the asks of happi-ness in the world beyond.

those who sympathine with him will say that they are in favor of all imme-diate improvements in the condition of the working class that can be achieved. 'revolutionary propaganda that de-manda, not an amelioration of the conplain? Does Comrade Slabodin Imasine that the Socialists who are in favor of inserting the "immediate demands;" in the platform, do not want the abolition of the capitalist system? Since y not. Why then does be put that agreally in the mouths of his oppositute. and, Def.con-like, proceed to down the man of straw when he has thus set up? The difference between the two wings of Socialists does not lie where Slobedin wrongly trees to place it. Its roots are much deeper "It is the difference between one net of people who, once they get held of a formula, think that they have a key the living real world, and on other hand, a set of people who know that the world is too complex to lend itself to the grasp of a simple formula; who, enreless of the fate of this or that particular maxim which they n believe or have believed in at this that time, try to conceive the spirit o what there is really great in the acten-tic heritage left to us by the great Marx. I suppose that Marx is still in good standing with our uitra-revolutionary comrades. Yet it was he who decried sectarian devotion to any max-im or set of maxims, and believed in a policy on the part of the focialists of making the daily struggle of the work-ing class for its small immediate material interests tamali as confinered with the Co-operative Commonwealths -making it their own struggle; for it is that struggle and that alone that enlarged in scope and imbued with the Socialist spirit, will lead to a realiza-tion of the Socialist ideal, if it is ever to be realized.

of immediate demands the Democratic and reform parties will proceed to steal them from our platforms as they are already doing. But is it not strame that the very computes who are tra-ing to outstrip the working class in class-consciousness should threw over-board, that amost important part of their philosophy, the very moment they see the bugahno of reform before their eyes. Bither the theory of the class struggle is an important truck of it is a defusion and a spare; it cannot be both at the name time. If it is : fiving fact, as all Seculiate believe ! in then the Democratic party; which represents a certain part of the capital-int class, cannot in the natural of things sdopt our demands, except it it mod tied or mutilated form, wideh it should he our duty to point out to the work-ing people. Atherwise you practically admit that a party representing the capitalist class can adopt Socialist struggle; confine yourself to the pro-pagands of Socialism in the abstract as a panaces for all social ills; my simply that you are in favor of any old thing that is good for the working-men (and, by the way, do not the lie-publican and Democratic parties say the same thing, and don't we denounce theorytical dissertation on the mod struggle waged between opposing mines and tenements to which they chosen of nociety whose material inter-ceps are autopositic to each other. THE GOLDEN MEAN

Individual Francism and Effec tive Organisation Alike to Re Sparded.

The initiators and chief prouse! Socialist unity in this country, the so called "Kangaroon," have by this not turned a new leaf in their Socialist careor. On the contrary, this endent of theirs was but the consistency their constant attitude in the question of organization and individually, united action and freedom, of disc line and liberty of thought.

Our attitude in those vital question of the realization of the fundament imperative of our teachings, "Workers, unite!" was always the golden mean the discipline of militarism and "go as you please" theory of ansrehism; between the feeding on ready disposted mental food, with a taboo of the least independent motion of one's own brains, and the everlasting discussing and questioning one's conviction without ever making one's mind as to the proper step to be faken; between that agrrowmens of platform that leaves no place even for those differing in opinion on the least important secondary matture of meth od and the senseless broadness of plat-furm that wants those who go to Paris and those who go from Paris to wander arm in arm.

When we first, were opposed to a few Socialists forming a party of their own, while, as subsequent events actually showed, there was every possibility of improving the rank and sile of the one and original union of Socialists, it was in accordance with that attitude; when while the majority of the old party came to the point of changing its meth-ods for the better, the handful of fulowers of the "ancient regime" stubnees and insisted on their extreme military discipline requiring the sur render of our convictions on pain of excommunication, and we chose the latter it was also in consistency with hat attitude of ours.

And when, finally, after the original organization was, on the one hand, disintegrated and the new, on the oth er hand, grown to some importance and owards the right understanding of th policy and principles of revolutionary Socialism, we raised the cry for redis-ciplinization of all Socialists, it was gain in full accordance with the same attitude of ours.

And unless the Indianapolis covren tion will adopt this same attitude and elevate it to the generally recognized policy of the new party, there is not much hope for a lagting result of its ideavors in the direction of union.

som the pen of the most eminent cor emporary thinker of the Socialist novement of the world, Karl Kautsky program of the above mentioned goldn read of the middle:
That is our party there are differentiating trems on questions of highest importance is in itself no mis-fortune. Always there were in our party as in every other, differences of an individual, local, trade, and theoretical nature. The young and hot blooded tilinks differently from the old and discreet; the Bavarian from the Saxon, and the latter from the Hamburger who devotes himself chiefly to the trade union or the co-operative move-ments, from him who is with life and word the parliamentarian and compolymer; he thinks differently, who she reached up by the way of Modpertus, and so on.

"Beifferstives of this kinds are not only manyoldable, but necessary, should the spiritual life inside the party not become stagmant. The party, however, is a militant body, and not a discussion ellih. The differences in its interior must not go so far as to make all fruitful cooperation impossible, even not so far as to create friction, the over-coming of which shall require a loss of time and energy and paralyse the Jox in the struggle. Never must the growth of the party be acquired in exchange for its integrity and uniformity. Notice

with mode of agitation. The latter must adapt itself to individual and its cal elecumetances. In the agitation it must be left to the agitator to work with the mediums that are at his comwith the menium that are at an com-mand, the one is especially effective by his enthusism, while the effect im-presses through his clever withchin; the third through an abundance of-facts, etc. 'And just as the agitation differs according to the agitation, so it must conform itself to the pithic it adfreens. One must speak so as to be understood, must illustrate with things known to his beavers. That is self-evi-dent and applicable not only to rural agitation, To concinnen one would also speak differently than to compassi-

We ought not, in action comprising the whole nation, as far instance, a national election, to have different inetics for the North and for the flouth, one for the reval population and another for the inhabitants of the cities. "It is surely evident that the resigna-tion of independence required of the individual party seember ought not to be too great lest the party should be degraded to a horde of will-less shaves or a herd of sheep. But—this does not mean that the party platform ought to be unlimitedly broad, so as to admit the most widely divergent opinions. On the contrary, whereas there can be no united party action without sacritice of individual opinion to party un formity, the fact that initiade must be left for intellectual independence means nothing cleathan that the wider the timoretical differences, of opinion inside the party, the greater the sacri-fice of independence the individual has to bring to the interest of uniform actions the smaller then the enthusiass for the activity of the party and the greater the danger threatening its

The Populiet party is to day but a semery, so far an a political organization is conserved. But the impulse which have led to the casting of a mili ion votes in blind protest against a galling capitalism is becoming more in-telligently evolutionary. The suffering of the American farmer during the is peniers are an apparent special to the problems of agriculture that they caunot possibly have an intelligent obtains upon them. Yet they are any home to write farmers' programs and to give voice to farmers' demands. Many a foreignist talks learnedly of the problems of certainture. Eleven years ago, when I was nominated by the Socialist Party for congress in Las Angeles, I had it conveyed to me that I might be endured by one of the old parties if I endorsed by one of the old parties if I would stand as an "independent" instead of a party nominee. It was said that I could get a personal endorsement, but that it was hopeless to expect the flociallet Party to be endorsed. Of course, the overtures were not considered. I would have hed no personal natisfaction in going to congress in this emil-underband manner, nor do I think it would have been any great benefit to flocialism. To day in Les Angeles I think it would be generally admitted that if I simply wished to go to congress without reference to flocialism, that I would send, infinitely a better chance of running as an "independent" chance of rusning as an "independent" than as a Socialist Party regular can didate, in other words, many people would vote for me as a "person" who refuse to vote for me as a "focialist." However, it seems to me that being elected to congress; even if one is a well-known Socialist, simply as an "in-dependent," is of comparatively little importance with standing with the or-gathed movement in defeat.

reparately. He stated that this would give their membership an opportunity to see how their delegates voted upon important questions. Hillquit opposed the amendment, saying that, should the Chicago party delegates submit a proposition that would be voted shown by the majority of the convention the amendment, by providing for faction-al voting on any question, would ad-mit the placing of the minority proposition before the Chicago party's mem hership, and it might be endorsed by the referendum and thus defeat the will of the convention. In short, the danger should be avoided by the convention. Margaret Hallo supported theonisendment and said the conven-tion call provided for R. Harriman made à strong speech at tacking the amendment, and challeng-ed aurone to show where either of the convention calls provided for separate voting. The Springfield party gates had not aftempted to me their power unjustly, and they had rielded rvery point to becure unity, he was one too important to yield, he cause it would endanger unity. The nmendment opened the way, he said for a complete blockade of the plane for union, and the convention had costhe Socialists too much in money and energy to be thwarted. When the con-vention adjourned the Springfield deleenten-wanted to be able to tell the world that the Socialists of America were united. He believed every dele-gate should be prepared to abide by the convention's soin. He was repeat-
